Her aunt calls her “Santa in the flesh with a heart of gold,” but she’s also a Santa Ninja when it comes to collecting toy donations and this year she delivered more than 335 of them for Access Health’s recent toy giveaway in Kenner.

“It feels crazy,” said Amber Dillenkoffer, a junior at Destrehan High School. “When people donate money and I go to the store and pick out toys, I’m like a kid in a candy store. But the biggest thrill is definitely being there, asking them what they want to play with and helping them get the toy. “The biggest thrill is seeing them happy.”

Inmate expresses sorrow, remorse for officer’s murder

St. Charles Parish Sheriff’s Deputy James Alan Arterbury lost his life on Independence Day of 1973, while responding to a disturbance call at a Killona bar.

Forty-six years later, the man responsible for his death reached out to the Herald-Guide to express remorse for his actions that night.

Johnson Washington, through a letter written from Louisiana State Penitentiary in Angola where he is serving his sentence, addressed the newspaper in response to a story written in Arterbury’s memory published

Firefighter moonlights as Santa during holidays

Anna Thibodeaux Managing Editor
annat@heraldguide.com

In this parish, Santa actually lives on the St. Charles – Jefferson parish line and he’s full of jolly cheer in order to elicit smiles.

Nearly six years ago, Tony LeBouef realized his calling when a friend at G. Smith Motorsports suddenly called to say their Santa backed out from their event and asked if LeBouef would be willing to fill in. They bought him a costume and, although it was the first time he’d dressed up in a costume other than for Halloween, he stepped in.

“It was like I feel awkward doing it,” he said. “But it gave me a different outlook when I saw the kids smiling over seeing Santa Claus.”

And he’s been doing it ever since.

When others learned he did it, he got calls.

Last year, LeBouef was Santa at 10 events in December. As a firefighter with Luling Volunteer Fire Department, he often gets calls from fire departments to play Santa. They invite the whole family, including him, his wife, April, and three-year-old son. Other calls come to pose in photographs with children or attend special events at Mimosa Park Elementary School each year.

Shriners, parish create day of Christmas joy

Ryan Arena Editor
ryana@heraldguide.com

More than 40 child patients received Christmas gifts, got to meet Santa Claus and had a chance to enjoy “a winter wonderland” courtesy of the Jerusalem Shrine Patient Christmas Party in Destrehan Saturday.

But for Shriners Potentate Paul Ruiz III, he and his fellow Shriners receive a cherished gift each year at this event: the sight of happy children who are able to put their great adversity aside to enjoy a wonderful Christmas gathering made just for them.

“When a 4-year-old walks in and sees the toys stacked under the trees, and they’re just so excited ... it’s why we’re here,” Ruiz said. “This is why we do what we do. Everything we do throughout the year is for this day.”

The event sees children being treated for serious illnesses at Shriners’ hospitals brought together to celebrate Christmas. Santa Claus made his way into the doors of the Shrine Center in style, riding on a Harley Davidson three-wheeler for a grand entrance.

Each Shriner escorts a child into a room decorated with “snow” and trees to create a classic winter backdrop. Under the trees are copious presents for the children to pick out. The event has been held for more than 50 years, Ruiz said.

“One of ours has been escorting the same child for the past eight years,” Ruiz said. “We get to watch them grow up. We get to watch them get better.”

Ruiz called the event a centerpiece of the Shriners’ mission to serve these children in need, along with their families, throughout the course of each year. It’s a volunteer effort – “we do not charge for any service we give to a child,” Ruiz noted – that also includes transporting patients for hospital treatment in Shreveport, Houston and Galveston and, when necessary, paying for the family’s stay there.

Ruiz said his involvement with the event has provided him with perspective he feels he once lacked.

Volunteers make Christmas merry for foster children

Anna Thibodeaux Managing Editor
annat@heraldguide.com

When the wish lists come from St. Charles Parish’s foster children, there are people who are devoted to giving those presents and making sure one of them includes hope.

“Christmas is a big deal for us,” said Akeem Burl, CAS’ advocate supervisor in Luling. “For CAS, it’s holding on to that little bit of hope for Christmas.”

Typically, the 24 children in foster care in the parish wish for a home. It’s one of the parish’s highest numbers of foster children that Burl’s seen in recent years.

Among them is a five-year-old who spent three years at home, but came into care when his home was deemed unsafe. Burl said his last two years have been in foster care with strangers, but Christmas provides hope.

“We want to give that back to him,” he said. “We tell him, ‘You are not with your family, but there are still people thinking about you,’ and that gift gives him hope.”

Ama woman sentenced for role in heading false prescription drug ring

Ryan Arena Editor
ryana@heraldguide.com

An Ama woman and former medical assistant at a children’s clinic was recently sentenced to 18 months in prison after pleading guilty to charges related to allegations she forged more than 140 prescriptions under a local pediatrician’s medical license.

Shallon Dunmiles was one of eight defendants sentenced for their part in the fraudulent prescription ring by a St. John the Baptist Parish judge, including Lashonda Melancon, Danyelle Tuco, Ebony Stewart, Andrea Stalks, Danielle Anderson, Wilfred Perrilloux and Cortez Williams.

Dunmiles and Melancon earned the most severe sentences. Melancon was sentenced to 12 months in prison. Both are to follow their prison sentences with three years of supervised release. Each woman pleaded guilty to conspiracy to possess and possession with the intent to distribute illicitly obtained prescription medications. Melancon allegedly helped Dunmiles distribute the prescriptions. The other six defendants pleaded guilty to conspiracy to acquire or obtain possession of prescription medication by forgery. Of those, Perrilloux was sentenced to 10 months in prison, while the remaining five earned three years of probation.

Dunmiles, 34, was arrested in spring of 2018 after detectives executed a search warrant at her residence and recovered a stolen prescription pad, among other items of evidence, according to the St. John Parish Sheriff’s Office.

The Sheriff’s Office said she allegedly used both the identities of children and several other case suspects to forge the fraudulent prescriptions, which were for several opiate-based medications including Promethazine with Codine, Hydrocodone and Oxycodone as well as other controlled medications like Vyvanse, Adderall and Lorazepam. She allegedly began writing the fraudulent prescriptions approximately a year ago.

Dunmiles worked for a private doctor at the Pediatrics Medical Clinic, according to St. John Parish Sheriff’s Office spokeswoman Angel Thompson. Thompson added it is not known how long she worked for the clinic.

St. John Parish executed a search warrant after coordinating with the St. Charles Parish Sheriff’s Office Narcotics Bureau.

Detectives were able to arrest Williams and Perrilloux through surveillance conducted, according to the St. John Sheriff’s Office, which revealed they illegally obtained Promethazine with Codine. Other suspects were arrested following the search of Dunmiles’ residence and as the investigation continued.

Inspirational Christmas quotes remind us of the true spirit of Christmas

As we gather this Christmas with friends and family, let us not forget those who are alone in this world. May this Christmas bring joy to others by our acts of kindness. May following inspirational Christmas quotations remind us of the true meaning of Christmas.

Baptist pastor John R. Rice once said, “You can never truly enjoy Christmas until you can look up into the (heavenly) Father’s face and tell him you have received his Christmas gift.”
Pastor Max Lucado wrote, “Off to one side sits a group of shepherds. They sit silently on the floor, perhaps perplexed, perhaps in awe, no doubt in amazement. Their night watch had been interrupted by an explosion of light from heaven and a symphony of angels. God goes to those who have time to hear him – and so on this cloudless night he went to simple shepherds.”

Rev. Roy L. Smith stated, “Those who do not have Christmas in their heart will never find it under a tree.” Novelist Taylor Caldwell wrote: “I am not alone at all, I thought. I was never alone at all. That is the message of Christmas. We are never alone. Not when the night is darkest, the wind is coldest, the world seemingly most indifferent. For this is still the time God chooses.”

Actress Ann Schultz said, “Let us keep Christmas beautiful without a thought of greed, that it might live forevermore to fill our every need, that it shall not be just a day, but last a lifetime through, the miracle of Christmas time that brings God close to you.” Activist Helen Keller stated, “The only blind people at Christmas are those who don’t have Christmas in their hearts.”

Mother Teresa declared, “It is Christmas every time you let God love others through you. Yes, it is Christmas every time you smile at your brother or sister and offer them your hand.”

Age Limit to Participate in Disability Savings Program Should Be Raised

For five years now, the federal Achieving a Better Life Experience (ABLE) program has been helping the parents of individuals with disabilities save money without being penalized or losing benefits and services. ABLE was initially designed to help families with children who had disabilities to bridge the gap between insurance, benefit programs, and personal savings.

BY JOHN M. SCHRODER, SR.

Families are able to save up to $14,000 a year (up to $100,000 total) in ABLE and still receive Medicaid and Social Security. Earnings in ABLE accounts also grow free from federal taxes as long as money is spent on approved disability-related expenses such as education, housing, transportation, employment training, and health and wellness.

ABLE is now available in 42 states and the District of Columbia. Nationwide, there are 45,928 accounts totaling $259.8 million. We currently have 221 ABLE accounts in Louisiana with a combined balance of $955,823.

Now that the ABLE program has been in existence for a number of years, data have emerged showing where improvements can be made to reach more participants. In particular, statistics show there is a growing need to help more adults who are developing disabilities later in life.

Millions of Americans are missing out on the ABLE program’s benefits because of the current age restriction in the law. Most notably, veterans who develop a disability after the age of 26, cannot currently participate in the program.

I encourage Louisiana’s Congressional Delegation to support federal legislation, known as the ABLE Age Adjustment Act, which would raise the age limit to participate in the program from 26 to 46. This would open the door for more individuals to participate in the program, gain independence, maintain health, and improve their quality of life.

For more details about efforts to raise the age cap in ABLE click here. For more information about the program, or to open a Louisiana ABLE account, visit www.able.osfa.la.gov.

A Lassie Christmas with Jon Provost

During the seven years Jon Provost starred as little Timmy Martin in the CBS TV series “Lassie” from 1957 to 1964, several end-of-year Christmas episodes aired. Most still stand out in Provost’s mind for one reason.

“The crazy thing is we would be filming a Christmas episode during summer in Southern California where it was 90 degrees,” said Provost from his home north of San Francisco. “We were all bundled up like it was 30 degrees and just dying from the heat. But of course, you kept acting and did what had to be done for the episode.”

BY NICK THOMAS

In the 1961 episode “Yochim’s Christmas” where Timmy, Lassie, and a friend rescue a man trapped under an overturned sleigh, there was plenty of ‘snow’ used for the scene.

“It was fake, of course” explained Provost. “For snow on the ground, a machine almost like a fire truck was used to spray soap suds all over the hillside. We would have to shoot scenes before the suds turned back to liquid. Knowing that, if you go back and look at the episode again, you’ll notice it’s not really behaving like real snow.”

A different technique was employed for scenes depicting snowing. “They would use little shreds of white plastic dropped from above that would appear like snowflakes coming down or landing on our clothes. That was the magic of Hollywood before computer-generated images.”

Although it’s been six decades since the series first aired in 1954, reruns of the adventures of Lassie and Timmy still air in dozens of countries, including the U.S. on cable. As for the Christmas episodes, stories typically tugged on viewers’ heartstrings such as “The Christmas Story” from 1960 where Timmy and Lassie helped a homeless family.

“People tell me all the time about growing up with ‘Lassie’ and the warm feeling they still have about the show,” says Provost. “The stories had morals and values attached to all the episodes which are lacking in today’s television. I think that’s the reason it has retained its appeal.”

TOYS from 1A

Since age 13, Dillenkoffer has collected toys every year, and every year more people have jumped in to help, including people from five other states.

This year is her fifth collection, and momentum seems to just keep building for Santa's helper (the nickname her family has given her).

Her first year's goal was 50 toys, but she got 123. Every year since that time she's met her goal and exceeded it.

Dillenkoffer said they carried presents in two vehicles to Esplanade Mall for the Access Health giveaway. Before being moved, the toys took up just about every spare inch of space in her home.

"I've had them in our bathtub before," she said. "They're usually all over the house. I try to confine them to one room, but that doesn't always work out."

This year, she planned on getting 315 toys, but she's at 335 and counting. A last-minute cash donation sent her back to the store.

What feels like a Christmas Olympic event in toy collecting is actually Dillenkoffer's way of getting a smile. And, yes, she already knows next year's goal will be 350 toys, but she readily explains this all means so much more to her than just numbers.

Her earlier toy deliveries were to Toys for Tots in St. Rose and, by 2016, she started bringing them to Access Health's toy giveaway. She's brought so many toys for the giveaway that Access Health has presented her with plaques and invites her to the giveaway to help children pick their toys.

It's all a thrill to Dillenkoffer.

"I plan to continue doing this until I physically can't do more," she said. "I can see myself doing it until I die. For 16 years, I've gotten everything I wanted and I just want to give kids what I've had. It brings me so much joy, and just seeing the kids pick out a toy and find what they're looking for is so fulfilling. I actually love it."

Santa Ninja stats

- » 123: Then 13-year-old Amber Dillenkoffer's first toy donations. Her goal was 50.

REMORSE from 1A

"For quite some time, I dealt with the thought of no one wanting to believe what I have to say ... I want to say something I have longed to say for the past 46 years. I am truly sorry for my actions. Not one day has passed where I have not prayed for forgiveness and God to strengthen Mr. Arterbury's family to one day forgive."

Washington noted he did not want the apology to minimize his actions in any way and said he accepts responsibility for what happened that night.

According to court records, Arterbury arrived at the Nite Cap Lounge at approximately 8:30 p.m. and found an unruly crowd waiting. Arterbury returned to his truck to call for assistance, and retrieved his shotgun from the trunk.

When he walked toward the crowd, keeping the muzzle of the gun pointed skyward, the crowd became belligerent and surrounded Arterbury. Someone in the crowd grabbed the shotgun and shot it into the air. In the commotion, another man grabbed the deputy's revolver from his holster.

Arterbury was shot in the back with his own gun, leaving the crowd to scatter. He was taken to a local hospital, where he died several hours later, never to return home following his shift.

It happened just three years into his law enforcement career. He became the second St. Charles Parish law enforcement officer to be killed in the line of duty.

Washington was identified in the document as the shooter. He was convicted of first-degree murder.

He said he realizes he can never take back what happened, but he has tried to do good for others during his time at Angola.

"I have continued sharing with younger men the consequences of being what I was when this crime took place, misguided and immature. I stress how five seconds of poor decision making can cause a lifetime of pain," Washington said.

Arterbury's memory is honored with a display at the National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial. He received a Purple Heart posthumously from the St. Charles Parish Sheriff's Office, and the Sheriff's Office named the headquarters of its community services division after the fallen officer, christening it the Alan Arterbury Memorial Building in his memory.

He is also honored at the Sheriff's Office's Fallen Heroes Memorial, along with Sheriff Lewis Ory, Deputy Nelson Coleman and Deputy Jeff G. Watson, fellow officers who fell in the line of duty. Each year, the Sheriff's Office holds an annual memorial service to honor those men, and also all Louisiana officers killed in the line of duty in that year.

Killed in the line of duty

- » James Alan Arterbury was killed on Independence Day of 1973 during an incident at the Nite Cap Lounge bar in Killona.
- » The St. Charles Parish officer was responding to a disturbance call and found a hostile scene when he arrived.
- » He was surrounded by a group of people after entering. One man grabbed his shotgun and fired it into the air, while another grabbed his revolver from the holster and shot Arterbury with the weapon, that man – Johnson Washington – was later tried and convicted for first-degree murder.
- » Arterbury was the second St. Charles Parish officer to be killed in the line of duty.

SANTA from 2A

This year, the calls started coming the weekend after Thanksgiving. He plays Santa for anyone who asks him to do it.

“I like doing it now,” he said. “It’s one of those things I look forward to doing in December.”

He’s since bought his own costume, beard and hair, and LeBouef started interacting with the children more. He’s less shy about talking to the youngsters.

“I ask them what they want for Christmas, have they been good for their parents and it just goes on from there,” he said. “Whatever they tell me, I go on with it a little bit.”

In the process, he gets their wish list, which he admitted to having to research sometimes because he doesn’t always recognize the names.

It is for the smiles.

And now, with he and his wife expecting twins, his appreciation for the children he meets grows more, even when they really just want to ask him for iPhones, Pokeman cards and LOL toys.

“You don’t know what the kid’s been through in the year. You want to give the kid the peace of mind that someone would talk to them about Christmas and what they want to get,” he said. “ It feels good. I know I did my part in life to put a smile on a child’s face.”

Who is Tony LeBouef?

- » Plays Santa for anyone who asks him to put on the suit, usually in December.
- » LeBouef’s debut as Santa was at the G. Smith Motorsports.
- » Upgraded his suit and beard to improve his jolly look.
- » Typical requested gifts: New iPhones, Pokeman cards and LOL toys.
- » Firefighter with the Luling Volunteer Fire Department.
- » Married to April, a teacher at J.B. Martin Middle School.
- » The LeBouefs have a son and are expecting twins.
- » They live on the St. Charles - Jefferson parish line.

FOSTER CHILDREN from 2A

Each year, CAS volunteers help with the children’s wish list and donors help make the gifts possible. Electronics and sports items are typically among the requests, which CAS works hard to make happen, even if the electronics cost as much as Chromebooks and iPads.

To donate or volunteer, contact Donna Bliss at (985) 785-5226 or visit www.childadv.net.

“This one day on Christmas, we can make them feel special,” Burl said. “We want them to feel like a regular kid – not foster children.”

They also want them to feel loved and safe.

Although the goal is to get children out of foster care within a year by reuniting them with family, Burl said it’s possible for them to be in care two or more years depending on the case. Some of them have experienced trauma or relocated when a family member didn’t understand the demands of having a child in the household. Finding a permanent home for a child can be a challenge and take time, Burl said. If they can’t reunite the child with a parent, then the goal becomes finding a relative or adoptive placement.

But, in the meantime, CAS seeks to give them hope and generous donors who can make it happen for Christmas, as well as year round.

“There are some great people and businesses who have continued their partnership with CAS to give back,” Burl said. “They keep up every year to find out what we need.”

One woman is a regular donor, and has delivered hundreds of dollars of clothing or cash for these children. Most of the donors are regular people, he said, who make sure if a child asks for a Chromebook and iPad, they get it.

A neighboring church is a constant giver of book bags, gift baskets or clothing.

“The church prays over them and attaches a tag with an inspirational note on each one,” Burl said. “One time a hand written card sent with care packages read, ‘Dear young man, we don’t know you, but we are praying for you. Be strong. Everything will be fine.’”

Burl said it inspired him, too.

“It’s challenging and it’s emotional,” he said of being a child advocate and supervisor with CAS four years.

“You’re working to change a child’s life.”

From infancy to age 18, they come into foster care and their lives are heartbreaking, he said. It’s also traumatic for parents to lose their children, but some parents can’t keep them because of substance abuse, Burl said. Their children love them and want to be with them, but it’s unsafe and they don’t understand they’re in danger or that mom can’t meet their needs.

On average, 46 percent of these children are reunited with family in St. Charles Parish, he said.

“This one day is to forget all other days in foster care,” Burl said. “We just focus on this one day that makes them happy and puts a smile on their face. This is why Christmas is so important to CAS. On this one day, we can put aside their trauma and the idea they may not be going home. Just open the presents and take off the bow – be a child on Christmas.”

- » Recruits and trains community members to serve as Court-Appointed Special Advocate (CAS) volunteers who give powerful voices to children in the foster care system. In St. Charles Parish they are currently serving 24 children with 11 volunteers, and completed three adoptions for 2019 so far.
- » CAS offers counseling services, including Trauma-Focused therapy, by a licensed professional counselor to children and families - free of charge.

CHRISTMAS JOY from 2A

“I can only speak for myself, but my whole life, I’ve been greedy ... always looking out for what’s in it for me,” he said. “But when you deal with these children and see how needy they are ... it becomes everything, to you.”

That same day in Luling, St. Charles Parish provides its own joyful Christmas setting for those in need via its annual Toy and Gift Fund giveaway at the Edward Dufresne Community Center.

The Toy and Gift Fund was founded in the 1980s as a means to ensure as many children as possible can enjoy receiving gifts at Christmas time, particularly when for many families, purchasing gifts may not be realistic because of financial constraints. A major toy drive is held each year for the event, and names of children whose families might be in need are provided by the St. Charles Parish school system.

More than 1,100 children received invitations to the event with the number of attendees exceeding that, said event spokeswoman Jeanne Arabie. With $12,000 worth of toys for the children to choose from, organizers were well prepared thanks to generous donations from several sources, including United Way of St. Charles. Valero St. Charles also made the day successful by cooking for everyone who attended.

More than 1,100 children received invitations to the parish’s Toy and Gift Fund giveaway.

“The kids get to come in and pick their presents out themselves,” said Arabie. “It’s completely their choice. We’re fortunate to have our generous sponsors and volunteers ... we have about 40 volunteers this year and also students in the school system with Interact, Beta Club ... it makes it all go smoothly.”

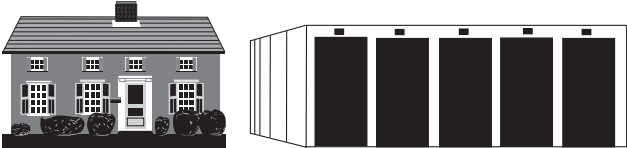

The children who attended each got to watch a movie, take a picture with Santa Claus and play holiday-themed games. And, of course, each got to choose their gifts.

“The minute they walk in, they’re so excited,” Arabie said. “They’re looking and looking and their eyes light up, especially when they see Santa. Then when they see the next step and they get to go pick their toys out ... it makes us feel good to be able to provide that and see them so happy. And for a lot of parents, it provides some relief, I think.”

Local mother Ronda Bolton said her son, Aiden, was elated to take part in all the fun.

“You go from seeing the Grinch to seeing Santa Claus,” Bolton said. “He loved seeing Santa, just loved it. He sees a lot of kids he goes to school with and he got to see them outside of that school setting. Then you see so many toys, and he gets so excited.”

Wildcats run ends in 5A title game, defensive slugfest

Acadiana emerges as unbeaten state champion after down to the wire finish

Ryan Arena Editor
ryana@heraldguide.com

Again and again, Destrehan found its backs to the wall against Acadiana in the Class 5A championship showdown Saturday night. And again and again, the Wildcats managed to wriggle free and give itself another chance.

But the Wreckin' Rams would not be denied on this night. Destrehan never ran out of fight, but simply ran out of time as Acadiana earned victory in a defensive slugfest, 8-3, to earn the Class 5A state championship.

This was a championship game rubber match between the two programs: the third meeting between the teams on the turf of the Mercedes Benz Superdome, with each team earning a win previously.

Keontae Williams' 64-yard touchdown pass to Dillon Monette in the first quarter proved the only touchdown in a game that provided more twist, turns and drama than the low scoring total would indicate.

"Our kids fought ... this was just a really

"I'll tell you what ... it was a brawl out there. Our kids didn't back down."

gutsy performance," said Destrehan head coach Stephen Robicheaux. "I'll tell you what, it was a brawl out there. Our kids didn't back down. If you'd have told me it would be 8-3, I probably wouldn't have believed you.

"People talk about Acadiana's offense and how it's so good, but I'll tell you what, their defense is special."

Destrehan's defense

again proved pretty special too, even in a losing effort. Behind its powerful option offense, Acadiana (15-0) controlled the ball for the majority of the game, holding a 30:31 to 17:29 time of possession advantage. But every time the Rams had a chance to put Destrehan (11-4) away, the Wildcats found a way to escape thanks to a big play on defense.

"We prepared all week for this," said Destrehan linebacker Dylan Gibbs. "Coach (Malter) Scobel prepared us to do whatever we had to do. We knew based on their formation what they'd run out of it ... we didn't get the job done completely. We gave up that touchdown early. But otherwise, we were pretty solid.”

The fourth quarter, in particular, kept fans on the edge of their seats, starting with a fourth and goal to go from the DHS 1 for Acadiana.

Monette took the hand-off and took to the air in an attempt to leap over the pile to score. Officials ruled on the field that the ball broke the plane. But a replay review ruled the extremely close play as a stop just short by Destrehan, with Dylan Whitted making the key hit.

“We felt like we had to loosen them up a little bit and take some shots ... their front seven is as good as any we’ve faced.”

That momentum was short lived, as Acadiana appeared to have a potential stop of DHS rusher Kyle Edwards for a safety, but replay determined Edwards was out of the endzone. But on the very next play, Edwards was brought down in the endzone for a safety – though the DHS sideline clamored for a facemask call that wasn’t when Edwards helmet was pulled off in the fray.

It made it 8-3, but Destrehan still had life. After a defensive stop, it took over at its own 5. Jackson took a shot deep to Quincy Brown, and Acadiana was flagged for pass interference and a personal foul on top of it, netting DHS 30 yards. Jackson and Brown connected for 10 yards a play later and another personal foul on a late hit out of bounds resulted in a 25 yard pickup.

But at the Acadiana 41, the Rams made a big play, hitting Brown for a 7 yard loss. After an incomplete pass and a sack, Destrehan had one more chance on fourth and 20 from its 49 with 2:04 left. Jackson’s pass to Calvin Bullock at the sticks fell incomplete and Acadiana took over, able to drain the remaining clock for the win after a first down.

Destrehan gave itself plenty of chances despite Acadiana outrushing the Wildcats 311 to 66 and holding a 367-140 total yardage advantage.

Leading 6-0 in the second quarter, Acadiana appeared to be set to go ahead 13-0 just before halftime when Monette broke loose on an option pitch for a 57-yard touchdown on an impressive cutback run. But the play was called back for an illegal block in the back.

Moments later, Destrehan safety Tyler Morton intercepted Williams and returned the ball to the DHS 43. That gave the Wildcats life, and Damarius Jackson found Razan Keller for 26 yards to get into Acadiana territory. The drive stalled and Destrehan settled for a Will Bryant field goal from 47 yards. The kick was no good as the half ended.

Or so everyone thought: officials called the teams back onto the field after they had started to go to their respective locker rooms, as the play was under review. Acadiana had too many men on the field and was flagged for a 15 yard illegal participation penalty. That made Bryant’s kick a more makeable 32, and he put it through the uprights to cut his team’s deficit to 6-3.

Acadiana got the ball to start the second half and drove the ball all the way to the Destrehan 4 yard line via 10 straight runs. The 11th run resulted in a second straight Acadiana turnover—and another big play by Morton, who recovered a Williams fumble.

Monette led four

Destrehan’s Jaden Harding contemplates Saturday’s emotional loss in the Superdome.

Acadiana rushers with 153 yards on 21 carries. Jeremiah Brooks gained 65 on 13 attempts.

For Destrehan, Edwards rushed for 47 yards on 13 attempts. Brown led all receivers with five catches but was held to 19 yards.

Whitted led Destrehan in tackles with 11. Gibbs and Noah Taliancich each recorded sacks. For Acadiana, Derreck Bercier led the way with eight stops, two for loss.

Though the running game was at the core of Destrehan’s postseason run, Robicheaux said the DHS staff knew finding running room against the Acadiana front seven would not be easy.

“We felt like we had to loosen them up a little bit and take some shots if we had them with Quincy,” Robicheaux said. “Their front seven is as good as any we’ve faced.”

Though hurting from the loss, DHS defensive end Noah Taliancich kept things in perspective after the game. He said the Wildcats still have plenty to be proud of.

“After a 4-3 start, everyone counted us out,” Taliancich said. “To be playing the No. 1 team in the state in an 8-3 ballgame, nobody expected that. That’s what I’m proud of.”

Players ‘brotherhood’ keyed Dome run

Ryan Arena Editor

Destrehan’s players heard the chatter. They used it as fuel.

“They were saying Destrehan ain’t Destrehan anymore. We said, ‘We’re gonna prove y’all wrong.’”

—DHS defensive tackle Noah Taliancich

senior defensive tackle Noah Taliancich. “We said, ‘We’re gonna prove y’all wrong.’ And we did.”

Taliancich’s words ring true, even if Saturday’s Class 5A championship game saw Destrehan fall just short against top-seeded Acadiana, 8-3. It was what head coach Stephen Robicheaux called a gutsy effort against a team averaging more than 50 points per game. Destrehan held Acadiana – which had 70 and even 80 yard scoring efforts this season - to just six offensive points.

“We gave up eight points and (the touchdown) came on a bomb. Who would have thought it?” said Destrehan head coach Stephen Robicheaux.

Destrehan won seven games in a row to advance to play for a state crown in the Superdome, a scenario not many likely had envisioned in October after Destrehan fell for the third time in four games – a Week 7 loss to East St.

John, 14-13.

The three regular season losses were as many as Destrehan had in total from 2013 through 2018, and the doubters

Taliancich referred to had their own fuel for criticism. While Destrehan was dealing with some key injuries, in particular an ankle sprain limiting quarterback Damarius Jackson's snaps and mobility during that span, a program annually banking double-digit win totals and deep playoff runs plays host to high expectations in its community.

"You definitely saw guys maybe bashing us ... you really can't take it personally, because people don't know what we're doing every day. They can't see behind closed doors, so they don't know how hard we work or what we do on a weekly basis," Taliancich said. "It made us honestly go harder. Harder in practice, harder in workouts, harder in film sessions."

The players met as a group following the East St. John game and made

"It's all about playing for the person next to us ... our brotherhood is strong."

—DHS quarterback Damarius Jackson a decision: this season turns around right now.

"We lost to East St. John and we just said, look, we can't keep doing this," Taliancich said. "This isn't Destrehan. This isn't us. From there, the tide changed and we flipped the script."

The coaching staff, meanwhile, made its own important decisions. Learning from the team's three losses, Robicheaux's staff adapted a gameplan heavily featuring the run with a ball-control passing game, something that stabilized an offense that integrated several first-time starters into the fold. That would play well with a Wildcat defense that had been rock solid all season, and forced a plethora of turnovers. Destrehan began to win in turnover margin, in field position, and most importantly, in the scoring column.

For Jackson, the turn-around was about a group of players who considered one another family.

"All that the whole coaching staff has taught us, they always tell us and they showed us ... it's all about playing for the person next to us," Jackson said. "It's how we always win. Since our freshman year, we've carried that with us everywhere we go. Our brotherhood is strong."

Taliancich agreed that the philosophy is something ingrained in Destrehan players early on.

"I think after a certain point, once you mature, he lets you just go," he said. "But (Robicheaux) instills little things in your mind when you're younger. And that's why we're here today."

Kyle Edwards finds room to run outside during a third quarter drive for Destrehan.

'Audrey's elves' have made children smile at Christmas for nearly 15 years

Anna Thibodeaux Managing Editor

Debra Frickey happily describes herself as one of Audrey Raziano's elves.

It's because she is among the employees of First National Bank USA in Boutte who have been adopting a family for Christmas for nearly 15 years.

"We anticipate it and we're eager to get what they want," Frickey said. "The name is not important. Audrey orchestrates it all. She has a lot of elves here."

Under Raziano's direction, they get a family name each year from their adopter school, R.K. Smith Middle School in Luling. She reaches them to confirm they're okay with getting the help.

From there, Raziano, who founded the employees' project, and her elves go to work.

"I love it," Frickey said. "We raise money, but sometimes it comes out of our pockets. We donate money needed to buy things. I enjoy it and I like going to the delivery."

She said their first adopted family was a young mother with five little children.

Frickey said she welcomes the opportunity to see children's faces light up over getting presents. She recalled one delivery to special children who hid from them until they saw the presents.

Bank employee Donna Murphy, who has been with the bank 14 years, said they also provide a Thanksgiving meal and that's when Raziano gets the chosen family's wish list. The children are told the bank employees are their Kris Kringle.

"Some of these families are asking to have their brakes fixed on the car," Murphy said. "When you get a request like that and look at the list, you know the mother could have asked for her hair or nails to be done, but she's asking for the brakes to be fixed so she can help her family. You may think you may be going through some trouble, but look at these families."

This year's family request was for towels and dishes, she said.

But these elves are workers and did more for them.

During the Thanksgiving delivery, they also get the children's sizes for clothing or needs such as furniture. The requests have ranged from candy to washers and dryers to paying an electric bill, which they got done.

Donations also are invited year round in food or cash at the bank, and people give. If the children want a bicycle, they find the bicycles.

"We have people scoping out what we need because we have a list so we're all Audrey's little elves," Frickey said of bringing in their own family to help, too.

Employee Vicky Doty considers their good deed an opportunity to give back to someone in the community in need and she knows firsthand how much it means to them.

In Doty's nearly eight years at the bank, she said they've diligently worked to fulfill each family's wish list.

A couple of years ago, she recalled a mother who asked the heating element in her stove be fixed, which they got done.

Frickey recounted them fixing a washing machine, and them finding a mechanic who fixed one family's vehicle. There was one family with an uncle living with them who helped pay the rent so he got a present, too.

"No one is left out," she said.

By the time of delivery, Frickey said they load up three to four vehicles of stuff and start carrying in boxes.

"We definitely don't judge," Doty said. "We just adopt them with open arms. We've gotten tears. We've gotten hugs. They are very appreciative. We've had a few tell us, without this help, they wouldn't have had Christmas."

And at the heart of this giving is what she called "a great group of employees that every year just want to help. Without the employees here, helping and donating and everything, we wouldn't be able to continue it."

It's the love of giving that has driven helping those in need for nearly 15 years.

Frickey added, "They are touching stories with their unique situations. It's the kids' faces that's fun and the momma smiling just to see the kids happy."

First National Bank USA employees with the many gifts they've gotten for the families they adopted in St. Charles Parish.

New year, new you – a healthier 2020

BY: DEANNA ELSEA, MD
ST. CHARLES PARISH HOSPITAL

As 2019 ends, we will soon be bombarded with well-meaning information about New Year’s resolutions. While I can’t help you find a new job or win the lottery, I can offer some tips to improve your overall health. Below are some helpful tips and here’s to a healthier 2020!

1. Schedule a checkup.

If you’ve never had a standard physical, make an appointment to schedule a wellness exam. Annual check-ups are a great opportunity to get routine, preventive screenings and discuss with your doctor how you can improve your health. These visits also provide a baseline of test results that your doctor can refer to and help prevent a potentially chronic condition.
2. Quit smoking.

I know you’ve heard it a million times. But did you know that within minutes of smoking your last cigarette your body begins to recover? Quitting smoking helps most major parts of your body, from your brain to your DNA. And if you’re vaping instead, it’s worth quitting that, too. Recent evidence shows there are real risks to this form of nicotine use. Ochsner’s Smoking Cessation Clinic can help. To find one near you, visit www.ochsner.org/smokingcessation.

3. Adjust your eating habits.

Let’s face it – most Americans don’t eat that healthily. Simple changes like increasing the variety of fruits and vegetables you eat (maybe become a part-time vegetarian), reducing your overall portion sizes, or increasing your intake of fish every month can help you both physically and mentally.

4. Increase your activity level.

Anyone who’s ever joined a gym or exercise studio in January can tell you they’re all packed with people at the start of the year, then attendance tapers off. One key to success is finding the type of activity or exercise that works for you, that you enjoy and the you are most likely to stick with throughout the year.

If you make specific resolutions like those above, there are some things you can do to ensure success.

- Make a plan.

Following a specific program or plan can help you stay on track. Whether you hire a personal trainer, schedule visits with a nutritionist, or subscribe to a health or fitness app, structure can be extremely beneficial.
- Hold yourself accountable.

That may mean enlisting a buddy to share meals or exercise together, or simply becoming your own biggest critic when it comes to reaching your goal. Accountability means you hold yourself to a specific standard and don’t waver.

- Set reasonable, achievable goals.

Tough standards are great, but goals that are too tough tend to make us bail out. Hitting a reasonable goal gives you an opportunity to celebrate and to set a new goal to work toward.

Dr. Deanna Elsea earned her medical degree from the University of Tennessee. She completed internship and residency training at Methodist Hospitals of Tennessee in Memphis. Students learn the art of dance with The Nutcracker

On Dec. 13, third-grade students from Ethel Schoeffner Elementary School went on an amazing field trip to see a live performance of The Nutcracker. To prepare for the experience, Chris Melohn, director of the Lafon Ars Center, along with two members of the River Region Ballet came to Ethel Schoeffner to share the story of The Nutcracker and explain how dancers tell the story without words. The students also learned dancers tell the story with their bodies, and were also taught a short piece of choreography from the ballet.

Comets are giving thanks

At St. Charles Catholic High School (SCC), students, faculty, staff and parents have so much to be thankful for each day. SCC recently celebrated its school Thanksgiving Mass. The Religion Department requested all students collect canned goods. This year, SCC collected more than 1,000 items for their annual Thanksgiving drive. Each religion class donated multiple laundry baskets filled with nonperishable food items and cooking ingredients meant to help those in need celebrate Thanksgiving. Once the items were collected and sorted at SCC, they were then delivered to Ascension of Our Lord Church where they were distributed to those in need throughout St. John the Baptist Parish. SCC and Ascension of Our Lord have enjoyed this partnership for many years and see it as a sign of solidarity to serve the community at large. When reflecting on the Thanksgiving Drive from this year and from years past, Campus Minister and eighth grade religion teacher Raleigh Poche stated, “All items collected and sorted in the our religion classes go directly back into the community. Our students understand the importance of service, but it’s always rewarding to have them see the impact their service has on the community. It’s important for them to love their community and always want to be of service to it.” The Fellowship Christian Athletes at SCC recently made gift-filled shoe boxes as part of “Operation Christmas Child.” The members filled more than 25 shoe boxes with brand new items such as small books, bibles, rosaries, socks and school supplies. The St. Charles Fellowship of Christian Athletes completed the packing at one of its recent Thursday night meetings as a way to give thanks. Senior Kelly Campbell stated this annual SCC tradition “is a wonderful chance for us to share God’s love and joy with boys and girls around the world.”

St. Charles Catholic High School students and Mike Abbate, Ascension of our Lord, load up the donated items and distributed them to various families in need in St. John the Baptist Parish.

Christmas Day

Christmas Day is coming soon to let us remember why we honor that day, whether He was born on that day or not is nothing to fuss about. He came to set man free & that is what it's meant to be. He was born to a Virgin Girl that God chose to bear His Son. We honor that Special Day to help us remember our Jesus, that day. Everyday is Christmas Day, for Jesus came unto our heart to stay. That special day is set aside to remember Jesus is always by our side on Christmas Day & everyday. So let us celebrate Christmas Day this year & all be of good cheer that we made another year my friend for God had a special plan. He wants us to be happy & free & remember Him on Christmas Day. So Merry Christmas to all & let Jesus be our all in all. Amen
