Memory of beloved pet inspires woman's animal shelter drive

Tabatha Guasp's faithful dog Dexter was always by her side to ease her during some of the most difficult times of her life. That made his tragic loss last year all the more difficult to overcome, and Guasp admits it still takes an emotional toll.

Recently, she made the decision to channel those emotions into creating something good.

In Dexter's memory, Guasp has begun a donation drive for the St. Charles Parish Animal Shelter, collecting various items and monetary donations to assist the shelter as it cares for so many animals.

St. Charles Parish residents urged to guard against check fraud

Kahlil Turner Editor

The St. Charles Parish Sheriff’s Office (SCPSO) has in recent public announcements reported seeing a steady stream of local check fraud incidents occurring within St. Charles Parish. The crime often involves thieves taking outgoing mail from St. Charles Parish residents’ mailboxes in search of checks that can be altered and cashed.

“Thieves use chemicals to remove ink from checks, change the payee name and dollar amount, and then cash the altered checks,” Sgt. Bradley Walsh, 26-year Criminal Investigation veteran of the SCPSO, said of the all too common scam. “When altering the checks, they write them in other people’s names and get that person to cash the check and give them a cut of the funds.”

A typical example of this type of crime, Walsh explained, would be as follows: a thief steals a check, “washes” it to remove some of the original information, writes it out for $1,000, keeping $700 for themselves and giving $300 to the individual that cashes the altered check for them.

Sheriff’s Office releases statement concerning allegations against Luling priest

A statement released by the St. Charles Sheriff’s Office Friday addressed allegations of abuse concerning a former Luling priest. Based on the information it received, it did not believe the matter was criminal in nature.

According to the Sheriff’s Office, the Sheriff’s Office, they were contacted Wednesday (Dec. 6) by a representative of the Archdiocese of New Orleans, who informed a claim in the Archdiocese bankruptcy case had been filed by the attorney of an unnamed 54-year-old female alleging that she was a victim of inappropriate sexual abuse by Father Anthony Odiong in different locations around the country. The woman claimed one of those incidents took place in St. Charles Parish.

Police contacted the woman’s attorney in order to begin an investigation. The attorney said that the woman did not wish to have law enforcement involved and that the client was not willing to come forward and provide a statement at the time.

Later Wednesday, a member of the press contacted the Sheriff’s Office to inform he had been advised by that attorney that the client had allegedly spoken to a detective with the St. Charles Parish Sheriff’s Office four years ago about the allegations.

After checking with its investigative bureau, the Sheriff’s Office said it determined that a detective did field phone calls some years ago from a woman residing in another state in which she alleged that she had a sexual relationship with Odiong in multiple states including one encounter in St. Charles Parish.

The Sheriff’s Office said that at the time, the events she described to the detective, if true, would appear to be consensual.

Police added at least one subsequent phone conversation occurred between the detective and the woman wherein it again appeared that her description of the alleged sexual encounter in St. Charles Parish, if it in fact occurred, did not constitute a criminal act and she was informed so by the detective at that time. There was no further communication between her and anyone with the St. Charles Parish Sheriff’s Office, according to the statement.

Odiong was accused of sexual and financial abuse over a period stretching from 2007 to 2018 by the woman in the bankruptcy case filing, according to a report by Ramon Antonio Vargas of The Guardian newspaper, and the woman believed the Archdiocese had ignored previous attempts by her to report his alleged actions.

The priest was recently removed from his position with St. Anthony of Padua Church by the Archdiocese of New Orleans.

He was to continue his work in Luling until January, but his dismissal was perhaps accelerated following a Nov. 26 mass in which he made disparaging remarks about LGBTQ+ people, a mass that was live-streamed. According to The Guardian, the archdiocese’s statement did not deny that it found Odiong’s remarks to be problematic and it suggested that the comments may have expedited his departure.

“The church is dividing already,” Odiong said during that homily, which can be viewed on YouTube. “Now the gays have taken over the church. The LGBTQY, whatever you call them, have a stranglehold on the church now. We’re going to begin to bless all kinds of monkeys and animals and chimpanzees, and priests who will not do it will be persecuted.”

Following Odiong’s dismissal, Father Vinh Luu was named the temporary administrator at St. Anthony of Padua.

Odiong arrived at St. Anthony of Padua in 2016.

It was at the age of 25 that Odiong was ordained in 1993. He served in Nigeria for over a decade before moving to Austin, Texas, in 2006 on Archbishop Gregory Aymond’s invitation. He was assigned associate pastor at St. Mary’s of the Assumption in the city of West, Texas.

Two years later, he was appointed director of campus ministry at St. Peter’s Catholic Student Center at Baylor University in Waco, Texas.

St. Charles Parish women blaze a trail in firefighting

Kahlil Turner Editor
kturner@heraldguide.com

St. Charles Parish is now host to numerous female volunteer firefighters serving all over the parish, who are shattering stereotypes as they help stamp out fires and save lives - all for the good of the community.

Luling's Paigh Hills is one such local woman, who was able to turn her initial interest in volunteer firefighting work at the Luling Volunteer Fire Department into a full-time career.

Hills, 27, fist began volunteering in Luling as a local firefighter around six years ago. She liked the work so much that she would eventually become a full-time firefighter for the New Orleans Fire Department. She continues to work as a volunteer firefighter in Luling when off from her full-time firefighting gig in New Orleans.

"I transitioned into working [at the New Orleans Fire Department] as a career firefighter in 2018," Hills said.

The firefighting profession, Hills explained, is surprisingly well-staffed with women who perform much of the day-to-day administrative work necessary to keep a typical fire station open and running. The firefighting role in most fire departments, she admitted, is still largely a male-dominated position - but it's one she is proving doesn't have to be.

"I've gotten nothing but positive comments [after arriving on a scene]," Hills said of her firefighting job. "A lot of people love to see [women in the firefighting role]; They'll say things like 'oh, we didn't know there were women firefighters' - that's such a good thing to see."

Hills believes sometimes women may shy away from becoming a firefighter due to the perceived physical demands of the work. Women, though, should not let those notions stop them from trying firefighting work out, she commented.

"It's not only a man's job - it's something a typical female can overcome," Hills said, speaking from her experiences with firefighting work. "It's not that much of a physical demand."

Paradis resident Hannah Rawls, a 12-year female volunteer firefighter with the Paradis Volunteer Fire Department, agrees with Hills' assessment. Women may sometimes have self-limiting beliefs surrounding the physical requirements of firefighting work, but Rawls said this can easily be squashed once they experience firefighting for themselves.

"Yes, it takes a little work...but when you repetitively train for it and you're doing [the work] - you realize you can do it," Rawls said. "I think these days it's becoming more commonplace [to find women as firefighters]."

Firefighting is a shared passion for Rawls, 35, and her family. She is a third-generation volunteer firefighter; her grandfather was one of the Paradis Volunteer Fire Department's founding members, later joined by her father. Rawls even married a firefighter - her husband is also a volunteer firefighter in Paradis, as well as a professional firefighter in Terrytown.

"Women in general have this innate ability to calm in high stress situations, even when they are highly stressed [themselves] - and that is more powerful than they may think," Rawls said.

TOY DRIVE from 1A

Jeanne Arabie, who along with a team of volunteers organize the event each year, said putting the annual program on becomes worth every ounce of effort as soon as St. Charles Parish children begin to arrive.

"Seeing all the children walk in, and their faces and eyes light up when they see Santa and toys brings a smile to the volunteers' faces," Arabie said.

For the third consecutive year, the event is open to all residents due to significant charitable contributions from Toys for Tots, Valero, the Times-Picayune Doll & Toy Fund, United Way of St. Charles and the Rotary Club of St. Charles Parish.

"We are expecting to give away over 5,000 toys this year," Arabie said of the upcoming event. "We are hoping to beat the record of last year of 1,700 children."

The St. Charles Parish Toy and Gift Event dates to the 1970s, originally beginning with a simple list supplied from local area churches of children in need. With the focused help of local volunteers, the event eventually grew in scope and size.

"This event turned into a remarkable day with Santa, where local middle schools and the RSVP helped make a great intergenerational activity at two middle schools," Arabie said.

The St. Charles Parish Toy and Gift Event has grown into an annual event where an RSVP committee is formed each year in order to better manage it, drawing from the expertise of local volunteers employed in various industries around St. Charles Parish.

All toys needed for the event are supplied each year by both Toys for Tots, the Times Picayune Doll and Gift fund, as well as toy donations from various other clubs. United Way funds help buy refreshments, coloring books, crafts and other supplies needed to run the event each year.

"After COVID-19 and the generous support from Toys for Tots, Parish President Matthew Jewell decided that all families needed help, so the Toy and Gift Event invited all children from birth to 16 years old to come and share in this beautiful experience," Arabie said.

Arabie added that residents can assist with the St. Charles Parish Toy and Gift Event by donating to one of the many contributing organizations like United Way or Toys for Tots. Toys for Tots has donation boxes situated throughout the local area, making it easier for residents to drop off toy donations.

said Guasp. “So the whole thing, to give back in his name, would be great ... I’ve been grieving him a lot lately. The anniversary of his death is coming up and I’ve been looking to pull out of it. So for other dogs who have been picked up, strays, dogs who were surrendered as well, if I can help them have a merrier Christmas, I’ll know something good came from it. Maybe that (his death) didn’t come in vain.”

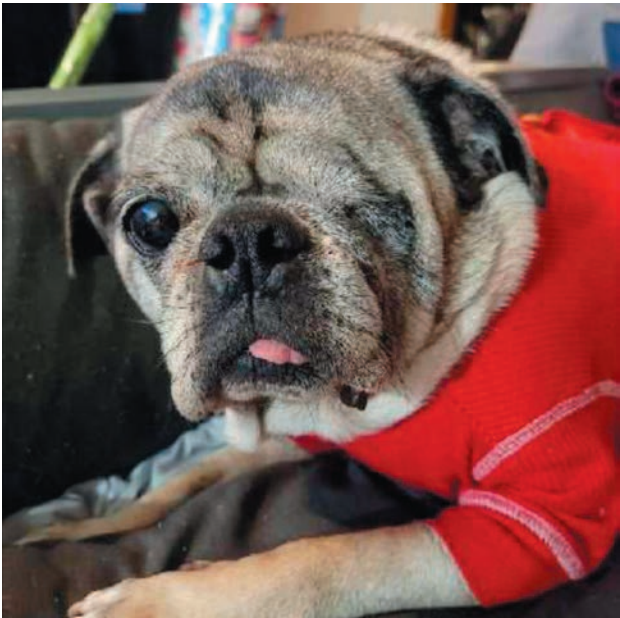

The circumstances around Dexter’s death are still unclear, Guasp said, nearly a year later.

On Christmas day of 2022 Guasp let her dog Dexter out in her Kenner backyard, a backyard that was new to everyone since the family had recently moved in. Later, when she went outside to check on him, she could not find him and believed he had to be hiding somewhere.

That wasn’t the case – Dexter had gotten out of the yard. Guasp said she and family members walked around the neighborhood, but Dexter was not found. When she was home again Guasp said her godchild found a hole in the fence where Dexter must have crawled out of.

One day later, she received a phone call from the St. Charles Parish Animal Shelter. The news was not good: Dexter had been struck by a vehicle and the injuries were fatal.

Guasp said she is thankful that someone found Dexter and brought him in to the shelter so that she could be notified, but also that she and her family were baffled on how Dexter – a 13-year-old deaf dog with arthritis, bad eyesight and only one eye – was found 17 miles from his home in St. Rose.

“We never got closure,” said Guasp. “We never figured out why he got where he got to. Nobody came forward and honestly, I didn’t expect anyone to because (if someone hit Dexter) I don’t think anyone would want to admit that.”

Among the items Guasp is collecting for the shelter are canned Friskies pate cat food, canned dog food, peanut butter, milk bones, cat treats, pill pockets, small blankets and small cat toys. Monetary donations can be given via Venmo (@TRIP_4) or in the form of a check written to Turning Rescues Into Pets (T.R.I.P), a local non-profit organization that supports the animal shelter. Checks or donation items can be dropped off to the shelter or mailed to 921 Deputy Jeff G Watson Drive Luling, LA 70070.

Guasp said Dexter was a steady, loving companion that helped her get through a divorce and also as her mother battled cancer.

Guasp fondly remembers the day she adopted Dexter. “He was a senior dog. His previous owner wrote a beautiful note ... they couldn’t keep him, they’d fallen on hard times,” said Guasp. “Their little granddaughter was allergic and they wanted him to go to a good home. Once I saw his picture online, I knew he’d be coming home with me. We drove there first thing in the morning and once I saw him I knew I wasn’t leaving without that dog – he was so cute, so silly and so full of energy. For an old man, he was just so full of energy.”

Guasp said Dexter could make anyone laugh, whether they were an animal person or not.

“He liked to talk at you,” Guasp said. “I felt like he’d live forever, even though I knew he wouldn’t. He was just a big ball of happiness.”

She hopes this drive will help with the closure she’s been missing.

“Maybe it’s a way to close the chapter on a good note,” she said. “Helping other animals get what they need and make something really terrible into something better.”

POKER from 1A

“I qualified, and they only took 300 players,” Turkington explained. “The 300 qualifiers [then] played for the championship, which was in November, and the top 10 won their entry into the World Championship in Las Vegas.”

This year’s WPT World Championship runs from Dec. 12-21 and includes four flights – meaning the tournament has multiple entry day plays, all leading up to the final event. Players who did not qualify for a WPT paid-for seat as Turkington did must pay a $10,400 buy-in fee to participate.

Turkington will compete against several thousand entrants in the 2023 WPT World Championship for a crack at a world record $40 million guaranteed poker tournament prize pool. The event’s final table play on Dec. 21 will be televised on Fubo TV, the WFT’s platform partner.

Turkington said he first began playing poker around 60 years ago while serving in the military; it was an activity he and his Navy shipmates took up during idle periods while adrift at sea.

“We played cards to pass the time away,” Turkington said of his poker-playing hobby. “That was before Texas Hold’em – and I’ve been playing poker ever since.”

Before he sold his business and retired several years ago, Turkington held a weekly after-hours poker game with friends at his Kenner-area fencing and access control business, Nu Arrow Industries. He later got into online poker with the WPT, which operates like an online poker club.

He now plays one night per week at Caesar’s Casino in New Orleans, where he and several local players regularly meet up to socialize and hone their poker skills. The Destrehan grandfather of two also occasionally participates in various local-area casino poker tournaments in the 50 plus age category.

“I don’t play poker for the money; I’m retired and its good entertainment,” Turkington said. “I especially feel [it’s an ideal game] for the elderly, because it keeps your brain active; you have to think about what’s going on.”

Rather than rely purely on lucky hands to win poker games, Turkington employs what is called a “trapping game” strategy.

“If I get a good hand, I try and get people trapped to stay in,” Turkington said. “I’m what they call a ‘tight player’ – I don’t like to play with junk [hands].”

The 2023 WPT World Championship Turkington is competing in is on track to best last year’s inaugural WPT championship event, which drew 2,960 players and included a $29,008,000 prize pool. The 2022 championship ended when Canadian player Eliot Hudon won - taking home a grand prize of $4,136,000.

“I’m looking forward to meeting some of the professional players that I see on TV all of the time,” Turkington said of the upcoming WPT tournament in Las Vegas, whose events will include several parties attended by various professional and amateur poker players. “I don’t look up to any gambler, but I do admire the skill of some of these players.”

The WPT is an internationally televised gaming and entertainment brand, featuring various land-based poker tournaments in television, online and mobile media. Over the last two decades, WPT has grown to be broadcast globally in 150 countries and territories. Founded in 2002, WPT is currently in its 21st televised season, airing regularly on the Bally Sports network.

The Wynn Las Vegas, site of this year’s WPT World Championship, is a luxury hotel and casino featuring two hotel towers and 4,748 hotel rooms. The massive resort property includes 194,000 square feet of casino space, 20 restaurants, 14 bars, two nightclubs, two spas, 513,000 meeting and convention space, 174,000 square feet of retail spa, a beach club, and the Wynn Golf Club – an 18-hole championship golf course.

a family’s bank and savings account,” Walsh cautioned of this type of crime. “Normally banks reimburse the money, but it may take an extended period of time.”

Check fraud has more than doubled over the past three years nationally, according to the Financial Crimes Enforcement Network (FinCEN), the U.S. Treasury’s investigative arm. More than 680,000 cases of possible check fraud were reported last year alone, up from 350,000 in 2021.

The main source of stolen checks, FinCEN warned, is the U.S. mail. Overall mail theft has become so extensive, the United States Postal Service (USPS) issued a comprehensive new plan earlier this year to crack down on mail theft. Check fraud has reportedly become a lucrative business for organized crime, often involving entire networks of criminals who sometimes rob mail carriers in order to obtain mail in bulk quantities. The SCPSO offered a few tips for St. Charles Parish residents to help avoid becoming victims of this type of check and mail fraud. “Avoid mailing checks if you do not have to, and go inside the post office to mail checks,” Amanda Pertuis, SCPSO Public Information Officer said. “Pay your bills online or with automatic payments and monitor your checking account regularly.”

Pertuis also said residents should take care to not leave mail in mailboxes overnight and have the post office hold mail, or ask a trusted friend to pick up mail while away from home.

“I urge everyone, including businesses, to be vigilant and check their bank accounts more frequently. If you see someone removing mail from your neighbor’s mailbox, contact the Sherriff’s Office immediately by calling 911 or 985-783-6807 so a patrol officer can be sent,” Sherriff Greg Champagne said. “You will be asked to provide a description of the person, a description of the vehicle and license plate if available, and what direction they were going when they left.”

Sadie Peters, 25, is a fourth-year volunteer firefighter with the Hahnville Fire Department. Her fiancée and several members of his immediate family are firefighters, which is how she first gained exposure to work around the fire station.

“I realized, once I got into it, that there was so much more that goes into the actual fire service besides just fighting fires,” Peters said.

Early on in her role as a volunteer firefighter, Peters said she began to realize firefighters play an integral part in assisting Emergency Medical Services (EMS) in responding to calls, particularly when EMS receives high call volumes. Local fire stations also respond to chemical leak incidents in nearby chemical plants. Firefighters also often help following vehicular accidents, sometimes extracting accident victims from vehicles after severe crashes.

Women, in Peters’ observation, bring a different dynamic to firefighting that can often-times help improve the overall effectiveness of a fire station.

“The women can keep things a little bit more organized and bring different ideas,” Peters said.

Despite women often having a lower body weight than men, Peters said this is not necessarily a physical barrier to working with firefighting equipment. The Hahnville volunteer said she has observed many female firefighters move and lift firefighting equipment with ease.

“I have met some powerhouse women in the fire service that make it look like they’re throwing a bag of air over their shoulder, but they’re doing the same thing as the guys,” Peters said. “I do think that women in a certain sense have a lot of upper hand. A lot of women have a very strong core, and if that is something you have worked on and maintained, that’s the foundation of being able to be a good firefighter and contribute on a fire ground scene.”

Tigers remain unbeaten with 6-0 victory over E.D. White

Hahnville has lost just three times in past 27 matches

Ryan Arena Editor

Owen Fontenot scored three goals and Daniel Bowman had three assists to lead Hahnville Tuesday night as it extended its unbeaten start on the soccer field to a record of 5-0-1 with a 6-0 home victory over E.D. White. Andreas Tregre, Evan Oubre and Francisco Balderas also scored goals in the win, while Fontenot and Emerson Arita earned assists. The Tigers have had to withstand the losses of there.” Oubre said that even with the hot start, he feels the Tigers haven’t scratched the surface of playing their best soccer thus far. “We’ve been shuffling guys around and figuring out who fits best where, where guys are most effective,” Oubre said. “What we’re starting to do, though, is finally finish goals and that’s a good sign.” Even so, the Tigers have maintained a knack for winning and even as some key senior players from last year’s squad, including the entirety of its defensive back line. But the program continues to build on the success it’s enjoyed under head coach Matt Oubre, who guided the team to a record of 14-3-1 last season, including a district championship victory and a playoff appearance. That Tigers team fell in a heartbreaker to Northshore in round one; the returning players from that team hope to march further this season, and the fast start is indicative of their drive. Hahnville has lost just three times in its last 27 matches over the past season and change. “We’ve got a bit of a mix between experienced guys and first-time starters,” said Oubre. “We do have quite a few returning players who did get a lot of playing time last year who have helped us so far. We’re still figuring out the personality of this team, forming the structure and shape of how we want to play. Hopefully, tonight is the start of our incline they build chemistry, the team is winning in the clutch. HHS has captured three victories in tight, one-goal contests with Kenner Discovery, New Iberia and Lutch. There are seven seniors on this year’s Tigers’ squad. Kyle Waits is one of them and has been a cornerstone of the Hahnville defense. Waits was sidelined for his junior year due to an injury but has asserted himself now that he’s back on the field. Another senior, Brendan Kenney, has stood out as a midfielder and also earned high praise from Oubre. “Those are two strong seniors who are really keeping our group together,” said Oubre. Tregre and Bowman have also been highly productive seniors thus far, joining Kenney as midfielders. “I think one of the biggest positives for us is within that midfield group, we have five or six guys we can rotate, mix, match and combine, and all of them have shown chemistry. They’re all able to work with each other no matter who is paired up. That’s been a big reason for our success,” Oubre said. There have been a few surprises. While Hahnville’s defense has been a strong point in recent seasons, given the roster turnover in that department some early slippage could have been expected. Instead, Hahnville has earned four shutouts and has allowed just three goals scored all season. “We typically start with our defense first when we train,” said Oubre. “We try to get that solidified and this year was no different. That said, when we started the season we had no idea who would play the back line, aside from Kyle.

We’ve got some freshmen on the back line. We’ve kind of anchored the edges with juniors who haven’t typically played defense before. All are kind of learning the system as we go and I’m very pleased with the progress so far.”

Bennet Asperin and Rylan Colley are two freshmen who have made quick impacts as well.

Kolaj Cobbins

Defensive line

DEFENSE

As he's been for the entirety of his Destrehan career, Kolaj Cobbins was a terror in 2023. The pressure he applied as a pass rusher was a major reason the Destrehan defense allowed seven points of less in seven different games this season. Cobbins recorded 12 sacks and 77 total tackles – including a whopping 32.5 tackles for loss. He forced three fumbles and recovered one. Cobbins also evolved his game in pass coverage, breaking up four passes and intercepting one – which he brought back for a touchdown.

DEFENSE

Hahnville head coach Daniel Luquet has said Chase Morales epitomizes what it means to be a Hahnville football player. His play on any given Friday night makes it easy to see why. An all-around weapon for the defense, Morales recorded 82.5 tackles, 11 sacks, 11 tackles for loss, five forced fumbles and two fumble recoveries. He intercepted a pass and broke up four others, while scoring a touchdown. Morales earned 11 QB hurries and also chipped in on offense as a rushing threat.

Ladycats earn first win with shutout of Slidell at home put away the win for her team. Destrehan (1-6-1) has faced some strong competitors early on but a team with several new faces on the field may be starting to find a groove on the field. “We finally started connecting, able to find through balls, taking shots from distance ... it felt like everyone was connecting as a team,” said Destrehan head coach Jade Gallaher, now in her second season leading the program. “We’ve got a very young team this year and we’ve wanted them to see what good teams look like. Tonight, we were able to put it together.” The defense and goalkeeper Bridget Stillman recorded their first shutout of the season. She is one of several first-year starters, particularly on the defensive side of the field. “The defense is brand new,” said Gallaher. “We have a lot of

A lot comes down to mentality, which comes with experience.

American Legion Post 131 launches annual Christmas drive for veterans and seniors

Kahlil Turner Lifestyles Editor
kturner@heraldguide.com

Luling’s American Legion Post 131 recently announced it will continue collecting donated goods from St. Charles Parish residents until Dec. 16 for its annual Christmas drive, with all goods to be distributed to veterans and senior citizens living in local-area nursing homes.

Goods collected from St. Charles Parish residents for the drive this month will be sorted and finally distributreading glasses, glass cleaner and miscellaneous toiletry items.

“What we do [for this drive] is - we get the names of veterans from St. Charles Parish, and we fix them a special little basket with their names on it,” John Hymel, American Legion Post 131 Treasurer, said of how the drive is run.

ed on Dec. 20 by American Legion Post 131 members.

The local veterans’ group is collecting everyday items veterans and senior citizens living in local convalescent homes often need or use throughout the year. Items needed this year include: 2024 monthly calendars, puzzle books, sudoku books, socks, cookies, chocolate bars, juice boxes, pudding, Jell-O, hats, gloves, denture adhesive, Efferdent, full-size shampoo bottles, soap,

“The rest [of the donated goods] we box up, [deliver it] and employees at the various nursing homes distribute it to the rest of the patients.”

Hymel estimated the event benefits as many as 75 to 100 elderly veterans and seniors or more who are currently living in local area convalescent homes, including the Southeast Veterans Home in Reserve and SummerHouse Ashton Manor in Luling.

Members of the American Legion Post 131 have helped organize this drive for many years, but for the last three to four years the group has stepped up its collection efforts, often collecting additional donations themselves while stationed at St. Charles Parish area merchants during peak retail traffic times.

Post 131 has established two temporary collection centers for locals to drop off their donations: PT Solutions on Highway 90 as well as at Dufrene Building Supply on Sugarhouse Road, both in Luling. Residents wishing to donate goods for the drive can also contact a local American Legion Post 131 member to arrange pickup for donations.

Many residents living in nursing homes have limited income, often receiving minimum personal allowances – Medicaid residents receive just $38 per month for personal expenses - making the American Legion’s annual Christmas donations a meaningful boost during the holidays.

“Some things they can’t afford, so we just supply it for them,” Hymel said as to the reason for the group’s annual Christmas drive. “What [veterans and senior citizens] get [from this drive] probably lasts them until next year, when we do it again for them.”

For more information on the drive, contact the American Legion Post 131 at Ph. 985-210-2010 or visit the group’s Facebook page online.

Post 131 on Milling Avenue in Luling is just one American Legion location in a network of thousands just like it across the country. The nonprofit American Legion, with headquarters based out of Indianapolis, Ind., is considered the United States’ largest wartime veterans service organization with an estimated 1.8 million veteran members.

Public Notice

The Port of South Louisiana Executive Regional Airport (APS) plans to construct a vehicle parking lot expansion, near the existing T-Hangars, in order to meet current parking demands, thus keeping vehicles from parking on airfield pavement and aprons. The proposal includes the following component:

- Construction of approximately 5,400 square feet of asphalt vehicle parking

The proposed project is located on Airport Road in Reserve, Louisiana.

The environmental review, consultation, and other actions required by applicable federal environmental laws for this project are being, or have been, carried out by FAA Order 1050.1F. Per Executive Order 11988, Floodplain Management, the Airport, and the FAA have determined the proposed project components are located within the 100-year floodplain. The Airport and the FAA are presently identifying and evaluating the potential impacts, if any, on the floodplain. The project's impact on the floodplain is anticipated to be negligible; therefore, would not result in an adverse impact on the floodplain's natural and beneficial floodplain values. The encroachment would not impact existing infrastructure, would not have adverse impacts to the floodplain's natural and beneficial values, would not have a substantial probability of loss of human life, safe airport operations will not be affected, and aircraft services will not be interrupted.

If requested, a Public Meeting to review the project and provide comments will be granted in conjunction with FAA policy and floodplain review. If you would like to request a meeting, please contact Mr. Brian Cox, Chief Operating Officer, Port of South Louisiana, by phone at (985) 652-9278 or e-mail at bcox@portsl.com; or provide written comments through December 15, 2023, or 15 days from the start of the Notice Publication. Written comments may be submitted by mail to Port of South Louisiana, Attention: Mr. Brian Cox, 1720 Louisiana Highway 44, P.O. Box AE, Reserve, LA 70084. Written comments from the public will become part of the project documentation.

Charity showdown at Battle for the Paddle to boost St. Charles Parish area nonprofits

St. Charles Women's Club and United Way 2022 Battle for the Paddle winners celebrate following 'Best Gumbo' win.

The United Way of St. Charles is set to hold its 2022 Battle for the Paddle on Thursday, Oct. 26, from 3 p.m. to 7:30 p.m., at the Edward Dufresne Community Center, located at 274 Judge Edward Dufresne Park in Luling.

The fundraising event, held each October, invites local families, friends, businesses and industry teams to prepare and serve their best Cajun dishes, competing for the titles of 'Best Jambalaya,' 'Best Pastalaya' and 'Best Gumbo.'

Open to the public, Battle for the Paddle admission pricing will be $5, with free admission for kids 10 and under. Proceeds from the event will go towards supporting many of the United Way of St. Charles' various local-area nonprofit agencies it regularly funds.

"Everything from help for cancer patients to weekend meals for schoolchildren in need, to funding our community college," United Way of St. Charles Executive Director John Dias said of the local causes the event helps support.

Dias said his group expects around 190 cooking teams to participate, and anticipates similar crowds to last year, when the event drew around 6,000 visitors.
