Isabella Treuting

Valedictorian

Ryan Arena Editor
ryana@heraldguide.com

Isabella Treuting knew she had done well for herself in school – she just had little idea exactly how well, in fact, until receiving the call notifying her that she was Hahnville High’s Class of 2021 valedictorian.

“I didn’t even think I was in consideration for it,” Treuting said. “It’s a complete shock and it’s such an honor.”

In many ways, her success is a great example of taking a negative and finding a positive to draw from it. In Treuting’s case, while COVID-19 brought many to a grinding halt, she funneled her suddenly ample free time into hyper focus, and it resulted in a banner senior year.

As it turns out, she simply doesn’t like to be at a standstill.

“The first three years of high school, I procrastinated terribly,” Treuting said. “COVID was such an unfortunate event for so many people, and for me as well,

Taylor Champagne

Salutatorian

Ryan Arena Editor
ryana@heraldguide.com

When working toward her scholastic goals, Taylor Champagne was motivated by the desire to make herself and everyone she loves proud.

And when those people learned she had earned the honor of Hahnville High School salutatorian, there was no doubt she had done just that.

“They were absolutely thrilled,” Champagne said of her parents. “They’re my biggest supporters by far. My sister lives in Hattiesburg where she goes to school, and I Facetimed her ... she was crying at work, so proud of me. It feels really good.”

The daughter of Shane and Tina Champagne, the Bayou Gauche teen had a decorated and very busy tenure at Hahnville.

Champagne was a member of the Robotics and Engineering Club, Talented Theatre, the International Thespian Society, Beta Club and National Honor Society. She was the President of the International Thespian Troupe, the Captain of the FRC Team 2183, and earned Superior ratings in stage management in the Louisiana Thespian Festival and the International Thespian Festival in 2020, as well as a Superior rating in scenic design at the Louisiana Thespian Festival this year.

but the one positive for me there was I just can’t be bored. I completely focused on my schoolwork and eliminated my procrastination.”

“I didn’t even think I was in consideration for it. It’s a complete shock and it’s such an honor,”

— Isabella Treuting

If an assignment came due, she’d jump on it immediately. She would study for tests as soon as possible. While adjusting to a new schedule and many different ways of doing things was perhaps a disruption for many, Treuting found herself more prepared and ready to go than ever.

National Honor Society member will most cherish time on the field

Monique Roth Editor
moniquer@heraldguide.com

As a member of Hahnville High School’s 2021 graduating class, Bryson Thomas learned many lessons in the classroom. But it was the lessons of hard work and perseverance that he learned on the field, he said, that he will most cherish.

“You can’t not take life lessons from the game of baseball,” Thomas said. “No matter how hard you try, there will always be something that doesn’t go your way. But no matter how hard life hits you, you have to get up and keep going.”

Thomas’ main athletic pursuit at HHS was baseball, but during his senior season he was only able to play seven games before a knee injury sidelined him.

“I tore my meniscus,” he said. “I’m still recovering and still going through physical therapy. I was devastated of course over the injury because I worked all those years and we got cut off last year with the pandemic, but we established something this year that was different from any other year at Hahnville ... we won more games this year than we did in the past two years.”

Thomas said he focused his energy on cheering on his teammates after his jury forced him to not be able to play.

“I was just there to lift the team up when they needed it in the dugout,” he said. “My senior baseball class was like a family to me – we’ve been together since 6th grade. They count on you. You have to be tough with them and pick them up when they’re down, but at the end of the day they’re still brothers and you still come back to each other.”

“It really showed me that you have to stick to your commitments with people,”

— Bryson Thomas

Thomas, a Luling resident, said his love affair with baseball started early.

“I started to play baseball probably when I was like 4 years old,” he said. “I played in the rec department growing up and was on the all-star team.”

Thomas continued to play baseball through middle school and during his time at HHS. At Hahnville he also played basketball, was a member of the student council, served as a freshman advisory mentor and was a member of Beta Club and the National Honor Society.

Thomas’ hard work during his high school years extended outside of the school building and baseball field – during the pandemic he started a lawn care business with a friend.

“It really showed me that you have to stick to your commitments with people,” he said. “It’s real life and taught me how to become more responsible and be better at managing money.”

When speaking of academics, Thomas said it is easy to pick his favorite subject.

“I just fell in love with science,” he said. “I plan on attending LSU and studying biological engineering and work on building braces and prosthetics. I’ve always wanted to go into the medical field ... my freshman and sophomore year I wanted to be a surgeon.”

Thomas said although his science-related career goal has slightly changed, he was recently reminded that even in eighth grade he dreamed of working in a science field.

“We wrote a letter to ourselves in eighth grade,” Thomas said. “My original plan was to be an engineer ... we just got those letters back, so I guess I’m kind of going back to my original plan. My letter talked about my main priorities and what was important to me – like time with my family – and I really stuck to what it said. I was proud of that.”

Future vet spent summers volunteering at animal shelter

Elizabeth Hardy kept busy at Hahnville High School – she participated in volleyball, band, Beta Club, National Honor Society, Interact Club and the Superintendent’s Advisory Council.

“I loved them all for different reasons, but I devoted most of my time to volleyball,” the Boutte resident and HHS class of 2021 graduate said, adding her athletic endeavors taught her more than just sports skills.

“Volleyball probably taught me most ... I’m now 15 mins early to anything I show up to because of coach,” she said laughing. “I value discipline and accountability ... there were just a lot of life lessons that volleyball taught me. But school taught me how to properly communicate ... I used to be nervous to talk and ask for help, but I had to realize that those people are there to help me, so I learned how to approach adults.”

Hardy said she will greatly miss the people at HHS.

“What I’ll miss the most about high school is probably how I had a support system there,” she said. “I knew all the administrators and I knew a lot of teachers I was comfortable there. I wasn’t afraid to ask somebody a question. I just felt like I was supported.”

Hardy is poised to begin Southeastern Louisiana University in the fall where she will major in biological sciences. She plans to attend veterinarian school at LSU after college.

Twins were MVPs on tennis court, just as active off of it

Ryan Arena Editor
ryana@heraldguide.com

Whenever Sonny and Harry Ao stepped onto the doubles tennis court, the opposition was in for quite a battle.

After all, in a sport where trust and chemistry between teammates rule, who knows one another better than a pair of twin brothers?

Two standouts among a strong contingent of Hahnville players, the Aos wrapped up their prep careers on the court this season, helping spur the Tigers to their fourth consecutive district championship. For their part in those heroics, the brothers went unbeaten in district play this season in a return after the 2020 season was interrupted and then cancelled due to COVID-19.

That unbeaten district mark helped continue a trend, as the Aos were part of a senior class that never lost a district match and the two never lost a district game. As seniors, they were named District MVP for doubles.

“Once we got serious about it, we got on the court four or five times a week for two or three hours a day, then we got better and better.”

— Sonny Ao

“We started playing in the eighth grade,” said Sonny. “Once we got serious about it, we got on the court four or five times a week for two or three hours a day, then we got better and better.”

The chemistry between the two is real on the court. “Like any other sport, you have to know where each person is before you do anything ... just like in football, the quarterback has to know where his wide receivers are ... in tennis, you have to know where your opponent is to execute a shot, you have to know your teammates strengths and you have to play off of one another,” Harry said.

Sonny concurred. “When it’s someone you know so well, you can really just say, ‘OK, I know he’s getting that ball,’” Sonny said. “And vice versa. We kind of have that ... as twins, we just know each other. We’re not perfect, but when it comes to teamwork, I think we have that advantage because we’ve known each other our whole life.” They’re not completely leaving the sport behind, but the two will be shifting focus as they will both move on from Hahnville to attend LSU, where each will major in electrical engineering. That subject will absorb the bulk of their attention, though they noted they’ll be up for intramurals when the time comes.

Tennis was just one activity the twins involved themselves in during a busy four years at HHS. They were each a member of the Interact club for three years, student council members for four years and the Beta Club for three years. Harry was Beta Club treasurer as a senior and Interact’s media relations officer. Sonny was parliamentarian with Beta Club as a senior. Both graduated as Cum Laude.

They like to stay active in the community, and credited Interact with helping them do that during their

to live out track dreams

Monique Roth Editor
moniquer@heraldguide.com

Now that Alexandra Johnson’s time at Hahnville High School is over, she can reflect on what made it so special. “I had an amazing time at Hahnville,” she said. “They definitely allowed me to accomplish a lot - both academically and athletically. I feel like if I would have gone anywhere else I wouldn’t have had as much success. There was always someone there you could connect with – it was just like a family.” Johnson is a member of HHS’ 2021 graduating class. The Luling native finished summa cum laude and was voted Most Athletic by her class. She was also the 2020-2021 Homecoming Queen.

“I had an amazing time at Hahnville. They definitely allowed me to accomplish a lot - both academically and athletically.”
— Alexandra Johnson

Johnson participated in a number of athletic and extra-curricular endeavors at HHS. She ran both indoor and outdoor track, ran cross country in her senior year and was a member of the National Honor Society and Beta Club – where she served as president her senior year. She was also an athletic trainer, all while taking seven AP classes. In the fall Johnson will head – actually run – to the University of Louisiana at Lafayette to major in nursing and be a member of the track team there. “In the future I want to become a nurse who specializes in orthopedics and sports medicine,” she said. “It was always a goal to run in college, but it was kind of a setback when I didn’t have my junior season, but my senior season went better than expected.” Johnson missing her junior season of track due to the pandemic fueled her desire for success her senior year. She was the track district champion and state 800m runner-up. She placed third in the state 400m run.

“It’s very hard for me to sit still. Maybe not even that ... I just have to use my brain for something,” Treuting said. “My mind has to be in action.”

In some ways, she surprised even herself.

“It was a 180-degree switch, so that was a little shocking,” Treuting said. “I kind of blamed that bad habit (procrastination) for my not doing as well as I could have, but I think I always knew I could do better. It was a little surprising, but deep down I think I knew I was capable.”

The daughter of Frederick and Wendy Treuting and a Luling resident, Treuting is set to head to LSU where she will study biology.

Treuting was a member of the Beta Club, National Honors Society, Spanish Honors Society, Interact Club and the Thespian Society. She was involved in all Hahnville theatre department productions and earned Consecutive Honor Roll (freshman through junior year) and Principal’s List (senior year).

She aims at eventually becoming a pediatrician.

“Both of my parents work in the school system, and my grandparents did as well, so the idea of working with kids had been with me my entire life,” Treuting said. “But I love science. So, working as a pediatrician would be the best combination of the two.”

She also loves the stage. In all, Treuting was part of seven different HHS theatre productions, including “Peter and the Starcatcher,” “Big Fish,” “The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Nighttime,” “Bright Star,” “One Man, Two Governors,” “Matilda” and “Romeo and Juliet.”

Treuting has been on stage but much of the time, she’s been backstage pursuing one of her passions: costume design. For Romeo and Juliet, this year’s major theatre production, she designed the entire wardrobe for the production.

“I love costume design. It’s an amazing and often forgotten element of theatre, but it’s completely necessary,” she said. “It adds to the personality of the characters and the mood of the scenes. It’s so much fun to be part of.”

Outstanding Scholastic Achievement in each of her four years. She also earned the Advanced Math II, English III and AP Calculus awards.

Champagne is headed to LSU to study mechanical engineering, after beginning to refine her passion for it with HHS robotics.

“I’ve always loved designing and creating things,” she said. “I’ve always just known I’d go into engineering, but knowing which type was kind of up in the air. This year I was able to take the engineering design course at the Satellite Center, and after a semester of mechanical engineering, I knew what I wanted to do.”

Champagne was named captain with the robotics team, an accomplishment she takes pride in. She said the robotics team allowed her space to truly be herself while learning much from those around her – all while preparing her to tackle her future career.

“It’s really about more than learning electronics or mechanics. It taught me leadership, responsibility, and that wouldn’t have been the case otherwise,” she said.

Theatre is also a significant passion for her. Champagne has been involved with the talented theatre program since the third grade, and at Hahnville was involved both on and off stage, garnering significant experience in stage and production management. This year, she added a focus in scenic design.

“I’ve loved every minute of theatre,” Champagne said.

While at LSU, she also plans to minor in aerospace engineering, fueled by her longtime interest in space exploration.

“There’s so much out there left to be discovered ... I think we’ve barely scratched the surface,” Champagne said. “A few years ago, FRC season was based on deep space, so I started looking at aerospace companies and what they’ve been able to accomplish the past few years. I feel space exploration’s grown exponentially and I would be very interested in becoming a part of that.”

Congratulations to all 2021 graduates!

VET from 12A

Hardy’s real-life exposure to veterinary medicine started after she began volunteering at the St. Charles Parish Animal Shelter in 7th grade. For the past two summers she has been employed there.

“Dr. Troxler kind of took me under her wing and showed me some ins and outs of being a vet,” Hardy said of St. Charles Parish Animal Shelter Supervisor Dr. Jena Troxler.

Hardy said she would love to focus on shelter medicine once she becomes a vet, and that she is looking forward to starting college. Her goal is to become the first person in her family to finish college – that is if her mom Dani Hardy doesn’t beat her to it.

Dani attended college in the past, but life circumstances have kept her from completing her degree. This fall she will resume online classes to work towards her bachelors degree.

“We’ll be starting together,” Hardy said. “We’re filling out the FASA together it’s pretty cool. My mom is probably my main support system.”

career and served as captain of the team for two years. She also participated in talented theater, choir and musicals throughout her high school journey.

“Everything I was involved in was so positive,” she said. “There were lots of outlets for creativity at Hahnville.”

Harding attended St. Charles Parish Public Schools her entire life and has always been interested in the artistic offerings the district provides.

“I’ve been into the arts since elementary,” she said. “I danced in middle school and danced at Dance Unlimited for 10 years.”

Now a dance teacher at Broadway Open Stage Studio in Destrehan, Harding said the job helps her to be around the two things she loves most: dancing and children.

“It’s a way to keep up with dancing and share that love with kids,” she said of teaching.

And while the future certainly looks bright for Harding, she said she will never forgot how she’s found such success.

“My experience at Hahnville overall was a really positive one,” she said. “I had a lot of support from the people over there and from my family ... they always set me up for success.”

time at Hahnville.

“It was also a way to meet new friends,” Sonny said. “Destrehan also started an Interact club, so there was a mix of new people, more people in our district, and that helped us meet new friends.”

Both twins credited their uncle for inspiring them to go into electrical engineering, as the latter has made his career in the field.

“He’s been someone who’s been able to innovate creatively and build things,” Sonny said. “I’ve been really interested in becoming a software engineer, to program and make games, but the job field isn’t seeing many hiring. Things look better with electrical engineering than that field, so that helped guide the decision.”

Harry said he’s liked building things since he was very young, and has had his intentions wander between mechanical and electrical engineering before ultimately choosing the latter.

The two are happy to have one another for continued support as they take the step to college life.

“We’ll both be in the engineering dorm, and everyone there is studying for the same classes ... I think we’ll be able to help one another, and I think we’ll have plenty of support around us,” Harry said.

Added Sonny, “Engineering is one of the more difficult things to take on in college, so it’s definitely a plus (to be going together).”

TRACK from 16A

The lessons she learned at HHS, Johnson said, happened both in and out of the classroom.

“I definitely learned a lot of patience, and that you have to work hard to accomplish what you want,” she said of what she learned by participating in track. “There are times that it might seem like it’s not going your way, but you have to trust that you’re doing the best you can and that eventually you’ll get to where you want to be.”

Johnson said attending her father’s alma matter, and the fact that he ran track at ULL as well, is a special feeling.

“Everybody is excited,” she said laughing. “It’s fun.”

HHS, DHS show promise in spring

Teams get first spring work in two years

Ryan Arena Editor
ryana@heraldguide.com

Spring was in the air at Tiger Stadium in Boutte Saturday morning, and Hahnville celebrated the best way it knows how – with a strong performance.

“(Playing QB at Hahnville) has been my dream and it’s a great honor ... we have a lot of talent here. We just have to grind every day.”

— Hahnville QB Donovan Friloux

The Tigers outscored visiting South Lafourche three touchdowns to one in a 15-minute timed quarter during the spring game action between the two teams, while the Tigers also generated several explosive plays in the earlier action that involved several series of predetermined play count sets – for example, each first team would get 10 plays against the first team of the other side, then vice versa, then the second teams, and so on.

Junior Donovan Friloux impressed in his first action as Hahnville starting quarterback, accounting for two of the Tigers’ three touchdowns in the timed quarter, one on a run and one on a pass to Troy Kendrick, the team’s top returning target. He also found Kendrick for a 70-yard bomb during the play set portion, as well as on a 10-yard pass to Titus White for a score.

“This is something I’ve wanted since I was six-years-old,” Friloux said of being Hahnville’s quarterback. “It’s been my dream and it’s a great honor ... I think we’re a pretty good team. We have a lot of talent here. We just have to grind every day, show leadership, and we’ve got a shot to make a pretty good run in this.”

Hahnville is working through some significant personnel turnover from last season, particularly on offense. Kendrick is back, as is fellow 2020 starting wide receiver Dakota Williams, who did

Defensively, Cincere Simmons and Chris Scott return and anchor the squad up front. Simmons recorded a pair of sacks on the day, one in the timed quarter and another in the set play portion, both of which short-circuited South Lafourche drives. Both will be vital against the run and pass as the team moves back to a four-man front primarily on defense.

“Cincere and Chris, those are our guys returning on the line, the guys who have to take it upon themselves to find that second gear and third gear to make that big play when (the opposition) is moving,” Luquet said.

Hahnville began the timed quarter with a stop of South Lafourche, a three-and-out. The offense made it count and drove inside the 10 before Friloux took the ball in for a touchdown on a quarterback keeper, making it 7-0 with 9:17 left.

Friloux dialed up after forcing a fumble on a sack, recovered by Hahnville. The Tigers cashed in on Joseph’s touchdown run a short time later, putting things away. The Tarpons drove to score on the final play of the morning.

PASSING GAME SHINES IN DESTREHAN SCRIMMAGE: After several days of spring practice for the first time in two years, Destrehan capped off its spring at Wildcat Stadium Monday night with its Garnet and Gray spring game, an intrasquad scrimmage that saw plenty of highlights.

The first team offense and defense butted heads against one another, as did the second teams. Each side could earn points beyond crossing the goal line – for example, the defense would tally for sacks, tackles for loss and turnovers – though DHS coach Marcus Scott said at the night’s conclusion that score would be tallied after watching film, with the winning side to earn a special surprise reward this summer.

But there were plenty of explosive plays for fans to enjoy. Running back Shane Lee was a force, scoring twice on the night. One of the key developments DHS supporters no doubt noted, however, was what looked to be a far sharper passing offense than showed by a 2020 team that heavily rode its defense and rushing attack to the Class 5A state semifinals.

Quarterback Jai Eugene finished with three touchdown passes while splitting first team reps with Ross Rogan, who had a touchdown pass of his own. Leslie Jefferson proved among the most dangerous weapons on the field, hauling in touchdown passes of 60 and 20 yards from Eugene, the first a deep bomb down the right sideline and the second a strong catch of a jump ball in the endzone.

“Both sides of the ball, we’re going at it every day,” said Jefferson. “Somedays the defense does well, sometimes the offense comes out and catches them. It’s just a battle, day in and day out, because all of us have one goal and that’s to get back to the Dome.”

It concluded the first spring for second year Destrehan head coach Marcus Scott with the school, after COVID wiped out those practice dates a year ago.

“We got some quality reps on film to look at some things we’re going to spend summer correcting and getting better at,” Scott said. “I thought we ran the ball well and I thought both quarterbacks played well. We took care of the football, and I was really pleased with that.”

Lee, who shined splitting work as a freshman last season, earned the first touchdown run of

First ‘Fish Dat Rodeo’ set for Saturday

Ryan Arena Editor
ryana@heraldguide.com

Saturday marks the first annual St. Charles Parish “Fish Dat Rodeo,” where budding outdoorsmen – and maybe some outdoorsmen to be – can take to the water and land a haul.

The event sees the parish’s Parks and Recreation Department partner with Hahnville High fishing coach Bruce McDonald and his Tigers team in an effort to introduce local youths to fishing.

Registration is expected to wrap up Friday, and those interested in participating may register at scppark-sandrec.com. Cost is $5 for 12 years old and under and $10 for 13 years old and up. All parish residents and legal fishing licensed persons in the state are eligible (a license is required for anglers 16 and over). Weigh in times will be 1 p.m., 2 p.m. and 3 p.m. and competitors will be eligible to win prizes.

The event’s headquarters are at the Bonnet Carre Spillway Lower Guide Levee Boat Launch off of Hwy. 61, though all parish and area waters are eligible. The event will start from safe light and extend until weigh in times.

“Keeping with the mindset of the wonderful natural resources we have here in St. Charles Parish came the thought of ‘How do we introduce kids to fishing?’” said Parks and Recreation Director Duane Foret. “Not everyone has a boat or wherewithal to go fishing, but we selected a place you can actually bank fish in the spillway, introduce kids to the outdoors and maybe get them involved in a leisurely act and interest that could keep with them for life.”

Foret said the department likes to have offerings in conjunction with what is offered in the parish’s high schools, noting tennis as an example of a program begun 10 years ago in parks and recreation that’s not helping to pay dividends in prep competition.

“With the recent donation of property in Des Allemands from Chevron, we think we have endless opportunities to impact the community once that boat launch is developed and bring kids and adults more access to the natural resources, we have here in St. Charles Parish,” Foret said. “We want people to enjoy the outdoor activities we have here, because we have so much to offer in our area.”

He said support has been strong from community business and there are several door prizes to be had. There will be four categories: bass, trim, sac a lait and catfish, with first, second and third place in each earning prizes. There will be two fields, divided by age: ages 17 and under and ages 18 and over.

the night.

Eugene showed off his arm, and Jefferson his speed, on the night’s second touchdown, where Jefferson caught the ball in stride and raced for the endzone.

The two combined again a short time later, Eugene placing the ball high and Jefferson pulling down a high-point catch in the corner of the endzone.

“We practice the fade route a lot for that kind of moment, so when he told me it was coming, I took the outside release, looked back and caught it,” Jefferson said. “It was kind of natural for me just from the work we did in practice.”

In the extended redzone portion of the night, Rogan connected with Lee for the first touchdown of that set. DHS would score once more on a five-yard pass from Eugene to Daniel Blood, who made an impressive catch in the front corner of the endzone.

DHS will soon shift gears for summer work, which will include 7-on-7 league participation in June.

“We’re excited for that chance,” Scott said. “We’ll be able to get a lot of reps and build more confidence in our passing game.”

Prayers

Prayers

Today is the Day

Today is the day, our sins could all be rolled away. Tomorrow may never come for some of us, so don't put it off. Our Lord is calling us right now, don't wait for another time. Out time is running out, so please don't ever doubt. The Lord is calling us one by one, so let's prepare to go Home. No turning back, be sure to be on the right track. Our days are numbered here, but forever over there. So please go to the right place, but your sins should all be erased. No sins can enter there, for the place He has prepared. So keep the good fight of faith and run the winning race. See you in Heaven one day and there we will always stay. Amen.

The contract will be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder without discrimination on grounds of race, color, sex or national origin. Disadvantaged businesses will be afforded full opportunity to submit bids.

The award of a contract for projects financed either partially or entirely with State bonds will be contingent on approval by the State Bond Commission. On projects involving federal funds the award of contract will also be contingent upon concurrence by the appropriate federal agency. On projects involving state funds the award of contract will also be contingent upon concurrence by the appropriate state agency.

The successful Bidder will be required to furnish a Performance Bond guaranteeing faithful performance and a Labor and Materials Payment Bond guaranteeing the payment of all bills and obligations arising from the performance of the contract.
