Connor Cunningham

Valedictorian

Hahnville senior chosen as valedictorian, 3 years after his brother was salutatorian

During 2020 graduation ceremonies, Connor Cunningham’s older brother Cameron took a few steps up and stood at the podium to be recognized by his class as Hahnville High’s salutatorian for the Class of 2020. It was a notable achievement he’d worked hard for, and his younger brother Connor observed intently from the crowd.

Connor Cunningham took the same few steps up to the podium and addressed his own Hahnville High class of 2023 - only this time around, the younger Cunningham brother did so as his class’ valedictorian.

The younger Cunningham brother Connor polished off his Hahnville High School career with an impressive GPA of approximately 4.36. He did it all through a challenging four years of school, from the class days at home during COVID-19, and then the days of sharing a high school campus with another school following Hurricane Ida.

“It was a really rough four years,” Cunningham, now 18, said of his high school career. “But at the end of it, I was able to make the most out of my senior year; I think a lot of people were able to make this last senior year really memorable.”

To help him along on his college journey in the fall, Cunningham was able to bag college course credit while at

Kylie Dufrene

Salutatorian

Hahnville salutatorian has already completed most of college prerequisite courses

Not one for staying idle, 2023 Salutatorian Kylie Dufrene kept her calendar full while at Hahnville High – she was a varsity soccer player, member of Beta Club, National Honor Society, and active with Hahnville’s Thespian Society, a theater-focused group linked to her work with Talented Theater. Theater, Dufrene said, was one subject she thoroughly enjoyed throughout her time at Hahnville High.

“[Talented Theater] is just a place where you can cry, you can scream, you can laugh, you can be angry at the world and they’ll sit there and listen and help you through it,” Dufrene, 18, said. “I learned so much – we studied Shakespeare, plays...it’s a way for people who come from different worlds to connect in one place and be put on a stage together.”

Graduating with a GPA of approximately 4.27, Dufrene was recently awarded the Cypress Scholarship, which she will soon put to work as she begins her studies at the University of Louisiana at Lafayette this fall. The graduating senior has taken several Dual Enrollment classes including English, history, sociology and psychology classes at both Southeastern University and Nicholls State, allowing her to get a big jump on her college career later this year.

Hahnville grad’s love of children inspires her to pursue teaching

ryana@heraldguide.com

For Addie Saxton, graduation comes with mixed emotions. “I’m leaving high school and my childhood years behind,” Saxton mused. “I feel happy and sad at the same time.” Her walk across the stage to receive her Hahnville High diploma may close the book on her own childhood, but Saxton plans to enrich the lives of children for years to come. She is planning to attend Southeastern Louisiana University where she will major in early childhood education, with an eye on becoming a teacher in the near future. Saxton has known for quite some time that she wanted to lead her own classroom. She focused in on her goal of teaching young children, however, after her recent experience interning at Mimosa Park Elementary. There she worked with kindergartners, and found much joy in doing so. “It made me realize, ‘hey, I work really good with kids,’” Saxton said. “The experiences I’ve had made me pretty excited to pursue that.” At the school district’s Satellite Center, Saxton worked within a program called Educators Rising, a career and technical student organization with intra-curricular learning opportunities integrated into existing education and training programs. Saxton was part of the program for two semesters. “That really pushed me to make (teaching) a goal,” said Saxton. “It was all a really valuable experience ... it gave me an opportunity to build connections with people I might work with some day, and I learned so much.” Saxton is not originally from Louisiana – she lived in North Carolina for 12 years before her family moved six years ago. She arrived in St. Charles Parish near the end of her 8th grade year. “I feel like I found so many more opportunities in high school than I would have had (elsewhere),” Saxton said. “I’ve never seen a superintendent or a principal so involved in helping their students succeed. (Hahnville) made me so much more comfortable in a new home.” Saxton writes a weekly journal reflecting on her recent experiences, a practice she picked up at the Satellite Center, where it was part of her coursework. “I thought that was really cool and a smart thing to do,” she said. “Even now that I’m not in school, I still do it because I think reflecting on the things I’m doing in my life is so important.” It’s a natural progression for someone who has had a lifelong love of writing – Saxton said English is her best subject and would write her own books and stories growing up. She has also

HHS grad gravitates to leadership roles

Ryan Arena Editor
ryana@heraldguide.com

Many of Cooper Landeche’s accomplishments can be traced back to one simple question he asks himself: “Why not me?”

Landeche has often asserted himself as a leader, be it as a member of the Hahnville High School band or the many other groups he is a part of. He takes pride in it, and just as importantly, takes pride when he sees leadership manifest in others as well.

“It’s a matter of not asking, ‘Why me?’ but ‘Why not me?’” Landeche said. “Some people like the idea of being a leader, or want certain things to change, but they won’t step up and make it happen. Whether it’s at Hahnville or outside of it, I’ve always wanted to be a leader and able to impact people positively in a lot of ways. I want to bring that sense of leadership out of other people so they can go forward and do great things in our community. I pride myself on leadership,”

Landeche has been saxophone section leader for two years and as a senior he was selected as band president. Landeche was also selected as Beta Club president this year and was a member of National Honor Society Interact and Spanish Honor Society, as well as the soccer and tennis teams at different times during his tenure.

Landeche also serves as a leader in his church community as the lead organist every Sunday. During the summer, he participates in monthly Second Harvest Food Bank distribution.

Band has long played a central role in his life, one reason he plans to join the Pride of Southern Mississippi Marching Band when he arrives on Southern Miss’ campus. There, he will major in kinesiology and looks to apply to physical therapy school thereafter with an eye on becoming a physical therapist down the line.

The many hurdles this senior class has faced, including COVID-19 and Hurricane Ida, affected the students’ day to day experiences. The band was not exempt, and Landeche noted that the reduced practice time and chances to work together for band members led to an unavoidable decline – something this year’s band was

Whether on the court or in the classroom, Tiger grad shined bright

Kourtney Irons likes a challenge. She was once told that it could be difficult, if not impossible, for her to balance playing multiple sports while keeping her AP and honors grades up. Irons disagreed. The two-sport standout excelled both inside the classroom and out on the basketball and volleyball courts. Irons is graduating Magna Cum Laude with academic scholarship offers to Millsaps, Louisiana-Lafayette, Belhaven, Loyola, Xavier, University of South Alabama and the University of Alabama-Birmingham. She was a key member of Lady Tiger squads that earned district championships in both sports over her time with each program. Millsaps will be her next stop, where she'll continue her studies while playing for the Majors' basketball team. "It's kind of bittersweet because high school is a safe space, but I'm excited to get out into the real world and have some new experiences," Irons said. She was voted Most Athletic at prom by her fellow students. Irons was a member of Beta Club, National Honor Society and was the treasurer of the school's National Spanish Honor Society. She earned Presidential Scholarship honors and also earned the Don Raymond Scholarship, among her many academic accolades. Affectionately nicknamed "Woogie" by her family and friends, Irons kept a strong desire to succeed at everything she did at Hahnville – but she stressed academics came first. "That was my main focus,"

Grad proved to be a leader on the field and on the diamond

ryana@heraldguide.com

Sam Simoneaux was a hard-hitter during his time at Hahnville. At safety for the Tigers football squad, he hit opponents hard, just as he hit the ball hard on the baseball diamond. And when it came to the classroom, he brought that same effort and focus – and now he’s on his way to LSU where he’ll be majoring in computer engineering. A two-year starter in both of his athletic endeavors, he said things tend to fall into place when you’re part of a group playing for one another. “It’s a family,” Simoneaux said. “Your teammates, your coaches, everybody’s in it together. It’s something I’ll definitely keep great memories of forever.” One of Simoneaux’s big moments as a competitor came near the end of his senior year. He scored the game-winning run in the final inning of Hahnville’s 2-1 victory over rival Destrehan – Simoneaux and the Tigers swept the Wildcats in what was a strong bounce-back season for the baseball program. “Coming in with a new coach (Jared Vial, in his first season with the Tigers), we knew it would be different and it was just a matter of finding out what exactly was going to change,” Simoneaux said. “For us, we needed to buy in. All of us seniors buying into what coach said, trust in what he says ... if we do that, we have success, and once (the seniors) do that, the younger players in the program will do the same.” He took pride in his leadership role, be it verbally or simply by example. That process didn’t begin immediately once he broke into the starting lineup on the football field, however. “My first year starting, I kind of just followed the guys who had been there,” Simoneaux said. “Those guys who had experience, I just tried to learn from them. Once I did that, that next year I had the experience and I could teach our first-year starters.” What advice would he give those younger players? “Just be a hard-worker. Watch film, learn the coverages and know where you need to be,” Simoneaux said. “Just doing your job is enough – you don’t have to be the big playmaker every play. If everyone does their job consistently enough, you

A QUARTERLY UPDATE FROM ST. CHARLES PARISH PUBLIC SCHOOLS • MAY 2023

ATHLETICS,
& THE ARTS

A student’s academic progress is monitored through a variety of assessments and assignments; one of which is the end-of-year LEAP testing. These test results, in turn, contribute to performance scores and state-assigned letter grades for schools through Louisiana’s school accountability system.

SCHOOL PERFORMANCE SCORES: Schools receive an annual school performance score between 0 and 150. This score is determined by indexes which measure assessments, student progress, interests and opportunities, dropout credit accumulation, ACT/WorkKeys scores, strength of diploma, and cohort graduation rate.

All performance scores incorporate how students perform on standardized tests like LEAP (Assessment), how much students grew on the LEAP from one year to the next (Progress), and to what extent students are offered activities such as enrichment classes or extracurricular activities (Interests & Opportunities). Middle school performance scores also consider how many credits students have earned after they transition to high school (Dropout Credit Accumulation). For high schools, there is an added focus on graduation indicators such as ACT scores, how many students graduate within four years (Cohort Graduation Rate), and how many students graduate with college credit or industry credentials (Strength of Diploma).

SCHOOL LETTER GRADES: The state assigns a letter grade to each school that correlates with the school’s performance score, and the standard to attain specific letter grades continues to increase, resulting in a moving target for schools.

Letter Grade	School Performance Score Range
	2017-2018 through 2020-2021	2021-2022 through 2023-2024	2024-2025

DEVELOPMENTS & DIRECTION

St. Charles Parish Public Schools hosted its annual District Job Fair on Friday, April 28. Although the nation and state are both currently experiencing a critical shortage of teachers, all interview slots were filled with 132 candidates participating. The positive response of candidates can be attributed to marketing efforts such as a recruiting video viewed by more than 20,000 people in the target audience and billboards strategically placed to entice teachers from other school systems to apply with SCPPS.

The Human Resources Department recognizes the importance of developing a pipeline of future teachers. SCPPS collaborates annually with local universities to mentor and train future teachers through a residency, a yearlong program similar to the previous student teaching semester. During the 2022-2023 school year, 25 SCPPS teachers mentored and supported these university students/resident teachers. Working in partnership, the Human Resources and Special Education Departments offer SCPPS para-educators the opportunity to attain a teaching license through Reach University. Twenty-two employees are currently participating in the program and will receive their certification in elementary and special education through this four-year-program.

THE BULLETIN BOARD

SALARY STUDY: The St. Charles Parish School Board has hired Gallagher’s Human Resources & Compensation Consulting to perform a study of our compensation structure and provide recommendations to ensure salaries remain competitive and equitable. While this salary study is not a strategy to reduce or increase pay or identify staffing needs, its purpose is to provide recommendations related to salary structure, movement in pay ranges, and related compensation approaches to improve overall payroll administration.

PROPERTY INSURANCE: The St. Charles Parish School Board carries $100 million of property insurance coverage, $75 million of wind coverage, a total insurable value of $413 million in building and contents coverage, and a 5% named storm deductible. While most companies utilize only one carrier, SCPPS utilizes 24 different carriers through business partners AmWins and BRK/Riverlands Insurance.

The 2022 storm season heightened the trend of carrier capacity limitations and rate increases. Being leery of unexpected higher losses on existing coverages, underwriters are being more conservative in renewal pricing, and remaining carriers in the market are predicted to increase premiums due to a high demand with restricted supply.

SCHOOL SAFETY AUDIT: Safe Havens International, Inc. provided the findings of its school safety and security assessment to the school board in April. SCPPS contracted with Safe Havens to conduct an on-site assessment of all district sites, an on-site strategic-level interview, and an off-site review of the district’s emergency management plans and safety and security policies. Findings were incorporated into a detailed, written strategic-level report which summarizes key findings and recommendations for consideration.

CONFERENCE WITH THE SUPERINTENDENT

The latest “reform” effort disguised as school choice is the creation of Educational Savings Accounts (ESA) - an initiative that may rob our state’s public education systems of money needed to educate every child they serve. As written, these programs propose to send public funds to nonpublic schools and vendors without holding them accountable for results.

These programs could potentially limit access for economically disadvantaged families. Under most proposals, the cost allocated would be insufficient to completely fund education for a full academic year. This deficiency will likely result in limiting access to only those who can afford to supplement the remaining uncovered costs. Additionally, these options do not require transportation for students, further limiting access to only those families who can provide transportation to/from the nonpublic school or organization.

Furthermore, these programs could limit access for students with special needs. Under most proposals, the additional costs allocated for special education services are not provided, and nonpublic schools or organizations receiving these funds are not required to accept every student or provide services specific to meeting students’ special needs. Therefore, families of students with disabilities, English-language deficiencies, or other special needs may be denied admittance to sites benefitting from these funds.

As a valued stakeholder and supporter of St. Charles Parish Public Schools, I encourage you to stay informed about proposed legislation that may directly or indirectly impact our school system. The current “failing” schools narrative sells a lot of people on privatized alternatives such as ESAs and vouchers. However, this narrative is not factual and only serves to market a product. Our product is tangible and is evident in every student who walks across the stage in May. Let’s all do our part to keep it that way because together, You and I...We Are St. Charles Parish Public Schools!

HHS grad’s initiative leads him on path toward engineering

Ryan Arena Editor
ryana@heraldguide.com

Dominic Stipe remembers the feeling when he flipped the on switch to the computer he’d just finished building.

“When I first booted that PC up, it felt like Heaven. I felt like I’d accomplished the world,” Stipe said.

He was only a freshman at the time, but it set him upon the path that will see him arrive at the University of Louisiana-Lafayette this fall with an eye on earning an electrical engineering degree, with a concentration on computer engineering.

“(Building the computer) sparked something in me,” Stipe said. “I found something I really loved doing, and that interest kept growing and growing as I kept messing with more and more computers as my high school career went on. It took my mind off of stress and all of the things life was throwing at me at the time. I realized I can go to school for something that I love doing.”

Stipe, who has earned a full ride on scholarship to ULL, simply took up the hobby as a new experience.

“I am always about trying new things. I was looking at it and thought it didn’t look too hard, so let me take it up and see what happens,” Stipe said.

He was a well-rounded student at Hahnville, with strong grades and a healthy slate of extracurricular activities to his credit. He was a member of the National Honor Society, Beta Club, Spanish National Honor Society, Art Honor Society and Student Council while maintaining his studies and working a job after school.

Stipe said he was able to handle all of it as a senior because he was especially driven during his final year – the first, he notes, that he and his fellow seniors were able to enjoy the full high-school experience.

“You arrive as a freshman, and it’s an adjustment from middle school,” Stipe said. “You adjust – but then COVID happens. In 10th grade, we go to school every other day, and you’re working classes from home – and that’s a completely different experience. You have to do a lot more on your own. Sometimes it was difficult to Society, and for three years a Hahnville High Robotics Team member. As a snare drum player, Cunningham said he found a home with Hahnville High’s band. “Being part of the band – it was like a family,” Cunningham said of his days in band. “Everyone always helped each other. Just being a part of that, making so many friends and connections and being able to play music with those people was incredible.” After all of his hard work and achievements, the summer of 2023 will be a summer of fun for Cunningham, who plans to relax and spend time with friends before leaving for college in the fall. “I plan on going on a few vacations with my family, hanging out with friends,” Cunningham said. “Just really making the most of my time before I go to college.” College for Cunningham will be almost 300 miles away at the University of Louisiana at Monroe, where he will major in pre-radiologic technology, which he says involves the study of CT scan equipment, X-rays and related medical imaging technology. Cunningham says his secret weapon, the tool he relied on most to help him soar and be named his class’s valedictorian was something as simple as the encouragement his parents and teachers gave him along the way. “I think the way my parents had always encouraged me to do my best at school, throughout my entire life, had always driven me to strive for excellence,” Cunningham said. “I feel like that really gave me a good work ethic and helped me push through a lot of times where I might have been discouraged or might not have been feeling up to the task.” Cunningham had his own words of encouragement for the freshmen class set to arrive at high school later this year. “I would tell them to put themselves out there, because you only get one high school experience,” he said. “So make the most of it.”

She loves the idea of making a career out of traveling to new destinations for medical work, being a leader managing hospital staff, and serving others all at the same time. She’ll finish out her senior year summer working as a local lifeguard, before heading west on Highway 90 to Lafayette for college this August. Dufrene’s parting advice for incoming freshmen was also her own personal philosophy when facing challenges in school. “You might fail – and it’s OK to fail – but remember to always pick yourself back up and keep going; keep fighting for the education you deserve,” she advised. When asked what she would like to be remembered for at Hahnville High, Dufrene paused for a beat, and knew exactly how to answer, emphasizing the hard work she put in academically to achieve salutatorian status. “I think I want to be remembered for being a student athlete,” Dufrene said, reflecting on her days at Hahnville High. “I played varsity [soccer] all four years, and I still managed to have all A’s...Being in a sport – that’s time consuming; you’re exhausted [after practices and games], and it’s hard to want to do your school work afterwards,” Dufrene explained. After years of juggling school work with a full slate of after-school activities, Dufrene says she is proud to have her parents Erik and Angie Dufrene witness her hard work pay off, graduating as Hahnville High’s 2023 salutatorian. “I knew I could do it,” Dufrene said. “I was very determined and hard-working; I made sure I understood everything going on in class, and made sure I had my teachers’ help whenever I needed it.”

TEACHER from 10A

volunteered her time for good causes – after Hurricane Ida, she worked with her church collecting items of need for those affected by the storm.

Saxton was part of the school’s choir – she loves to sing - and ROTC. And Saxton has a few unique hobbies as well – she skateboards and roller skates, and has a job at a skate shop that gives her an outlet to enjoy them while making some extra money.

One of her proudest honors was being named Educators Rising Student of the Year.

As she works to be an educator herself, she offers much appreciation to those who have guided her over the past several years.

“I think (teachers and school staff) have always tried their best and worked hard to help make us better versions of ourselves for the future,” she said.

LEADER from 12A

driven to course correct.

“The program went through so much – I think any band that went through the pandemic and hurricane had their difficulties,” Landeche said. “With COVID, we hardly ever met that year ... then with Ida, we were performing our show during the summer, then the storm hit and really derailed us on that.

“I feel like we were really able to bring it back to life this year and set it back on a good track for the future. There was tremendous leaderships from both the students and the band directors, who I can’t say enough about the hours and work they put in. I feel really proud of what we were able to do and I’m looking forward to seeing what the band is able to do over the next few years.”

Service is also something he believes greatly in. As Beta Club president, he helped coordinate service projects in the school to allow students to get involved, earn service hours and perhaps be inspired to continue on with volunteerism.

SHINED BRIGHT from 13A

she said. “I found a way to balance things by scheduling out times, what to study and when ... some classes were easier for me, some tougher, and I just prioritized whatever I thought I needed to at a particular time.”

It certainly would have been easy for her to take her eye off the ball.

After Hurricane Ida hit at the beginning of her junior year, Irons, her five siblings and her mother and father were living in a hotel and then a camper for nine months as their home was badly damaged.

Staying focused was difficult, Irons admitted, but at the same time there was a special, unique joy that came with re-joining her volleyball teammates once school events began again.

“Just being able to get away from all of it and not think about Ida, just be out there with your friends, it was like an escape,” Irons said.

Irons said she’s not yet sure what she plans to major in, but has a good idea of the direction she would like to take. She hopes to one day be an athletic director or a coach and is weighing potential academic paths toward that goal.

Irons credited Hahnville athletic director and volleyball coach Mendi LeBoeuf as an inspiration.

“Coach LeBoeuf taught us so many life lessons we can use outside of volleyball ... about setting goals, and how progress comes in small increments, not overnight,” Irons said.

On the basketball court, Irons was known for her 3-point shooting accuracy.

“My parents were my coaches when I was younger and they always pushed me to be the best I could be,” she said. “I didn’t realize I was going to be a good shooter until around 8th grade. Before that, it wasn’t really needed, but once I started playing summer ball and AAU I really worked on it and started getting better at it.”

LEADER ON FIELD from 14A

can have a pretty successful team.”

Simoneaux was part of the Beta Club, National Honor Society and Spanish National Honor Society.

He was a strong student, and he said the ability to successfully balance his studies with his extracurricular activities was critical for him at HHS.

“I did really well in school, and a lot of that came down to learning time-management skills,” he said. “Staying organized with my school work and knowing if I have things to do and I have a game the next day, I’d better do this now and not later.”

A lot of that came down to his own comfort – Simoneaux doesn’t like to leave unfinished business.

“I’ve always kind of been like that. I don’t like to be overwhelmed with things so I like to stay on top of everything,” he said.

That will no doubt help him greatly when he arrives at LSU.

ENGINEER from 16A

grasp what we were learning like that.

“Then in junior year, I crammed all my AP courses and it’s another natural disaster, and we’re two plus months out of school ... you never got fully comfortable.”

It wasn’t what he nor any of his classmates could have hoped for, which made him all the more determined to make his 2022-23 school year one to remember.

“I think there was a point I lost focus, but once it was my senior year, it was completely rekindled. My head was screwed on the right way. I’m not letting this year go by like I did in the 10th and 11th grade. It’s time to focus up, and that led me to where I am now.”

His ability to refocus himself paid off in a big way as he earned his way to scholarship offers and new opportunities.

Stipe also credited his mother and father for helping spur him down his productive path.

“They kept me pushing. They kept reinforcing the idea that if I wanted to broaden my horizons and expand my future, college is one of the best ways to do it. And they also made sure I understood that if I’m not going for free, they aren’t paying for it – I had to take the initiative. And I’m going to college for free now.

“They’ve been so involved in my life. They wanted to see a better future for me and they’ve helped me so much to get to where I am now.”

10 parish athletes headed to college ranks after signing

Destrehan, Hahnville combined for more than 30 signees over two signing days

Samantha Todaro

Ryan Arena Editor
ryana@heraldguide.com

It was a joyous morning at Hahnville Tuesday as seven Tiger student-athletes put pen to paper, sign their letters of intent to continue their athletic and academic careers at the college level.

It came just a week after three athletes likewise made it official at Destrehan with their own signings, making it 10 additional athletes making the leap to the college level from St. Charles Parish after one of the largest signing days in the parish's history in February.

Hahnville's Donovan Friloux and Romell Hardy will remain football teammates as they join the Millsaps Majors

later this year. They won't be the only Tigers making that trip to Mississippi soon: Cameron Lumar and Kourtney Irons signed with Millsaps boys and girls basketball, respectively. Allen Dugas is headed to Louisiana Christian to continue his soccer career. Samantha Todaro signed with Northwestern State for cross country and track, and Taylor Harding is headed to Louisiana-Monroe for cheerleading.

At Destrehan, Jai Thomas heads to continue his basketball career at Waubensee Community College. John with terrible luck – his knee injury in Hahnville's preseason jamboree against Jesuit ended the quarterback's season and threatened to compromise his recruiting prospects.

"This is a dream come true. I had a lot of doubts (after his knee injury) and didn't know if I could do it ... but had so many people around me that said 'Yes, you can.'"

SIGNING DAY from 1B

Instead, Friloux rehabbed his injury quickly and was back in athletic competition faster than expected – he returned for baseball season, and in his first outing on the mound he struck out five over two scoreless innings.

“This is a dream come true,” Friloux said. “I had a lot of doubts to be honest (after the injury). I didn’t know if I could do it or not, but you have so many people around you who let you know that yes, you can.”

He said it was important for him to be there for his team on the sideline during football season, even if he couldn’t suit up on gameday.

“In my senior year, I feel like I left a footprint here of being a team player,” he said. “And in college, I want to go there and leave my footprint in the same way.”

Going with Hardy, one of the Tigers’ top wide receivers, is a bonus.

“I wish I could have them all with me,” Friloux said. “It’s awesome to have Romell, someone you’ve put so much work in with and connect with on that next level.”

Hardy echoed that thought.

“We for sure wanted to keep that chemistry going,” Hardy said.

Beyond being a reliable target for the Hahnville offense in the passing game, Hardy did a lot of underappreciated things on the field that did not go unnoticed by Millsaps.

“It’s a blessing for this opportunity, coming from where I come from and being often overlooked ... finally being able to say I’m headed to the college level, it’s a big accomplishment. Millsaps was the first team to really give me that shot and my visit there felt like home.”

Lumar was Hahnville’s

a big night in leading HHS to round two.

“I thank Coach (Yussef) Jasmine for really trusting me. That was the first playoff win with me as a leader,” Lumar said.

Over two signing days in February and now May, St. Charles Parish has seen a combined 35 athletes sign to play at the next level.

Destrehan signees then included wide receiver Daniel Blood (Missouri),linebacker Rayquan Ducre (Centenary), defensive back Lynard Harris (Louisiana-Monroe), offensive lineman Christian Martin (Colorado State), defensive lineman Amare Johnson (Pearl River Community College), offensive line-defensive back Jacobi Green (East Central Community College). Joining them were soccer’s Elissa Viquez (Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College) and swimming’s Payton Jones (Millsaps College).

At Hahnville, joining Smith among Tiger football signees were defensive lineman Cincere Simmons (Southwest Arkansas), defensive back Alavan Sam (Arkansas Tech) and wide receiver Dakota Williams (Louisiana Tech). Fellow Tiger athletes to sign were softball’s Karli Bourg (Baton Rouge Community College), soccer’s Kayla Martin (Southwest Mississippi Community College), volleyball’s Sandy Bourgeois leading scorer and go-to player in the clutch. He’ll now follow in the footsteps of father Brian, a star collegiate player at Loyola University in New Orleans, as Lumar heads to Millsaps.

“I’ve been working toward this since I was five years old,” Lumar said. “All of that hard work is paying off. I have to thank my people, my parents, who dedicated so much time to me.”

He pointed to the Tigers’ playoff win over Hammond this year as one that will stick with him forever – Lumar had man Alexander Hamilton (Centenary), wide receiver Leslie Jefferson (Southwest Mississippi Community College), defensive back Travon Thomas (East Central Community College), running back Christian Nunnery (Troy) and (Millsaps) soccer’s Dylan Patterson (Blue Mountain) and baseball’s Aidan Machado (Baton Rouge Community College) and Kason Alexander (Loyola-New Orleans).

Scott earns jacket from Saints for Coach of the Year

Destrehan coach was named state’s prep coach of year by NFL squad, honored at Manning’s

Ryan Arena Editor
ryana@heraldguide.com

After earning the New Orleans Saints High School Coach of the Year honor, Marcus Scott recieved the first ever Coach of the Year letterman jacket to commemorate the award at a recent celebratory event at Manning’s Restaurant in New Orleans.

Scott was presented the jacket by the Saints’ youth football development manager Austin Pasco.

Each NFL team named a High School Coach of the Year for its state, with Scott earning the nod from the Saints following a prep season that saw the Destrehan head football coach lead the Wildcats to a perfect 14-0 record and the Division I non-select state championship.

The coaches were judged based on character, integrity, leadership, dedication to the community, commitment to player health and safety and on-field success. After his team’s 17-10 victory over Ruston in the state championship game, Scott will forever be among the special elite who have led their team to a state championship victory. He had a very tough act to follow three years ago, when he succeeded Stephen Robicheaux as the leader of the Wildcats’ program, but the Jesuit and McNeese State alum has been more than up to the challenge: he’s lost just one time in the regular season – his very first game as DHS coach, against St. Paul’s - and is now 10-2 in the post-season with Destrehan, with two semi-final finishes to go along with this state championship.

In 2022, Scott and his staff molded a talented group of players into a dominating force. Destrehan outscored each of its 10 regular season opponents by at least 36 points and scored 41 points or more in every game – while allowing just 41 combined points by opponents over the entirety of the regular season. “Our district administration and our school administration entrusted me to do this job,” Scott said after the championship win. “The great coaches who walked the sideline at Destrehan before me, the Chipper Simons and Steve Robicheauxs of the world, they entrusted me to lead the program in the right direction. My objective is to maintain the tradition and to maintain the pride and level of excellence they laid the foundation for. “In this day and age, everything is centered around instant gratification. So many times, it’s easy to give up or change course if you don’t see results right off. This is a true testament that hard work still pays off and that there’s no easy way to the top. If you work hard, you know how to treat people and you don’t quit, you always have a chance in life.”

Lakewood Drive Reconstruction Project Scheduled to Begin May 20

Kahlil Turner Lifestyles Editor
kturner@heraldguide.com

Parish officials met with residents Tuesday evening at the Lakewood Elementary Gym to discuss an upcoming major road construction and drainage project on Lakewood Drive, scheduled to begin May 20.

Officials from multiple parish departments and branches of local government, along with engineers and road construction contractors, were on hand to share information and answer resident questions as the parish prepares to kick off the project.

Roughly 80 parish residents were in attendance, with the bulk of the meeting presented by Parish President Matthew Jewell and a representative from Byron E. Talbot Construction, the road construction contractor hired by the parish.

“Lakewood was originally dedicated around the 1970s,” Jewell said at the opening of the meeting. “If you’ve headed down Lakewood Drive in the last five or 10 years, you’ve noticed that it’s in pretty poor condition; it’s fairly bumpy, and has drainage issues.”

Lakewood Drive’s condition has deteriorated over the years, evident by recent work Jewell said the parish performed cleaning out the Lakewood Drive drainage system.

“Just recently, last year, we actually removed 60 tons of debris from the culverts; a lot of the debris was actually road base leaking into the culverts,” Jewell said, further evidence Lakewood Drive was past due for reconstruction work.

Eager to address the longstanding issues residents have faced with Lakewood Drive, St. Charles Parish arranged the upcoming construction project as a complete overhaul for the majority of Lakewood Drive, with the primary goals of addressing road conditions and drainage problems.

The $6 million project is expected to take approximately nine months to complete and will be segmented into five phases. The first phase of the project will start around May 20, beginning at the intersection of West Heather Drive and Lakewood, working northward.

“East Heather traffic will not be able to access West Heather through the intersection until this phase is completed,” St.

RECONSTRUCTION from 4B

Charles Parish presentation materials disclosed at the Tuesday meeting.

The project will continue advancing north, finally completing at Highway 90. According to the parish officials, the project is being funded using a combination of 80 percent state funding, and 20 percent parish funding.

Added improvements have been included in the project to improve traffic flow, including a dedicated right-hand turning lane at the corner of Lakewood Drive and Highway 90.

Lakewood Drive is one of the most heavily traveled residential streets in Luling and serves as a main access artery for several residential subdivisions. Numerous Luling households and a small number of businesses and churches are anticipated to be affected by the project. Increased traffic congestion along Lakewood Drive is expected, as the street will be restricted to one lane, with the two key Lakewood Drive intersections also heavily affected. Officials at the meeting recommended avoiding Lakewood Drive whenever possible while the project is underway to help ease traffic congestion. Parish officials recommended alternative routes such as Willowdale Boulevard or Oak Street, since both have traffic light controls off Highway 90, when seeking to access the areas south of West Heather Drive to further help with congestion during the nine-months-long project.

Contractors at the meeting said the project will require some residents with driveways along Lakewood Drive to be temporarily inconvenienced with temporary rock entranceway access to their homes while the existing roadway is stripped down and replaced. Parish officials also mentioned accommodations for trash and mail collection have been pre-arranged for affected Lakewood Drive residents to help avoid service interruptions.

For more information regarding the Lakewood Drive construction project, including detour routes, residents can visit www.stcharlesparish.gov/lakewooddrive.

Prayers

Through It All

Through it all, through it all, I learned to trust in Jesus, I learned to trust in God & I know He will answer my prayer again this time, as He sees fit in His own time.
Lord, give me the courage to keep on keeping on with your Mercy & great love.
You are my shelter in time of storms.
You are my anchor that holds fast, you have never failed me yet & you never will. Anything is in your control, all we can do is ask & wait for our answer. This is my prayer to you my Dear Heavenly Father, that Your will be done which can help me & others, in the name of Jesus I pray!
Amen & Amen

RESOLUTION NO. 6695

A resolution requesting that St. Charles Parish join in the litigation along with the Louisiana Attorney General against the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) to challenge the National Flood Insurance Program's (NFIP) Risk Rating 2.0.

WHEREAS, the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) "is updating the National Flood Insurance Program's risk rating methodology through the implementation of a new pricing methodology," titled "Risk Rating 2.0: Equity in Action"; and,

WHEREAS, FEMA states that Risk Rating 2.0's "methodology leverages industry best practices and cutting-edge technology to enable FEMA to deliver rates that are actually sound, equitable, easier to understand and better reflect a property's flood risk"; and,

WHEREAS, the Association of Levee Boards of Louisiana, members of both the Louisiana legislature and the federal legislature, members of state government, numerous Parish Presidents and their Councils, and many other entities in Louisiana and around the nation have grave concerns about the soundness of Risk Rating 2.0's underlying methodology, its failure to properly take into account any of the numerous improvements Louisiana's Levee Boards have made to the flood protection systems, and its catastrophic effect on Louisiana's flood insurance rates and the ability of Louisiana's homeowners to purchase flood insurance; and,

WHEREAS, many of those entities have repeatedly raised their concerns to FEMA, have asked FEMA for documentation showing FEMA's underlying methodology, and have been passed from one federal office to the next without receiving any meaningful answers to their questions or documents showing FEMA's underlying methodology; and,

WHEREAS, FEMA has denied and continues to deny the efforts of those who are trying to protect their interests, the interests of their members, the interests of many Louisiana industries, and the interests of Louisiana citizens, making what is supposed to be "Equity in Action" an inequitable program across the entire State of Louisiana.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED THAT THE ST. CHARLES PARISH COUNCIL, hereby that St. Charles Parish join in the litigation along with the Louisiana Attorney General against the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) to challenge the National Flood Insurance Program's (NFIP) Risk Rating 2.0.
