Destrehan Plantation fest will feature more bands, crafts

Destrehan Plantation's 47th Annual Fall Festival will be held No. 9 and 10.

Anna Thibodeaux Managing Editor
annat@heraldguide.com

Expecting to draw nearly 10,000 visitors, Destrehan Plantation's 47th Annual Fall Festival will offer more crafters, entertainment and food than in previous years.

Tracy Smith, the plantation's interim executive director, said the festival typically averages 8,500 to 9,000 visitors, but they are expecting a bigger crowd with good weather.

The festival will be held 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Nov. 9 and 10 on the plantation grounds, located at 13034 River Road in Destrehan.

Among the festival's features will be about 120 arts and crafters selling their wares, some 35 more than last year, Smith said. Exotic woodwork, scented candles, original jewelry, Louisiana-themed prints, canvas paintings and exclusive houseware items are some of the highlights.

"Forty-seven years of having a successful event is why we have so many crafters," Smith said. "It's a very popular event."

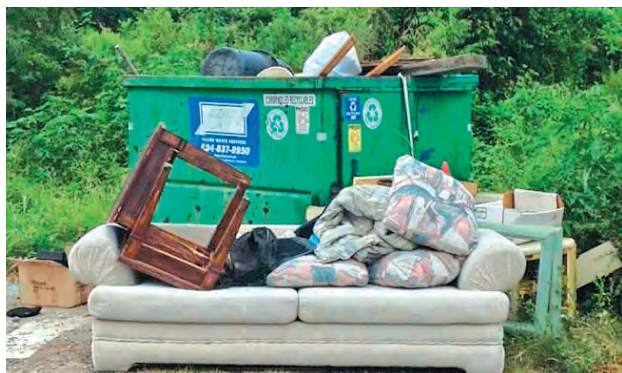

A tasty menu will include pralines, barbequed pulled pork, ribs, steak on a stick, shrimp tacos and more.

Children's activities include pony rides, face painting and interactive games in the schoolhouse.

Major change planned to HHS class schedule

Will now focus on four classes per semester

Ryan Arena Editor
ryana@heraldguide.com

A major change to the way Hahnville High School students schedule classes is on the way for next school year.

As scheduling currently works, students attend four class periods daily toward completing eight courses per year. Alternating "A" and "B" schedules are in place for the students to attend a block of four classes one day, then a second block of four the next.

But the new "four by four" format will see students break those courses up by semester now, taking four everyday courses in the first semester, then shifting to a different group of four classes in the second semester. The intended effect is to allow students to focus their full attention on learning four courses at a time then spreading attention over eight for the entirety of the school year.

Family says they will bring new restaurant to Luling despite eviction

With much anticipation, the Wingerter family were ready to open their new Luling restaurant when the unthinkable happened. "I have terrible news," said a stunned Amelia Wingerter. "They left an eviction notice on the door. They didn't have the decency to contact me."

The family emptied the building a couple weeks ago, but since that time Amelia said their attorney has advised they have a valid five-year lease with Jay Roberts,

Skyrocketing costs doom recycling program

Although St. Charles Parish Council members say constituents' requests for curbside recycling are intensifying, they instead learned a 250 percent rise in hauling cost actually makes it unfeasible, and forced the suspension of the parish's recycling program.

"Recycling is huge right now," said at-large Councilwoman Wendy Benedetto. "I get tons of requests. They want curbside [recycling]."

Benedetto said she was going to ask they revisit the parish's earlier bids on the service, which estimated the service cost at $2.94 a month.

Contract Monitor Chandra Sampey said they could request proposals, but warned the updated rate could come in at $15 a month because of astronomical hauling costs. The parish currently has two drop off recycling bins - one at the East Bank Bridge Park and another at the West Bank Bridge Park. The parish is paying $400 a load to deliver all recyclables to Phoenix-based Republic Services, the area's largest recycler, at its Baton Rouge site, but that cost is expected to rise to nearly $1,000.

Council tables move to award contract for memorial park

Anna Thibodeaux Managing Editor

Just as the St. Charles Parish Council was about to award a $777,469 construction contract for a memorial park, area veterans contended they'd been excluded from its planning and got approval to table the move.

"We were told we would be included in the plans for this park," Bobby Lovergne, VFW Post 3750 commander, told the council at the Oct. 21 council meeting. "We had one meeting in four years. All of a sudden it gets pulled in the budget tonight."

The council voted 5 to 3 in favor of tabling the project and naming a committee to include veterans to review it. The ordinance had called for awarding the project to LA Contracting Enterprise of Thibodaux.

When St. Charles Parish joined a new nation

Anna Thibodeaux Managing Editor
annat@heraldguide.com

When secessionists attacked Fort Sumter in South Carolina, the American Civil War began.

Leading up to the nation's division, St. Charles Parish joined 29 parishes on Jan. 26, 1861 supporting succession, meaning the German Coast was no longer part of the United States.

Lt. Gen. Richard Taylor of Hahnville

For two months, it was part of a new nation called the Republic of Louisiana, according to the book, "St. Charles Parish, Louisiana: A Pictorial History." Soon after, Lt. Gen. Richard Taylor of Hahnville's Fashion Plantation represented the German Coast until it became part of the Confederate States of America on March 21 of the same year.

Taylor, as chairman of the Committee on Military and Naval Affairs, warned at the state convention that the lower Mississippi River should be fortified, but it was not done as many thought the Union would not attack New Orleans.

In 1862, as he feared, New Orleans fell without a shot and the German Coast was occupied by Union troops.

For St. Charles schools, tradition of football excellence was born in ‘49

Destrehan, Hahnville earned first state crowns 70 years ago

Ryan Arena Editor
ryana@heraldguide.com

The passion for football shared by the people of St. Charles Parish is known across the state, as is the rich tradition of winning its high school teams have established. Together, Hahnville and Destrehan high schools have combined for 10 state championship seasons.

Seventy years ago, that all began when each school won its first title.

The two schools won state crowns on back-to-back days in 1949, Hahnville taking the Class B championship on a Friday and then Destrehan earning Class A honors the following day. There would be several other titles, but there could never be another first for each school.

The 1949 Tigers went unbeaten that season, and on top of that, allowed just six points the entire regular season.

“Coach was so mad that we allowed that one score,” said Erwin “Cookie” Gomez, 88, who earned a state championship ring as a member of the ‘49 Tigers. “We beat what’s now known as E.D. White 40-6 that day. The touchdown came late, but he wanted us to go the whole way with no points allowed.”

Hahnville was dominant, indeed, that year. That was especially impressive considering the football program at the school started just three years prior, in 1946.

“Most of us had played CYO football prior to that,” said Gomez, a quarterback and running back on the team. “We had some really good football players. I’d say at least five guys went on to earn football scholarships.”

The ‘49 Tigers had seven LSWA All-State selections, including defensive end Matt Montz, offensive tackle Al Robicheaux, offensive guards Joe Matis and Gail Oubre, center Roy Ford, quarterback Roland Kinder and half-back Larry Troxler.

As one might expect given the presence of four offensive linemen on the all-state team, the Tigers imposed their will on the opposition.

Troxler, Gomez said, was the centerpiece of the offense.

“He probably represented the nucleus of our whole team,” Gomez said. “He was our Pooka Williams. He played ball at Southeastern. He wasn’t a big guy, but he was fast, a really good player.”

The Tigers secured the Class B championship by besting Tallulah 19-7 in a game played at Lutchter High School.

A day after Hahnville earned that Class B championship, Destrehan squared off with DeQuincy to decide Class A.

Things didn’t look promising early on. DeQuincy forced a fumble on the opening kickoff, then scored on its very first play from scrimmage.

“They had a back by the name of Perkins ... on the very first play, he passed between Russell Rebowe and I and scored a touchdown,” said James Poche, who played fullback and linebacker for the Wildcats. “He told me, ‘They’re gonna beat the hell out of us.’ And I said, ‘Oh no, they’re not gonna beat us!’ And that was the only score they made.

Ground cleared in Luling for new car wash

A Hammond businessman plans to open an Express Clean Car Wash in Luling.

Owner Johnny Schillace said a permit has been approved and land purchased for the site, which he anticipates could be up and running by spring 2020.

“We’re an expanding and growing company,” Schillace said. “We started in Hammond by remodeling a [car] wash and just bought a second one in Hammond. We expanded into LaPlace on Belle Terre Boulevard and started looking in Luling.”

“We’re an expanding and growing company.”
— Johnny Schillace

The location, 12401 Highway 90, neighbors Mariano’s Italian Eatery in Luling.

Schillace said he anticipates the Luling location will complement his LaPlace car wash, particularly with the availability of buying a monthly unlimited wash pass that allows a customer to use any of his locations.

One of Johnny Schillace’s car washes in Hammond.

With permit approval, Luling will make his fourth location.

“I liked where it was ... the accessibility,” Schillace said of considering several site options. “The divided highway had a turn lane there so I just thought it would work.”

Sheriff touts app that helps keep children safe from sex offenders

annat@heraldguide.com

St. Charles Parish Sheriff Greg Champagne said a newly-launched app, OffenderWatch Safe Virtual Neighborhood, will help deter child sex offenders and provide parents “some peace of mind” about what their children are doing online.

“Parents are craving this kind of stuff,” Champagne said. “I think a lot of parents have no idea what their kids are doing on those cellphones. Kids are living online, and unfortunately sexual predators do it, too.”

Champagne said the sheriffs’ association and other law enforcement groups, including the National Sheriffs’ Association, consulted on the app’s development and provided feedback on the growing danger online solicitation poses to minors.

The app screens communications on a child’s phone and alerts parents if a phone number or email address belonging to a registered sex offender has contacted their child through social media, text or email. It will also notify parents if the child’s device stays near the address of a sex offender for an extended amount of time. The app can be purchased for $9.99 from Android or Apple app stores.

Champagne said the app will help make children safer.

Offenders regularly attempt to contact children online for “illicit meeting for immoral purposes dangerous to these minors,” Champagne said. Though the app has a cost, it’s worth preventing possible harm, he said.

The sheriff, who has served as president of the National Sheriffs’ Association, was among authorities announcing availability of the app.

“Online safety is a huge problem today,” Champagne said. “Parents need to be vigilant of what websites their children are visiting and educate their children about not talking to strangers online. I’m proud that Louisiana is the first state to offer families and individuals a better way to stay protected from online predators.”

Champagne said Safe Virtual Neighborhood is the only online sex offender safety app partnered with law enforcement.

“It’s using data and information the public can trust,” he said. “For you to be able to get a text that your 12-year-old has been contacted by a sex offender, how can you put a price on that?”

Safe Virtual Neighborhood

- » The app monitors Snapchat, texts, emails, GPS location, and phone calls and will send an alert to parents or guardians if a sex offender contacts the child’s device, or if the device stays near the address of a sex offender for an extended amount of time.
- » The Crimes Against Children Research Center says one in five teens has received unwanted sexual solicitation online.

“The Mississippi River was patrolled by Union ships, some of which fired shells over the levees,” according to the parish’s pictorial history. “Reportedly, cannon shells hit Ormond Plantation.”

“It wasn’t a great majority of people who wanted to secede.”
— Rachel Allemand

The account further states, “Had Gen. Richard Taylor’s warning been heeded that New Orleans was vulnerable, the outcome might have been very different.”

Rachel Allemand, Destrehan Plantation’s heritage education coordinator, said historical accounts affirm the parish supported succession, but it narrowly got by statewide and those numbers were apparently hidden.

“For many years, the count was never made public,” Allemand said of the statewide vote. “It wasn’t a great majority of people who wanted to secede ... 52 percent voted in favor and 48 percent voted against it. This was a state vote on delegates and they would decide whether Louisiana would secede from the Union.”

The secessionists won by a narrow passage, results she said indicate

Louisiana was not overwhelmingly for the move.

St. Charles Parish, with its numerous plantations, voted 64 percent to support pro-secession delegates while only 35 percent sided with the Union.

Allemand said the parish had only 121 voters at the time because to register came with requirements like owning land.

“For the most part, people in Louisiana were not in favor of secession,” she said. “The people most in favor of secession were the big plantations. It kind of broke down South versus North.”

Stop blaming and pass sensible gun laws

Some leaders try to blame the mass gun shooting on things like video games. Yet, when we compare ourselves with Japanese and South Korean young people who love video games as much as America’s youth, we see these kinds of attacks rarely happen in those countries.

Other leaders blame secularism. Northern Europe is perhaps the most secular region on Earth, yet they rarely suffer such horrors. Are Americans really more prone to serious mental disorders than other people?

BY WILMER L. TODD

No, but one big difference exists. Young Americans, usually white males, have the firepower available to express deadly rage.

Some government leaders try to mislead citizens to believe that the Second Amendment (the right to own guns) is an absolute right for gun owners in America. This claim among gun rights advocates implies that the Second Amendment establishes not just a right to own guns, but a right that the government cannot legally limit. This is not true for gun-rights or any other right.

The Supreme Court has said repeatedly that no right under the Constitution is absolute. Whenever the government has very strong reasons to restrict a right, it can do so.

Take the First Amendment right to free speech, “Congress shall make no law . . . abridging the freedom of speech.”

Supreme Court justice Oliver Wendell Holmes noted the First Amendment does not protect your right to shout “fire!” in a crowded theater that is not on fire.

We have to pass sensible gun laws to protect the lives of our citizens.

God wants us to be pro-life. Our national leaders must pass pro-life gun laws to stop the slaughter of the innocent.

Political History:
Edwards (the first) loses (sort of) the governorship

Last week marked the 32nd anniversary (Oct. 24, 1987) of three-term Gov. Edwin Edwards losing his throne to then-Congressman Buddy Roemer.

Technically, Edwards didn’t lose anything.

He advanced to the run-off besides Roemer, although trailing 33 percent to 27 percent.

What Edwards did do, however, was resign from the race.

That was a better option than getting tossed by voters.

EWE made his decision known that evening, to a crowd of “weeping family and friends,” according to The Shreveport Times.

Two days later The Washington Post published another article with this headline: “EDWARDS CUTS HIS LOSSES.”

Here are the first three paragraphs:

The Edwin Edwards era ended in stunning fashion early this morning when Louisiana’s bon temps governor, reading the long odds against him, withdrew from his reelection race after finishing second in the bipartisan primary behind Rep. Charles E. (Buddy) Roemer III, a young, conservative, reform-conscious Democrat from Shreveport.

As a result of Edwards’ decision, there will be no runoff in November, and Roemer, who three weeks ago was running last in a five-man race, woke up this morning as governor-elect, preparing for his move next March to the white mansion in Baton Rouge.

“It’s absolutely unbelievable. I’m still not over it,” Roemer said today in a telephone interview from his Shreveport hotel room, referring both to his meteoric rise and the Democratic governor’s unexpected withdrawal. “An era is over, but let’s give Edwin Edwards this much credit: He came in with class in 1971 and he went out with class.”

Edwards, of course, wasn’t exactly down for the count.

He, of course, made another comeback in 1991, besting David Duke at the polls in the so-called “Race From Hell.”

Beverly Washburn remembers Lou Costello

Beginning her career as a talented child actress, Beverly Washburn worked alongside Hollywood’s most popular actors and her list of favorites is long (see www.beverlywashburn.com).

While she appeared in several “Wagon Train” episodes, her favorite was The Tobias Jones Story where Lou Costello plays a drunk accused of murder – a rare dramatic role for the comedian and one of his final acting appearances.

“I was a big Abbott & Costello fan, so it was a thrill to work with Lou,” said

BY NICK THOMAS

Washburn from Las Vegas where she has lived for over 20 years. “I just loved him, he was such a sweet man. But he was so used to ad-libbing in the comedy routines that he actually found it hard to stick to the script. When he forgot a line, he would look into the camera and say, ‘So how are ya?’ which always made me giggle.”

Washburn possessed a special talent that was often in demand.

“I could cry on cue which was usually required for playing the poor little orphan girl-type roles I often had,” she explained. “My brother would tease me and say I cried at supermarket openings!”

Co-stars were quick to praise young

Beverly’s mature acting skills. After they worked together, Lou Costello publicly acknowledged her for helping bring out his credible dramatic performance.

In her book, “Reel Tears: The Beverly Washburn Story, Take Two” re-released in 2013 by BearManor Media, Washburn shares many more stories from her career.

“It hasn’t all be roses, as I talk about in my book,” she adds, “but I have a lot of fond memories for sure.”

RESTAURANT from 1A

who died shortly after signing it, and they intend to come to Luling as planned.

The Wingerter, who own The Little Kitchen in Westwego, had decided to expand their business to Luling in the old Squeal and Moo location.

Amelia and her husband, Troy, along with daughters Jessica and Nicole, were planning to call the restaurant Cheramie’s Food and Spirits.

The family signed the lease with Roberts and then signed a second one with Robert’s son, Phillip.

Phillip Roberts said that the building has never changed hands and is being handled by the executor of the will, whom he did not name. He added that it’s still part of the estate.

As a result, Amelia said an eviction notice appeared on the restaurant door stating the owner wanted his property back and gave the Wingerter family 10 days to leave the premises.

Amelia reached Roberts’ attorney, Kerry Hand of New Orleans, who she said told her they don’t have a binding lease.

Her attorney disagreed and advised they occupy the restaurant as planned.

The Wingerter have started bringing back equipment and buying food to start up the business.

“I think we’re coming to Luling,” she said. “They’re gonna have to throw us out.”

The Wingerter had substantially invested in preparing the Luling location to open for business before the eviction notice, including putting a piano in the building and having a mural painted on the wall. They’d also hired 12 people in anticipation of the opening, she said.

“It was beautiful,” said Amelia of the building’s interior. “We were all so excited. I’ve already received utility bills.”

Plans were to open Oct. 7, but the opening was delayed to Oct. 21 for a Board of Health inspection. It was during this time the eviction notice appeared on the door.

Amelia said Phillip Roberts had even eaten twice at their Westwego restaurant and on one of those visits they signed the second lease.

“We’re going to start back from scratch,” she said. “We’re opening as soon as possible. Tell everyone to just show love and support ... we’re coming.”

RECYCLING from 9A

“As of right now, I hate to be bearer of bad news, but I highly recommend that we stop our recycling program temporarily until the problem is debated or resolved,” she said. “It’s not just with us – it’s all over.”

Sampey advised they make the move immediately. The parish will officially suspend recycling on Nov. 1.

Councilman Dick Gibbs, who said he also has been getting considerable requests for recycling, asked Sampey to provide the financial numbers to show to constituents.

“The largest issue that I have to address day in and day out is recycling,” Gibbs said. “We’ve got to try to get across to our constituents that we do have the possibility of doing recycling, but this is what it’s going to cost.”

Gibbs conceded he didn’t see recycling happening at this time, but asked Sampey to provide the financial numbers showing the program’s rising cost for constituents.

She agreed.

“I can tell you that in this region we are one of the first parishes to recommend that we shut down our recycling service,” she said. “It’s not feasible to do. Unfortunately, I am recommending to the council and parish president that we suspend all recycling services in St. Charles Parish at this time until we figure out what they’re going to do.”

In July, Republic Services announced the problem stemmed with China rejecting the world’s garbage – plastics and paper products – in 2018. From there, garbage started backing up in major countries and now the U.S. Many cities in the nation have ended or scaled back recycling programs, Sampey said.

The parish also shut down 21 recycling sites, which had become illegal dumping grounds. East and West bank parks became the two recycling sites with recycling bins, but recyclables will no longer be accepted there next month.

Republic Services New Orleans location stopped accepting recyclables from St. Charles and left the parish with the more costly alternative of having it hauled to Republic’s Baton Rouge site.

She further advised the council that Parish President Larry Cochran asked to explore all alternatives, but found none.

Without acting, she estimated the added cost could easily exceed budget, pushing this year’s cost from $46,700 to more than $75,000.

Public Works Director Clayton “Snookie” Fauchaux said there is also a concern that garbage haulers are “just taking this stuff to the dump and making a premium profit. The parish supplemented this cost and now there’s a 250 percent increase.”

Gibbs added, “We’re in a fight that’s way beyond us. It’s out of our control, but they don’t want to hear that.”

Recycling gets trashed

- » 2018: China announces it won’t be the “world’s garbage dump” anymore and slashed by half its recycling of the globe’s plastics and paper products.
- » January 2019: The parish’s 21 recycling sites are removed amid reports of illegal dumping while keeping two of them in West and East parks.
- » July 2019: Republic Services, which handles the parish’s recyclables, announces it won’t take them anymore at its New Orleans location, forcing the parish to pay to have recyclables hauled to Baton Rouge.
- » October 2019: St. Charles Parish faces skyrocketing recycling costs and officials announce a temporary suspension of the program.

SCHEDULE from 1A

It’s not an unfamiliar concept to St. Charles Parish Public Schools, as Destrehan High School has been utilizing this format. Now, the scheduling protocol will be uniform over both parish high schools.

“It’s something that’s been discussed for a few years now,” said Chris Kimball, St. Charles Parish executive director of Secondary Schools, of the format change at Hahnville High. “You take four classes in the fall and four in the spring. It’s a benefit to the student, who can now really hone in on those four subject areas from August to December, then shift their focus to four different ones from January to May.

“So students are still able to take eight courses a year ... we’re not cutting back the number of classes, just breaking it up to be more manageable for our students.”

Kimball said one of the most attractive benefits to making the change is it allows for more opportunities for dual enrollment. Because the focus is shifting to four classes daily, there’s added flexibility for a student to, for example, attend a class on a college campus and earn both high school and college credits. Ditto for classes offered at the Satellite Center, or for someone pursuing an industry-based certification.

“It supplies students some post secondary education and employment advantages,” Kimball said. “We will partner with some post secondary institutions and this is a schedule that aligns more with those partners, so there are more avenues to earn college credits and certifications.”

With it, comes a financial benefit. Kimball noted that through grant money, the school system provides funds for students to take dual enrollment courses that can earn college credit. In addition, students earning industry certifications may have the opportunity to go into the workforce right out of high school and garner higher pay as a result.

One other positive of the change is that because it aligns the schedules of both high schools with one another, it can allow for a student at one school who would like to attend a unique class at the other to do so.

“All of it is aimed at increasing opportunities for the students and parents of our communities, and we believe this will go a long way toward doing just that,” Kimball said.

MEMORIAL from 2A

The project was initiated in Parish President V.J. St. Pierre Jr's administration as a memorial and community park that would include the memorial along with a spray park, dog park, skate park and amphitheater on land surrounding the Edward A. Dufresne Community Center. When St. Pierre termed out of office, incoming Parish President Larry Cochran assured him his administration would act on it. Later, plans were announced the memorial would instead go in front of the St. Charles Parish Courthouse in Hahnville at a cost of $777,469.

“We had one meeting in four years. All of a sudden it gets pulled in the budget tonight.”

— Bobby Lovergne

Lovergne said they had met and were satisfied with the initial project, but not with the latest version of it. Commanders with the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion told the council they didn't like the design and location, and wanted the council to table the project to allow time to form a committee to have input on the park. “I think it's only right we're given the opportunity to have a final say in this project before it's approved,” Lovergne said. “We want it, but we want to at least have our say as to how it's built for us – the veterans of St. Charles Parish.” Lester Breaux, commander of the American Legion post in Luling, said they attended a preliminary meeting and then no more despite being assured additional meetings would be held. Breaux also noted the project, now estimated at $777,469, was estimated at $400,000 initially. “It is going to be for us and our families and everybody that served in the military,” he said. Breaux asked the council to take the project back to the drawing board. Lovergne said the preliminary meeting was held in 2017, saying Darrin Duhe, the parish's executive director of procurement and government buildings, headed it while Parish President Larry Cochran made an appearance. A preliminary plan was shown to them, but he emphasized they never saw the final rendering. Cochran said this was the first he heard about push-back on the project. “I don't know what we can change, but we can table it and see how long it takes to get it finished,” he said. Duhe added, “We're not intending to compete with the WWII Museum. We don't have those kinds of funds. We just want a nice park for people to come reflect and just enjoy it.” Councilwoman Traci Fletcher motioned to table the project, seconded by Councilwoman Marilyn Bellock.

“This is near to my heart because I'm a veteran as well,” Bellock told Lovergne. Councilman Dick Gibbs apologized to the commanders for not knowing about their concerns, but assured Lovergne that would not happen next year. Gibbs, who said he'd recently buried his father with full military honors, said he would champion their requests. Although he voted against tabling the project along with council members Mary Clulee and Paul Hogan, he said they wanted to vote on the project to secure the funding. Gibbs added his intent was to “move to hold over” and schedule a meeting and still call for a vote. He added they are meeting this week to “make everyone inclusive.”

V.J. St. Pierre Jr's proposed vet memorial

- » Former Parish President V.J. St. Pierre Jr. announces a project “near and dear” to him, a project called the Veterans Memorial and Community Park in Hahnville in 2015.
- » The project encompassed a military memorial along with a spray park, dog park, skate park and amphitheater, amongst other amenities at the Edward A. Dufresne Community Center site.
- » Park plans called for it being done in phases with the first one calling for a memorial and retention pond as well as parking.

CHAMPS from 4A

“We played a dominant game from there.” Indeed, Destrehan earned the first of the school's four state championships that year, taking a 14-6 victory. Like Hahnville, the football program was in a relatively young state, at least as people know it today: the school began playing 11 on 11 football in 1946, though it had earned state championship honors in six on six competition – Poche's brother, in fact, helped secure state honors in 1941, in a game played on a historic landmark of a day: Dec. 7, 1941, the day of Pearl Harbor. In 1948, Destrehan lost just once, to Reserve and its star rusher Leroy Labat, though the Wildcats limited Labat on that day. Poche said the '49 Wildcats were a special group in part because of their toughness. “We were all born during the Great Depression,” Poche said. “I remember having to work in a field ... I was a man at 12 years old, and the same was true of my teammates ... We had a unique combination of speed and strength, what I call a natural strong group.” Poche was an All-State performer at full-back—nicknamed “The Big Train” — as was Rebowe at defensive end. Rusher Winfield Hotard was known for his speed and big play ability. Quarterback Barry Bleakley was a smart player who Poche said was a great fit for head coach Vane Wilson's versatile offense. For Poche's money, he said Wilson was the best coach the region has ever seen. “(Troxler) probably represented the nucleus of our whole team. He was our Pooka Williams.” — “Cookie” Gomez

“We were changing plays at the line, and Barry was a really smart quarterback. Our defense was strong. All 11 guys were really good players, and we proved it that year,” Poche said. Of course, as widely known as the great football tradition of the programs is the legendary rivalry between the two schools. That, too, saw a chapter written in 1949. Both champions to be, Hahnville and Destrehan faced off during the regular season. So you're of course wondering ... who won the game? It was – as Gomez was happy to point out – Hahnville, 37-0 winners over Destrehan.

“We considered ourselves the Class A and B champion, unofficially,” Gomez said with a chuckle. “One of those things we like to mention, given the rivalry.” But the members of both teams certainly share a distinction to be proud of, the trailblazers of a powerful tradition that's only become stronger over the years.

Experience is a hallmark of the staff at Today's Car Care.

Quality is the top priority at Today’s Car Care

Ryan Arena Editor
ryana@heraldguide.com

When it comes to quality work, Galen Guidry of Today’s Car Care says experience and qualifications are musts — and that his staff is deep in both qualities.

“I employ multiple master technicians and have the best quality control of any shop in the area,” said Guidry. “For example, our collision center painter has over 30 years experience. And I grew up in this business and have more than 35 years of experience doing this in our community. I’ve been on this highway my whole life.”

Even given that experience, Guidry is quick to note the business always evolves, and as such, continuous training is necessary in order to stay on top of the game. Ditto when it comes to equipment—it has to be top of the line in order to ensure those trusting Today’s Car Care with their vehicles do encounter first class repairs, be it on the mechanical side or in the collision center.

“Certification doesn’t last forever,” Guidry said, noting technicians must re-test every five years to be certified and up to date. “A lot of guys advertise certified techs when that’s not the case. And when you have trained and skilled technicians, it makes a world of difference. It costs more to hire them, but it’s worth the investment when it comes to getting it done and getting it right.”

Guidry has invested in his staff by paying for them to go through training classes, where his employees can meet others in the field and learn and vice versa.

“It’s all about continual education,” Guidry said.

It’s been a little over two years since Today’s Car Care moved from Boutte into a more spacious building in Luling that enabled the business to expand its work, including the opening of the aforementioned collision center. Today’s Car Care provides full service to its customers, enabling them to avoid the hassle of multiple stops – it can all be taken care of there.

Guidry went into his line of work following in the footsteps of his father, who he began working for at the age of 12.

He believes one reason his business has thrived over the years is his belief in treating customers right, particularly being honest and forthcoming from the first meeting.

“My method keeps people coming,” he said. “If you explain things honestly, even a customer who disagrees with you at first comes back, because they realize, ‘OK, this guy sounds like he has my best interests at heart.’”

Today’s Car Care is located at 90 Mimosa Ave. in Luling and can be reached at (985) 785-9510.

Black Friday will bring with it numerous sales at Sears Hometown Store in Luling.

Store owner Kathy Witmer said they're gearing up for a busy season.

"There'll be a lot of sales," Witmer said.

And she said shoppers can anticipate them starting a little earlier so they may want to visit the store and get a flyer. Witmer said it should "make one of the busiest shopping times of the year easier."

As a preview, she said mechanic tool sets will be on sale and even yard tractors, as well as appliances.

"If you need appliances now, get those orders in and you don't want to miss out," Witmer said. "Pick them out now to get ready for the holidays."

She added, "We have beds to get the guest rooms ready for the company."

For those dream purchases, Sears Hometown Store Mastercard is available and it can be used anywhere.

Witmer said it comes with "shop your way reward points" that can be used on future purchases.

Calling it a "nice lagniappe," she said a Sears Hometown customer making a purchase qualifies for a 5 percent discount at gas stations, 3 percent discount at grocery stores and 1 percent on eligible purchases.

Opened in January of 2012, the Sears

Owner Kathy Witmer and associate Fran Mercado.

Hometown Store is packed with everything you need for the lawn and garden season, Witmer said.

Located in the St. Charles Plaza in the old Delchamps building, the retail store features top leading brands of appliances including Kenmore, and also carries Craftsman tools, lawn care equipment and Sealy mattresses.

Sears Hometown Store is located at 12715 U.S. Suite 160B, Luling, and can be reached at (985) 308-1555.

First National Bank USA holds honesty, personal touch among priorities

Ryan Arena Editor
ryana@heraldguide.com

At just 26 years old, Brandt Dufrene made good on an uncommon decision for a young adult he began the process of organizing a bank; several years later, in 1975, he opened up a bank in his hometown.

More than 40 years later, First National Bank USA in Boutte is thriving behind the same principles Dufrene established as a foundation to run his bank years ago: honesty, loyalty, and a dedication to providing a personal touch to both new and longtime customers.

"We're all local people," said Dufrene, a life-long St. Charles Parish resident and an alumnus of Hahnville High School. "We honor our word, and all decisions are made here, locally.

We're not sending loan decisions off to out of town groups who don't know our local people. Other banks are moving to not having people in their lobbies, but we're here to speak with you. We answer our phones."

It's something customers have come to appreciate, he finds, and a reason the bank has been a staple in the community for decades.

"I think it's comforting for sure for people to come in and see familiar faces, and to know their loan isn't being sent off elsewhere for approval, it'll happen here in Boutte," he said.

He noted that First National utilizes one of the top core processors in the country that allows First National Bank USA to provide all of the services our customers need and want from a bank.

"We are large enough to offer all the products and services you need – and small enough to give you the personal service you deserve," he said. "We offer everything the big banks offer, but tailor our services for our locals."

First National Bank USA in Boutte was established in 1975.

As for doing business in the St. Charles Parish community, he wouldn't change it for the world. First National Bank USA is a proud supporter of many community events.

"I love everything about it," he said. "This is a very good area to have a business. This is not just our market, this is our home."

CPRA COMMITS $6 MILLION

On October 9, Governor John Bel Edwards announced a state commitment of $6 million to St. Charles Parish for levee improvements along Magnolia Ridge and the construction of a gate on the Paradis Canal.

"I can't thank our Governor and the CPRA enough," said Parish President Larry Cochran. "Lifting more than two miles of the Magnolia Ridge levee and tying into the Paradis Canal Gate will save money, property, and lives when the next storm comes."

Shell Norco invites Neighbors to 90th Anniversary Celebration

Gordon Lousteau was first in line. The 80-year Norco resident was delighted to be the lead car in Shell Norco's 90th Anniversary Thank You, Neighbor celebration October 19 in Bethune Park. He was one of more than 500 community members receiving a $20 Shell gift card, anniversary gifts and the opportunity for a car wash.

"This is an ambitious event, but I am not surprised," he said. "Over the years, Shell has always recognized the community. None of my family worked for Shell, but I remember going on the property many times for plant days or other activities."

"The gas gift card brought me out today," smiled Shell retiree Dale Hymel, who returned to his hometown and a Shell job after a 20-year military career. "Working close to home was a great benefit for me."

"It was a pleasure and privilege to celebrate our site's 90th anniversary with so many of our neighbors," said General Manager Brett Woltjen, who welcomed individuals and families as their cars entered Bethune Park. "We are reaching nearly a century of operating in Norco and wanted to say, 'thank you' in a special way. For me, the day was an opportunity to acknowledge the strong connection and history Shell has with the one-of-a-kind town of Norco."

Norco volunteer employees were also on hand to greet the community, distribute gifts and wash cars.

"Shell has a responsibility to be a partner in our community although it is more than that," said Pressure Equipment Integrity Assurance Supervisor Calvin Wright. "Our company really cares about its neighbors."

As they lined up along Washington Street and drove past 90th anniversary fence banners, Norco residents shared thoughts about Shell and their town.

"Shell does a lot for the community and is always giving back," noted 60-year Norco resident Darlene Brown.

"Shell is a great partner in the community," agreed Michael Haydel whose family furniture business is also celebrating nine decades of operation in Norco.

"This is a fantastic day and one of the best ways for a company to give back," added Otis Guillory. "My wife and I moved here almost nine years and the town of Norco namesake. "My dad, two brothers and husband worked for Shell and I did, too, before I became pregnant. We had a good life thanks to Shell. There was a pathway on Apple Street heading to the kids' school. The Shell security guard would walk them down the path to make sure they got to school safely."

"My grandparents lived in the Shell village," said Shell employee and Norco native Brandon Bradley. "Shell built this community and continues to look out for us. After Katrina, Shell was right there helping both employees and neighbors. I am proud to work for Shell Norco."

Norco employees were impressed with the community spirit and participation in the anniversary celebration.

"It's good to see the people who literally live right next door to our workplace," said Maintenance Manager Albert Kelly.

"My grandfather, father and sister worked at Norco," said Maintenance Supervisor Walt Johnson, a 29-year employee and St. Charles Parish resident. "It's a great company with great people working in a unique community. Our site is truly engaged with the community and we see that with the celebration turnout."

"Shell is a good neighbor in a neighborhood of great people," said Environmental Engineer Maurice Pinder. "Norco employees know that we have to work hard inside the plant to keep things safe and reliable," he continued. "We also have to carry that mindset outside the plant to make sure that we are taking care of our community. A happy community makes a happy plant and that is good for all of us."

Jesuit visits HHS for marquee game

Tigers hoping to lock down top seed as team closes regular season with strong opposition

Ryan Arena Editor
ryana@heraldguide.com

Hahnville's final home game of the regular season will see a matchup of two of Louisiana's traditional football powers, as Jesuit visits Tiger Stadium on Friday night.

“(Jesuit is) one of the most storied programs in high school history ... we need to be equal to the task.”

— Hahnville coach Nick Saltaformaggio

The Blue Jays reputation will never be lost on Hahnville head coach Nick Saltaformaggio, who said as much as anything else his team must accomplish to come away with a win, it will have to match the tenacity and toughness Jesuit (6-2) displays year in and year out.

“The challenge is defeating who they are,” said Hahnville coach Nick Saltaformaggio. “And who they are is one of the most storied programs in high school history. They're gonna do what they're gonna do as best they can possibly do it. Every game, every year, and especially a Mark Songy coached team.”

Superbly coached and excellent in their execution of their offensive and defensive schemes, Jesuit poses problems for anyone, Saltaformaggio said. For his Tigers to make it nine in a row on Friday, it'll take a response in kind.

“So for us, it's gonna be about, who are we?” Saltaformaggio said. “When you talk storied programs in Louisiana prep football, Hahnville's one of them, too. We're Hahnville, and we need to be equal to the task. The big thing for this game, and our game next week, it'll tell us what kind of playoff team we're gonna be. This is a playoff team. Destrehan is a playoff team. We won't face anyone in the first few rounds of the state playoffs who are better than either of those guys.”

These teams aren't unfamiliar with one another. Hahnville (8-0) traditionally faced off with Jesuit in jamboree action for the past few seasons, but parted ways for preseason fare with the addition of this regular season contest.

Senior quarterback Grant Jordan leads the offense and keys its rushing attack.

“They're a quarterback run team, and he's extremely good,” Saltaformaggio said. “He's a big guy. They run QB counter and power very well. He's hard to break down. Watching him against Curtis and Holy Cross, he's a hard guy to tackle. You have to get a lot of hats to him.”

Wide receivers Grant Moreau, Luke Best, William Hudlow and Presten Berggren all boast great size, and are as instrumental in blocking and springing runners downfield as they are in the pass-catching game.

But for the Blue Jays,

Davontez Simmons chases down a ball carrier.

it all starts up front on the offensive line, which is big and talented. Brian Balestra is who Saltaformaggio believes will be the best offensive lineman the Tigers have seen to date.

Defensively, the appropriately named Sonny Hazard wreaks havoc up front, leading the Jays on that side of the ball.

“He's a big, physical kid. They have big guys on that front, on the first and second level. And they're great tacklers. Darryle (Evans, Hahnville running back) is gonna have to move forward and not try to outwiggle those guys. Take the yardage, because when they get their hands on you, that's it. They're tackling you.”

As such, Jesuit tends to not give up many big plays. Patience will be key.

“You have to accept three, four, five yard gains and understand it's OK,” said Saltaformaggio. “It may take three downs to move the chains. It may take 10 to 12 plays to cross the goalline, and that's OK. We can't let them make big plays defensively. We have to make them earn everything they get.”

After critical win at Thibodaux, DHS hosts high-scoring Trojans

Ryan Arena Editor
ryana@heraldguide.com

Noah Taliandich takes down a quarterback in district competition.

In District 7-5A, there's no time for rest. Six of the district's seven teams are vying for the postseason and positioning within it. The majority of games within it have been close battles, and it boasts teams of every style. So after nailing down a key victory last week at Thibodaux to snap a two-game losing streak, it won't get much easier for Destrehan (5-3, 3-2) as it takes on a proficient offensive team in Central Lafourche. The Trojans (5-3, 1-3) have lost two in a row and are themselves in need of a win to turn things around—Central fell to Hahnville and to East St. John over the past two weeks. ESJ held the Keller led a staggering rushing effort as the two combined for over 300 yards and seven touchdowns on the ground at Thibodaux. That also allowed Destrehan to keep Thibodaux's strong offense on the sideline much of the game. Robicheaux would love to see a repeat perforparticularly recently with a combined 96 points allowed in its two game losing streak. The quickest way to force a running team out of its gameplan is to establish a lead. "Hopefully we can do the same," Robicheaux said. "They're real good up front on defense. Those four down lineman are really active. East St. John had a lot of success throwing the ball. You want to try to get your playmakers into the secondary, because that front is really good." Robicheaux said last week's win was a critical one—without that, DHS would have its back against the wall, potentially. But there's still a sense of urgency to earn a second straight win headed into next week's rivalry battle with Hahnville.

Quincy Brown pulls down a jump ball.

Trojans to a season-low point total last week in a 54-19 win, but Central Lafourche has scored 30 or more points in every other game this season, including three times topping the 50 point barrier. Their ball control attack starts with Deon Jenkins Jr., one of Louisiana's most statistically impressive rushers. "You have to stop him," Robicheaux said. "He's the guy who gets that ball 90 percent of the time, and he's the guy that makes them go. He can take it the distance." Last week, Kyle Edwards and Razan mance. He also realizes that Central Lafourche has designs on the same goal, and has moved and controlled the ball in most of their games. "We always look to stop the run and be able to run on our end of it. We'll go in with the same mentality as we did last week, but they want to be ball control as well," Robicheaux said. "They have a real big tight end and they'll go two tight, play smashmouth football. They're tough to stop. We know it." Central Lafourche has allowed some big scoring efforts as well, though,

"There have been dog-fights every week in our district. It's good for the players and good for the coaches, because it keeps you sharp and prepared every week. Last week was big. Hopefully we get another one here," he said.

Ladycats getting ready for playoffs

Young squad rounding into form at right time

Ryan Arena Editor
ryana@heraldguide.com

With five sophomores playing heavily in Destrehan’s rotation, one might expect the Wildcats to be struggling at this point in the season, when district rankings and playoff positioning is on the line.

Not so, however, as the young volleyball squad has improved its record to 19-13 after a slow start to the season, and has done so despite a few key injuries. DHS has wrapped up a playoff spot and is now attempting to close strong to raise its seeding, which stood unofficially at 21st in Division I entering the week.

“Our underclassmen have run with the opportunity. They’ve been real difference-makers,” said DHS coach Edward Borgstede. “Our seniors have been steady, and we’ve gotten a major lift from our freshmen and sophomores. They’ve really been carrying us of late, and the experience they’re getting is a very good thing for us.”

Sophomores Ryley Boyne, Addison Bennefield and senior Alyssa Vicknair have stepped forward as standouts. Boyne and Bennefield give the Wildcats height and playmaking ability at the net, and lead the way for what’s the tallest of the rosters Borgstede has overseen during his time with the program.

Vicknair has asserted herself this season as well and may stand as the biggest surprise for the team. She took over as setter following an injury that forced the team to juggle its lineup, and has blossomed in the role both on and off the court.

“She’s setting like crazy,” Borgstede said. “She’s really taken on a leadership role. We’re dealing with injuries like everyone else is at this time of year, and we look at it as next woman up. She’s a great example of someone who needed to step up and was ready once she was called upon.”

Throughout the course of the season, youth has still had to be served at times, and the mistakes brought on by inexperience have been costly in a few matches.

“But I’ll take it because we’re staying aggressive,” he said. “These sophomore players, besides Ryley, they weren’t on the varsity roster a year ago. This has been their first major action, and I’m really pleased with what we’ve seen from them, in their play, their focus and their chemistry together.”

The positive record is a good milestone for a program taking on what Borgstede intended on being the program’s toughest schedule in years, and despite those teams living up to that, it’s seemingly just made the Wildcats better.

“We’ve faced Dutchtown, E.D. White, East Ascension, and two of those teams are in the top five,” Borgstede said. “Dominican, who we played, just beat Mount Carmel, which helps us in our strength of schedule and power points. We’ve got a tough tournament left next week, then it’s on to the playoffs.”

Ryley Boyne and Destrehan are ramping up for the postseason.

Making the natural choice

Anna Thibodeaux Managing Editor
annat@heraldguide.com

The timeless appeal of soothing, organic colors and the ease of making them fit nearly any project is why All Kinds of Finds by Karen offers a new line of chalk paint called Jolie Home.

Home's neutral collection, and five colors with a soft, muted appeal. "Neutrals. Neutrals. Neutrals," Guillot said is the latest trend in color preferences for projects. "It's timeless. It's easy to accent with smaller pops of color. Neutrals provide a clean, simple look from which any décor can be individualized around."

"It is a premiere paint suitable for multiple surfaces including furniture, metal, and offers beautiful colors," said Karen Guillot, owner of the Luling shop. Palace White, Dove Grey, Zen, Misty Cove and Eucalyptus are part of Jolie

"Minimalist and simple décor is a definite change."

They don't go out of style, she said. Neutral colors like whites and grays are popular in the kitchen, particularly in how they facilitate the surrounding décor.

“From season to season, you can change the accent color with accessories, décor items, pillows and simple lines,” Guillot said. “Minimalist and simple décor is a definite change.”

For home décor, cabinetry, front doors and furniture are the three main areas for painting. With cabinetry, it's a natural choice for updating the look while keeping quality.

Jolie paints make color mixing options endless and easy, she said.

Another added appeal of the line is the availability of the gallon size for larger projects. There are also brushes, waxes, colored waxes and embellishment products such as gilding waxes and papers.

The New Orleans-based Jolie Home line was launched in November of last year by founders Lisa and Scott Rickert and Lisa's brother Jason Mobley, who specialize in the DIY furniture paint market. Their customer-focused boutique paint brand is sold worldwide.

The decorative paint is water-based and non-toxic, which requires little to no prep on most surfaces.

Jolie's Serenity Collection offers five colors aimed at evoking “tranquility and comfort” inspired by nature, organic elements and feelings of calm.

Visit Jolie Home at www.joliehome.com and take the style quiz.

Guillot's shop, All Kinds of Finds by Karen, offers custom painting services with many of their projects being restoring cabinets and furniture. Private classes are also available to help with color mixing or embellishments demonstrations with accent colors available in gold, silver and copper.

“They want to keep quality furniture that has sentimental value and to update it for their current surroundings,” she said. “They're either moving into a larger home or downsizing into smaller ones, but looking to update their décor.”

For Guillot, whether the customer wants a DIY project or it done, her passion for painting makes the work a pleasure.

“I paint because it's relaxing to me,” she said. “It's therapeutic. It's also an art.”

The store is at 13425 River Road, Luling. To reach All Kinds of Finds, call (504) 756-1211.

INTRODUCED BY: JULIA FISHER-PERRIER, COUNCILWOMAN, DISTRICT VII
PAUL J. HOGAN, PE, COUNCILMAN-AT-LARGE, DIVISION B
DICK GIBBS, COUNCILMAN, DISTRICT III

RESOLUTION NO. 6447

A resolution fully supporting Senate Bill 2418 and House of Representatives Bill 3814, which seeks to increase GOMESA revenue sharing with Gulf Coast States to a level that is more on par with the revenue sharing with onshore mineral production states.

WHEREAS, many of the energy resources enjoyed by the entire United States are dependent upon the health of Gulf Coast ecosystems which provide access to those resources and related infrastructure and protection for communities that house its workforce; and,

WHEREAS, Louisiana is home to 30 percent of the nation's wetlands and 90 percent of its wetland loss, a crisis that impacts communities, ecosystems, and the very economic engines that contribute to the nation's energy security; and,

WHEREAS, this impacted area is home to half the country's oil refineries and pipelines serving 90 percent of the nation's federal offshore energy production; and,

WHEREAS, under the Mineral Lands Leasing Act of 1920, 50 percent of the mineral funds generated from federal lands onshore are shared with the host state to offset impacts of the federal mineral development - and there is no cap on the revenue shared with the host state; and,

WHEREAS, only a small portion of Outer Continental Shelf (OCS) leases active since 2008 are eligible for GOMESA revenue sharing with the Gulf states, Gulf states and their coastal political subdivisions receive 37.5 percent, not 50 percent, of such federal revenue; and the four GOMESA states are capped at a total of $375 million of revenue sharing annually; and,

WHEREAS, in 2018, this resulted in only 4.97 percent of Gulf of Mexico offshore mineral revenues being shared with Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi, and Alabama combined; and,

WHEREAS, Louisiana's ambitious coastal protection and restoration program needs more, not less, federal OCS mineral revenue sharing; and,

WHEREAS, legislation directing federal mineral revenues to be allocated automatically and annually to federal programs, such as national parks maintenance or other causes, should not do so at the expense of Louisiana's coastal program nor should such allocations limit the increased revenue sharing that Louisiana should receive under GOMESA; and,

WHEREAS, S. 2418, Conservation of America's Shoreline Terrain and Aquatic Life (COASTAL) Act, introduced by Senators Cassidy and Murkowski and co-sponsored by Senators Kennedy, Wicker, Jones, and Sullivan, would increase the revenue share to GOMESA states from 37.5 percent of GOMESA revenue to 50 percent of GOMESA revenue; expand GOMESA to cover additional Outer Continental Shelf leases; remove the $375 million cap; provide new authorized uses of GOMESA revenue; and establish revenue sharing for Alaska; and,

WHEREAS, H.R. 3814, Domestic Offshore Energy Reinvestment Act of 2019, introduced by Congressmen Richmond and Graves, would increase the revenue share to GOMESA states from 37.5 percent of GOMESA revenue to 50 percent of GOMESA revenue; remove the $375 million cap; and provide new authorized uses of GOMESA revenue; and,

WHEREAS, for Louisiana coastal parishes, the GOMESA revenue stream is a critical recurring source of revenue that allows us to address our coastal protection and restoration needs. The State of Louisiana has been a great partner in addressing some of our needs, but the funds that are allocated directly to the parishes have allowed us to have a seat at the table when discussing future coastal protection and restoration projects.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, THAT WE, THE MEMBERS OF THE ST. CHARLES PARISH COUNCIL, hereby fully supports Senate Bill 2418 and House of Representatives Bill 3814, which seeks to increase GOMESA revenue sharing with Gulf Coast States to a level that is more on par with the revenue sharing with onshore mineral production states.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the St. Charles Parish Council hereby objects strenuously to the allocation of federal mineral revenue to federal programs unless the allocation also increases the GOMESA revenue that is shared with Gulf coast states.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the St. Charles Parish Council hereby give thanks and appreciation to U. S. Senator William "Bill" Cassidy, U. S. Senator John Kennedy, Congressman Cedric Richmond and Congressman Garret Graves, for their leadership in this critically important effort of achieving increased revenue sharing for Louisiana through GOMESA.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to U. S. Senator William "Bill" Cassidy, U. S. Senator John Kennedy, Congressman Cedric Richmond, and Congressman Garret Graves.

The foregoing resolution having been submitted to a vote, the vote thereon was as follows:

YEAS: BENEDETTO, HOGAN, WILSON, CLULEE, GIBBS, WOODRUFF, BELLOCK, FLETCHER

The goal of this project is to educate the community as well as raise awareness and funds for Breast Cancer Research. The team members are selling sold pink paper links for $1.00 each as a way of raising the needed funds for this cause. As part of the fundraising process, team members from these courses, set up a competition between the east and west bank to see who will purchase the most links and therefore, raise the most money for breast cancer research. The amount raised and winner of the competition will be announced at the DHS vs HHS football game (Battle On The River) on Friday, November 8th. Please go out and support this great cause.
