Valedictorian

Cecilia Cody

Meghan McCune Reporter
meghanm@heraldguide.com

From the moment she entered high school, Cecilia “CeCe” Cody had a goal in mind: become valedictorian. Years later, that goal became reality when the Destrehan High School graduate crossed the graduation stage as valedictorian, Student of the Year and one of the school’s most accomplished students.

Cody earned a 35 ACT score, a perfect PSAT score and recognition as a National Merit Semifinalist while balancing a demanding schedule of AP courses and extracurricular activities. She was president of the Hispanic Honor Society, danced on the Desty Darlings dance team and launched her own creative business, CeCe Sketched It.

Cody said becoming valedictorian required discipline, careful scheduling and long hours of studying. During her freshman and sophomore years, she followed a strict routine centered around schoolwork and dance practice.

“I would come home, do my homework and go to bed,” she said.

By senior year, however, Cody realized that constantly working without breaks was not sustainable. She said spending time with friends and taking what they jokingly called “side quests” — quick outings for things like Crumbl Cookies after school — helped her stay motivated and better manage her workload.

Hannah Burst

Hannah Burst and her family knew they were being told something important — they just weren’t quite sure what it was at first.

“(Destrehan High School Principal Jason Madere) had called my mom at Mimosa Park (Elementary School), and the Wi-Fi was a little bad. Whatever they were telling us, it kept cutting out. So, we knew they were trying to tell us something, but we didn’t know what. So, it took a second,” Burst said.

But once that issue was cleared up, the news was delivered — Burst was Destrehan High School Salutatorian.

“It was super nice (to hear the news),” said Burst. “Mr. Madere, I’ve known him for a very long time. He’s my grandma’s neighbor and we lived with her for a while as our house was getting built.

When he called, he was saying how he got to see me grow up. It was very exciting and great to know I was going to get to represent DHS and make a speech ... a lot of emotions, but mostly excitement.”

Burst and Destrehan valedictorian CeCe Cody are close friends, so that added another layer to the experience.

“We’ve danced together since we were probably four at our studio and for the (Desty Darlings) dance team as well. We’ve always been pretty good friends and it was awesome sitting on the stage with each other and each getting to deliver a speech,” Burst said.

Burst said that while she had an idea she was in the running for the honor,

Art and academics shape Destrehan graduate's high school journey

Meghan McCune Reporter

After long days filled with AP assignments, honors coursework and ACT preparation, Sam Rockefeller often came home and painted with watercolors.

The Destrehan High School graduate said art became one of the most important parts of her high school experience, giving her a creative outlet while she pursued the academic success that led to an ACT score of 31 and numerous honors and scholarships.

"I have always been a very creative person," Rockefeller said. "Being in so much academic stress, sometimes it is nice to come home and just paint."

Through Student Council, she used her artistic talents to create football run-through posters, calendars and other artwork displayed throughout the school.

"It's really nice to walk around school and see my handwriting and my drawings everywhere," she said. "It's definitely really fun."

Rockefeller also participated in Talented Theatre productions. Her first performance was in "Annie" when she was in sixth grade.

"Being able to go into theater and just do some fun improv games and just be able to be myself completely was a fun way to relieve stress," she said.

Her passion for the arts also extended to literature. As president of the National English Honor Society, Rockefeller said she wanted to help students appreciate reading and writing at a time when technology and social media dominate communication.

"I really enjoyed being able to lead juniors and seniors through a new awakening for the love for the English language," she said. "That was really important to me because I do love to write and to read."

For Rockefeller, art is an important communal experience.

"Everyone has some sort of art they value, whether they're making it or just a viewer," she said. "There's always something someone can get out of art. It can absolutely bring people together."

"Everyone has some sort of art they value, whether they're making it or just a viewer. There's always something someone can get out of art. It can absolutely bring people together."

— Sam Rockefeller

Creativity helped Rockefeller manage stress, but academics remained a central part of her high school experience. She spent years in advanced classes and challenged herself with a rigorous AP curriculum. She said her motivation always came from within rather than pressure from anyone else.

"It's just something that I've always been very driven by," she said.

Although the workload could be intense, Rockefeller said the close-knit environment among AP, honors and gifted students helped make the experience rewarding. Rockefeller described her gifted classes as a family after spending four years with many of the same classmates and teachers.

"The last day of school in my gifted math class was kind of weird because we weren't sure if we should cry or laugh," she joked.

Rockefeller especially enjoyed AP English Language and AP English Literature because of her love for writing. Her English teachers also helped prepare her for the ACT beginning freshman year through frequent practice questions and review sessions.

Rockefeller balanced AP and honors classes with roles in Beta Club, National Honor Society and Fellowship of Christian Students. She began participating in Student Council her freshman year, and she later attended Louisiana Youth Seminar, a leadership camp that focused on communication, networking and leadership skills.

One of the most meaningful moments of Rockefeller's senior year came during the school's stole and awards night, when students received cords, scholarships and academic honors representing years of hard work. Rockefeller earned several recognitions, including the Women's Club Scholarship, the Rotary Club Scholarship, academic awards and departmental honors.

"It was very impactful to finally see what all my high school years have come to," Rockefeller said.

This fall, Rockefeller will attend LSU to study interior design, a field she said combines her creativity with her interest in creating welcoming spaces. Inspired by years of watching home renovation shows and seeing her family home remodeled over time, Rockefeller hopes to eventually design residential spaces that make people feel comfortable and happy.

"I really just want to make inviting spaces and make people happy to be where they are," she said.

Dual-sport athlete helped build winning culture

Ryan Arena Editor
ryana@heraldguide.com

On the soccer field and baseball diamond alike at Destrehan, Karsen Carrigee helped set a culture and foundation that saw both programs take a significant leap this school year.

The Wildcats had their best soccer season since 2020, finishing with a 12-7-5 record and a return to the playoffs, a year that included a 10-match unbeaten streak from mid-December to mid-January. It was the biggest step in what's been a dramatic turnaround for the program – one year before Carrigee's freshman class arrived at Destrehan, DHS won just one game.

Then, Destrehan baseball took off. The Wildcats had a breakthrough season, reaching the state semifinals for the first time since 2005, going 29-14 overall and sweeping consecutive playoff opponents on road trips to West Monroe and Benton.

The soccer season began in November and the baseball season ended in May, and then came graduation for Carrigee.

So, how does he feel now?

"A lot of free time," Carrigee said. "A lot of weight off my shoulders, and a feeling that all of the hard work paid off. It feels really good."

Carrigee is a three-time second team All-District selection in soccer. He said the team grew each year, winning six games in his freshman year and increasing that number from there.

“The whole season meant so much to us ... we knew who we were. We were the underdogs.”

— Karsen Carrigee

“Lots of practices, a lot of late practices,” Carrigee said. “A lot more of our guys started playing club soccer. That’s something Coach (Jhovanny Santamaria) really stressed for us. We were a really close-knit group.”

Then came a whirlwind of a season for the Wildcats baseball team, an experienced, battle-tested group that entered the playoffs on a mission. After losing its playoff opener in a best-of-three series, Destrehan scored victories in each of its next six games to storm into the semifinals.

“This whole season meant so much to us,” said Carrigee. “Nine of us were seniors and we’ve all been in the program for so long. We knew who we were – we were the underdogs. Really close relationships among the players. The coaches loved us and we loved them back. Just really, really good vibes the entire season.”

Those vibes led to confidence, in themselves and in one another.

“We always believed in ourselves. Everyone trusted each other,” Carrigee said. “We grew up together. A lot of guys played together on travel ball teams. We’re all going to the summer camps. We had this weird kind of connectedness in a way, but it was great, amazing to be a part of.”

Beyond athletics, Carrigee was a leader on campus. He was a member of the Principal’s Advisory Committee and a founding member of the Student Athlete Advisory Council. He was among the students helping to launch the first-ever St. Charles Parish Public Schools Athletic Awards Ceremony.

The Principal’s Advisory Committee helped run a Special Olympics event held at Destrehan – something that meant a lot to Carrigee on a few levels.

“My mom is an adaptive P.E. teacher in our parish,” said Carrigee. “It was great seeing those kids thrive in such an awesome environment, and to be able to help out with that was great as well.”

He will soon head to Louisiana Tech, where he plans to study electrical engineering. Carrigee earned the university’s Presidential Scholarship.

“I love math and science, so that definitely influenced me,” he said.

He hopes to one day become an Imagineer at Walt Disney World.

“That’s always been a dream of mine,” Carrigee said.

Graduate's mental health club creates safe space for students

Meghan McCune Reporter
meghanm@heraldguide.com

When Sarah Freeman attended a mental health club over the summer, she realized how important mental health is and how much stigma there is around the topic.

She decided to act. During her senior year at Destrehan High School, she founded Mind Matters, a mental health club designed to create open conversations and support among students.

"The club gave me the opportunity to raise more awareness about mental health, while also giving people a comfortable place to talk, and relate to each other about mental health," Freeman said.

At one of the club's meetings, she hosted an open mic event. She said it was a moment she will remember forever.

"Being able to see the support from everyone made a difference in my life," Freeman said. "The fact that the idea of starting the club had turned into something special meant so much to me. I will never forget that moment and the people I impacted that day."

Freeman's desire to help others extended beyond the club itself. During her senior year, she received the school's Leadership, Loyalty and Service Award. Of all her accomplishments, Freeman said that award meant the most.

"Earning it helped me to realize the impact I made on my school and the people around me," she said.

For Freeman, Destrehan High School is a place where students could truly discover who they are.

"You will come in thinking your life is going to be one way, and leave in another direction," she said. "Destrehan is a place for people to find their true selves, and gain so many new experiences and opportunities."

Freeman participated in several activities during her four years at DHS. She was a member of the step team, Interact Club, DHS Ambassadors, peer mentoring, Beta Club, National English Honor Society and National Spanish Honor Society. During her senior year, she was selected for homecoming court. She was also a member of the tennis team for four years, and she discovered a passion for powerlifting during her final two years.

“Powerlifting truly grew me out of my comfort zone beyond anything I had ever endured in my life,” she said. “It allowed me to gain confidence in myself and get through challenges I didn’t think that I could face.”

Freeman credits the people around her for helping her succeed.

“The friends and faculty I built relationships with allowed me to do things out of my comfort zone and walk without fear,” she said.

Among those mentors, one stood above the rest. Freeman said Counselor Robin Valerius played the biggest role in helping her navigate high school.

“She was always there for me when I needed support,” Freeman said. “I loved being able to walk in her presence and immediately thrive from her positive and welcoming energy. I would not have been able to push through high school without her support.”

This fall, Freeman plans to attend Providence College, where she will study psychology and continue expanding her knowledge of mental health — a passion that already changed the culture for students at her Destrehan High.

DHS clarinet player honed craft, headed to prestigious music school

Ryan Arena Editor
ryana@heraldguide.com

It wasn't initially Jacob Resalsingh's dream to play music at an elite level – or even his desire to play at all.

Originally from California, his elementary school required students to choose and play an instrument. He began playing saxophone.

Then, when he moved to Louisiana, he could have stopped if he wanted to.

"I went to a school where if you did band, you could get out of P.E.," Resalsingh said.

But what was once duty, and then a bit of opportunity, evolved into a strong passion – and, years later, into Resalsingh being accepted into one of the country's top music schools, the Indiana University Bloomington Jacobs School of Music.

The clarinet player – he switched to that instrument in the eighth grade – will be attending Jacobs. He had a decision to make, also accepted to Juilliard and the Curtis Institute of Music. He's eager for the opportunity – and a rare experience.

"I'm excited for the world-class faculty and the repertoire that I'm going to be playing," said Resalsingh. "And just the college experience, having a dorm and a roommate."

Reading the letter informing him he'd been accepted was a thrilling experience itself, he said. It's also one he didn't expect to have just yet.

"I thought I bombed a certain part of the audition," said Resalsingh. "I was getting in my own head a lot and then it's just, 'I messed up the scales. It's not going to happen.' I was so shocked (to learn he'd been accepted).

I didn't think I'd get in, but I did and that felt amazing."

He may have been his harshest critic for that portion, as he impressed enough to earn acceptance. He added that a strong interview helped.

"I wanted to lead by example and set a standard for younger and newer members."

— Jacob Resalsingh

"That did go really well," he said. "I was surprised with myself, honestly."

It's certainly something to be proud of – admission to Jacobs does not come easily. The prestigious school admits by a live or recorded audition only. The overall acceptance rate is generally about 25 percent for undergraduate students and about 30 percent for graduate students.

Throughout his four years of high school at Destrehan, Resalsingh played clarinet for the Pride of Destrehan Band, creating memories and music with his bandmates.

"You have so many different personalities there together," said Resalsingh. "We had a lot of fun. And it is a lot of work, but it was extremely rewarding. I wouldn't trade it for the world. Traveling with everyone, stopping different places to eat and just hanging out, that's the stuff I'll really remember."

Resalsingh was also part of Destrehan's color guard the past two years.

His shift from saxophone to clarinet, he said, just felt right to him.

"I feel like saxophone is a lot like jazz, and I'm more of a classical person," he said.

By the time he'd reached high school, Resalsingh not only had discovered a love for music, he wanted to push himself and see how good he could become.

"I kept pushing to get better. I did all of the honor bands that I could," said Resalsingh, who earned All-State honors his final three years as a band member and made Senior High Honor Band in all four years. "I did every single thing that I could to get better and get to this point."

As he pushed himself, he also looked to help and inspire those around him to aspire for their best.

"I wanted to lead by example and set a standard for younger and newer members," he said. "In my freshman year, the seniors did very well. There was a clarinet senior I looked up to that made

All-State three years of high school, and I wanted to be like her. I kept practicing and pushing myself. And once I got older I wanted to get our underclassmen to push themselves to see how far they could go."

Resalsingh was part of the Destrehan Principal's Advisory Council and the district's Art Steering Committee, a student-led advocacy and planning group that organizes fine arts initiatives, gallery exhibitions, and district-wide events to expand creative opportunities for students.

"It was pretty cool – you're showing the students over at Hahnville what you've been working on and vice versa," Resalsingh said. "(With both committees) I just wanted to make a difference and be part of a positive change."

From all of us at Summerhouse Ashton Manor, we're cheering on this year's graduates as they take the next step into their future. Our residents know a thing or two about life's journeys—and they say: keep learning, stay curious, and never stop growing.

Destrehan grad hopes to become third-generation educator at alma mater

Ryan Arena Editor
ryana@heraldguide.com

Though from a family of educators, Emily Ward didn't necessarily think she'd be following in the footsteps of her mother and grandparents.

"For the longest time – my mother is a teacher, but I never thought that was going to be me," the Destrehan High graduate said. "But I was talking to my dad one night and he says, you know you used to line your stuffed animals up and you would make me sit with you and teach us lessons. And I remembered that ... and in my sophomore year, that's when I really realized OK, this is something I'd like to do."

She's on her way. Ward has earned a Louisiana pre-educator pathway advanced certification and interned at Harry Hurst Middle School. Her mother, Stefanie, is Destrehan High School's Career Development Facilitator, and prior to that taught English at Destrehan. Ward's grandparents also taught in St. Charles Parish.

Ward hopes to be a third-generation educator within her home district and said she would ultimately love to teach at her alma mater of Destrehan as well. As it stands now, she is a fourth-generation Destrehan graduate.

"That's the goal," Ward said. "I'd love to go back to Destrehan to teach because I had such an amazing experience there. I had a lot of impactful teachers and I want to bring that to a generation of students."

She's headed to Southeastern in secondary English education.

"My mother would tell me stories about how she would teach English and they would reenact plays ... I want to make English like that. I really want to make it a fun environment and make kids excited to come into my classroom to learn,” Ward said.

One thing she said she’s learned already is the discipline it takes to teach. Ward also credits her mother for being a very helpful and willing coach through it all.

“I’d talk about some of the things I was experiencing with my internship and she definitely coached me through it,” said Ward. “She advised me on things like how to interact with my students and get them engaged. I’ve learned a whole lot from her and I’m excited to learn a whole lot more from her as I go into the classroom.”

She’s also drawn plenty of inspiration from Mom.

“When we’d be at events together, she would have students walk up to her and be like, ‘That was my English teacher.’ And then even talking to my own teachers who worked alongside my mother, they would say, ‘Your mother is amazing – she was a really amazing teacher and I know you’re going to be one too,’” said Ward.

Ward completed the Educator’s Rising program, where she learned the ins and outs of being a teacher – how to read curriculum and structure a lesson plan – and also got classroom experience at Harry Hurst, that internship established through the program.

“You learn a lot of patience,” said Ward. “I struggled a little bit with that in the beginning, but in the end I really enjoyed it. I like connecting with that age group.”

During her time at Destrehan, Ward was a member of National English Honor Society, the National Art Honor Society, Art Club and Beta Club.

The Art Club at Destrehan opened during her sophomore year – an exciting time for Ward, who counts art among her major hobbies.

“I’ve always just loved to paint, or to have something up and just sketch it for fun,” Ward said. “And that turned into doing it a lot. I’d be like, I saw this picture, and so I painted it for you and now I’m going to give it to you as a present. And whenever I see people react to the paintings I give them, it just really warms my heart.”

CODY from 2A

Cody said her family also encouraged each other to celebrate their accomplishments. Each year, Cody and her family create goal sheets filled with personal, academic and extracurricular goals, then hang them on the refrigerator as a daily reminder of what they hoped to accomplish. Checking off a goal became a celebration in the Cody household.

"It's important to keep your personal goals in mind and it's also really important to celebrate them," Cody said. "You can't just make goal after goal after goal. Constant improvement is great, but at some point, you're going to have a setback."

Cody experienced a setback this year when she was not accepted into her dream college. But she remembered what her dad taught her: after a setback, ask yourself, "What's next?"

"That got me thinking that I have to accept it and it doesn't make me any less of a person either," she said.

This fall, Cody will attend the University of Notre Dame, where she plans to major in neuroscience, minor in Spanish and pursue pre-medicine studies with the goal of becoming a neurosurgeon specializing in oncology.

"It's important to keep your personal goals in mind and it's also really important to celebrate them,. You can't just make goal after goal after goal after goal. Constant improvement is great, but at some point, you're going to have a setback."

"I've always wanted to help people," Cody said. "I've always been fascinated by the brain."

Her interest in neuroscience deepened after taking AP Psychology and studying the brain during the course's neuroscience unit. Cody said she became fascinated by the complexity of the brain and the challenge of solving medical problems that are different for every patient.

"I want to be able to remove people's brain tumors and tell someone that they are cancer free," she said

When Cody learned she was accepted into Notre Dame, she was at dance practice. The team surrounded her as she logged in to learn her fate.

"I was jumping up and down, and my friends came and grabbed me and they dogpiled me," Cody said. "It was such a fun moment. It just really shows that bond that we have. Everyone is truly there for everyone on the team. I was so happy that I got in, and everyone else was so happy for me."

Another moment Cody will remember forever is winning nationals with the Desty Darlings.

"Sitting on that mat surrounded by my closest friends and hearing our name get called as national champions and seeing our coaches just run up to us was the happiest moment of my senior year," she said.

Outside of academics and dance, Cody also found a creative outlet through entrepreneurship. Last year, she launched CeCe Sketched It!, a custom banner business that began after a friend asked her to recreate a design for a Friendsgiving party. She also donates a birthday banner to a local nursing home each month.

"It's really just a nice way for me to continue to exercise my creativity," she said. "And I love going to paint a banner when I have to unwind after a long day."

As Cody prepares to leave Louisiana for college, she said DHS helped prepare her for the future through its curriculum, teachers and opportunities for involvement both inside and outside the classroom.

"I feel like because of the curriculum here, I feel prepared to go to college. I'm not scared in any sense," Cody said. "It's just offered me some truly incredible opportunities."

BURST from 2A

it was never a specific goal of hers – rather, it was the result of several smaller, consistent goals she set for herself.

A strong student in elementary and middle school, she recalled being at an awards ceremony with her mother and learning about the Principal's List.

"I asked my mom what that was, and she said it was for students with all A's. And I was like, OK, I'm going to get that through the rest of my schooling," Burst said. "I set goals and the (salutatorian) honor kind of just followed with it."

She also credited building relationships with both teachers and classmates as major assists toward the honor.

"I was never upset to go to school – I knew I'd see all those friendly faces each day," Burst said.

Burst is headed to Louisiana Tech where she plans to study elementary education. That career path follows in the footsteps of her mother, Gina, who is assistant principal at Mimosa Park Elementary and served as a kindergarten and first grade teacher at Norco Elementary School for 14 years and then as assistant principal at Allemands Elementary.

"I was never upset to go to school – I knew I'd see all those friendly faces each day,"

— Hannah Burst

When Burst was an elementary school student, she would follow her mother around the school campus as the latter went about her day as a teacher. And Burst would find more inspiration when she moved on to Harry Hurst Middle School - Sammi Caillouet, who teaches English at Hurst, was another major influence for Burst.

"She was a really good teacher for me ... it all kind of just sparked that inspiration of wanting to be a teacher," Burst said. "I've always had good teachers who were good role models and I want to be that for other people. And I've always wanted to have a job that I could serve others and help them."

Burst was a member of the Desty Darlings, the National Honor Society, the National English Honor Society, the Hispanic Honor Society, the Student Council, Beta Club and Mu Alpha Theta.

As a senior, she helped spur the Destys to national championship honors in Division I Small Varsity Gameday in February.

"That was a big goal of ours and we put in a lot of work for that achievement ... I'll always remember that," Burst said.

Performing at football games with her dance teammates is also something she'll cherish.

"Those football games, it was always so fun to see all the students and our community coming together to support our players," Burst said.

Though she kept a very busy schedule, Burst also volunteered her time to help others and was recognized for that by the St. Charles Parish Rotary Club, which awarded Burst and Hahnville High's Corban Burrell the organization's Young Person of the Year honors.

She has volunteered at the Alligator Festival and Special Olympics, and has assisted with holiday events at the school district's Head Start centers. Burst has also assisted teachers at Allemands Elementary School, helping to alleviate some of their workload, and also has worked with a speech pathologist to help make adapted books for special education students who have communication difficulties.

Loyd J Bourgeois awards 2026 scholarships to three St. Charles Parish graduates

Two Hahnville High School graduates and one Destrehan High School graduate have been selected as recipients of the 2026 LJB Legal Scholarship, a scholarship created by local attorney Loyd J. Bourgeois to recognize students whose lives have been shaped by serious injury, illness, disability, or other significant health challenges.

This year's recipients are Olivia Whitaker and Ryleigh Charpentier of Hahnville High School and Glorianne Bundick of Destrehan High School.

The scholarship awards $2,000 to each recipient to help support their college education.

The LJB Legal Scholarship was first awarded in 2024 to a single graduating senior. In 2025, the program expanded to provide one scholarship to a Hahnville High School graduate and one scholarship to a Destrehan High School graduate.

Applicants were required to submit a 300 to 500-word essay on the topic, "How a Serious Injury or Health Challenge Has Impacted Me or Someone I Love."

This year, the essays left a lasting impression on the LJB Legal team.

"Our scholarship asks applicants to share deeply personal experiences about injury, disability, and perseverance," said Bourgeois, founder of Loyd J Bourgeois Injury & Accident Lawyer. "This year, the essays were so powerful and inspiring that choosing just two winners felt impossible for our team. Then we realized, 'Hey, we make the rules, let's give three.'"

"At LJB Legal, we understand the profound impact a disability or serious injury can have on an individual and their loved ones," Bourgeois said. "Every day our team sees the resilience it takes for families to move forward after difficult medical challenges. We are proud to recognize students like Olivia, Ryleigh, and Glorianne, who have shown determination, compassion, and perseverance while pursuing their goals."

Olivia Whitaker

Olivia Whitaker plans to attend Nicholls State University, where she will study kinesiology and work toward her goal of becoming a strength and conditioning coach. Whitaker has faced years of medical challenges connected to a brain tumor diagnosis but remained active throughout high school. At Hahnville, she played soccer, joined the track team, participated in Beta Club and Interact Club, and helped coach swimming. She also participated in basketball, softball, and tennis throughout her life. Whitaker hopes to one day help athletes improve their performance and physical health through her future career.

Inspired in part by the loss of a close family member, Ryleigh Charpentier will attend Southeastern Louisiana University to major in nursing before pursuing her physician assistant degree at University of New Orleans. During high school, Charpentier earned Magna Cum Laude honors, was recognized as an ACT Scholar, and completed her Medical Assistant certification while also graduating from River Parishes Community College with an associate degree.

Ryleigh Charpentier

She also participated in Advanced Placement courses, band as a flute player, and talented music programs while balancing the demands of college coursework and healthcare training.

Glorianne Bundick will attend Emory University, where she plans to major in business with a concentration in entrepreneurship and music with a concentration in vocal studies. Bundick's experiences helping support her family during her mother's chronic illness helped shape her maturity, compassion, and drive to succeed. During her time at Destrehan High School, Bundick distinguished herself academically, artistically, and through community service.

Her accomplishments include participation in LMEA All-State Honor Choir, ACDA All-State Honor Choir, District Honor Choir, and Parish Honor Choir. She earned Superior ratings in International Thespian Society musical theatre competitions and participated in numerous productions, including "Mamma Mia," "Hadestown," "Shrek the Musical," and "Harry Potter and the Cursed Child."

Bundick also served as a section leader in varsity and treble choir, founded

Glorianne Bundick

Career Compass, earned the Bilingual Seal, completed more than 200 hours of community service, and graduated Summa Cum Laude.

The LJB Legal Scholarship was created to support students whose lives have been affected by serious injury, disability, or long-term health challenges, whether personally or through someone they love.

"At Loyd J Bourgeois Injury & Accident Lawyer, we are deeply invested in our community and the future of its youth," Bourgeois said. "Education can open doors and create opportunities, especially for students who have already faced difficult obstacles. We are honored to support these outstanding young people as they begin the next chapter of their lives."

First National Bank USA provides financial guidance for recent graduates

As new graduates prepare to transition into the workforce, First National Bank USA is providing tips to help put them on the road to a prosperous financial future.

“Graduation marks the start of a new chapter — one that often includes new financial responsibilities,” said Brandt Dufrene, President and CEO. “As a trusted financial partner in our community, First National Bank USA works with individuals at every stage of their financial journey, helping them evaluate their financial picture and develop a plan aligned with their short- and long-term goals.”

Tips to help graduates prepare for major financial lifecycle events:

- Start a budget: Use tools to track your income, expenses, and savings.

Brandt J. Dufrene
Chairman, President, & CEO
First National Bank USA

Establishing a budget early helps build strong financial habits and prevents overspending.

- Prioritize debt management: Consider making extra payments on student loans or refinancing options to lower interest rates. If you have federal student loans, explore income-driven repayment options that adjust your monthly payments based on your income.

- Build a credit history: Start with a low-limit or secured credit card to build credit. This is critical for future major purchases and may even impact your ability to secure job opportunities.

- Invest in yourself: Explore opportunities to support professional development. Many employers offer education benefits or tuition reimbursement programs that can offset costs and lead to long-term career growth.

- Automate savings: Setting up automatic transfers at First National Bank USA to a savings account. Even small, regular contributions can grow into significant savings over time and provide a cushion against unexpected life events.

- Understand taxes: For many new graduates, taxes can be confusing. Ask about financial tools or resources available to ensure you're filing correctly and maximizing refunds.

“Building sound financial habits early can make a meaningful difference over time,” Dufrene said. “By working with a local banker, individuals can develop and maintain good financial habits, creating a framework to help them develop an action plan and put their finances to work.”

To learn more about how to take control of your financial future, contact First National Bank USA at (985) 785-8411.

Tigers alum Theriot helped propel team to NJCAA World Series

Posted .317 average as Jones College went 41-18, won regional crown with sweep

Ryan Arena Editor
ryana@heraldguide.com

Talan Theriot was well known as a big game player on the baseball diamond at Hahnville.

That's still true at the college level.

Theriot, a sophomore, helped propel Jones Community College to its first National Junior College Athletic Association World Series appearance in a decade, the Bobcats last reaching the tournament in 2016, which was also the school's last national baseball championship.

Jones won the Region 23 championship by sweeping Northwest Mississippi Community College in the Ellisville Super Regional. The Bobcats' season came to a close with a 7-1 loss to Iowa Central on Monday, the team's second loss of the double-elimination World Series bracket after an 8-4 loss to Madison. Jones won its World Series opener against Frederick, 8-2. The World Series took place at Enid, Okla.

It didn't wipe away what was a breakthrough season for Theriot and the Bobcats. Jones went 41-18 this season en route to its first regional championship in a decade – going 3-0 at the regional. It was the third regional championship in the program's history.

Theriot started 51 games for Jones this season. He posted a .317 batting average with 25 RBIs and a .471 on-base percentage – the latter number tied for third best among starters. He also made an impact on the bases, stealing 10 bags. Theriot only struck out 16 times this season while walking 29 times and he scored 48 runs.

His best game of the regular season at the plate came against East Central – Theriot went 4-for-4 at the plate and scored three runs while driving in two.

But he may have saved his biggest impact for postseason play. In the clincher of the Bobcats' regional championship series win over Northwest, he went 2-for-4 with a home run, three RBIs and a run scored. Theriot's homer gave Jones a 5-1 lead in what ultimately became a 10-6 victory.

His sophomore year followed a debut season in 2025 that saw him start all 50 of his team's games, the lone freshman to do so. He hit .295 with 12 doubles, a triple, 21 RBIs and 11 stolen bases, and his 44 runs scored were the second most on the Bobcats. Theriot had 12 multi-hit games, including four

HHS alum Roussel earns 1st team All-Conference honors

Senior shortstop batted .388, helped lead squad to conference crown

Ryan Arena Editor
ryana@heraldguide.com

Former Hahnville standout Sara Roussel wrapped up an impressive college career by helping Georgia Gwinnett capture its ninth consecutive conference championship this season.

Roussel made the All-Continental Athletic Conference Tournament team via her postseason performance – which included a clutch, go-ahead RBI double in the bottom of the fifth inning of GGC's conference-tournament clinching win over Florida National. That plated what proved to be the game-winning run in a 4-3 victory.

GGC's season ended with a loss to William Carey at the NAIA national tournament. The Grizzlies went 30-24 overall and earned the 3 seed in their bracket, winning its tournament opener against Coastal Georgia before losses to Carey and Marian.

Roussel was named to the All-CAC Conference First Team this season. She tallied a .388 batting average in 54 starts with eight doubles and a triple. Roussel drove in 32 runs and scored 33 while getting on base at a .455 clip. She struck out just six times this season – and just 14 times in total over her 106 games played at Georgia Gwinnett. She also stole 18 bases this season.

three-hit games.

And just as he did as a sophomore, he brought his A-game to the postseason, going 8-for-16 at the Region 23 tournament with two doubles and two RBIs. He got it done in the classroom as well – he earned Distinguished Academic All-MACCC status and was a two-time JC President's List member.

At Hahnville, Theriot was the Tigers' leader at the plate and on the mound alike. His senior year saw him bat .427 with 13 doubles, two triples and 30 RBIs en route to District 7-5A MVP status. He was a four-time All-District selection.

Hahnville went 22-11 in 2024, his senior season, winning district championship honors – that crown was clinched with Theriot on the hill as he pitched a four-hit, one-run complete game in a 7-1 win over Destrehan.

Sara Roussel of Georgia Gwinnett.

Florida National to seal conference championship honors, Roussel went 4-for-6 with two RBIs and a stolen base. She perhaps played her best softball down the stretch – including that series, she went 10-for-15 over her team's final five games prior to the national tourney.

She was named second-team All-Conference in 2025, her first season with Georgia Gwinnett after a very strong run at LSU-Eunice that culminated in her being named LSU-Eunice's Female Athlete of the Year for her final season with the school.

There, she started 48 games and batted .299, with 28 stolen bases in 29 attempts. She scored 43 runs and drove in 14 more while getting on base at a .391 clip. She was stellar with the glove, recording a .988 fielding percentage for an LSU-Eunice team that went 42-14 in 2024.

She is tied for first all-time at LSUE in career triples with nine and has the second highest single season mark with 5. She is seventh all-time in stolen bases with 49.

At Hahnville, Roussel manned shortstop – very, very well. She was also exceptional with the bat, batting .550 in her senior season with a .609 on-base percentage. She helped the Tigers earn the District 7-5A championship and a trip to the Class 5A state quarterfinals.

Roussel scored 48 runs, drove in 25 runs and wreaked havoc when running, stealing 18 bases. She hit 10 doubles and three triples in her final year, which culminated in her being named to the Class 5A All-State team. She was also named District 7-5A Offensive MVP as a senior.

O, Father Thine is the Kingdom, the power

Yes dear Lord, You have all power on Earth as it is in Heaven.

You give us our daily bread, the bread of life each & everyday to all of us.

Your love is beyond measure.

No love can ever be found as yours, Lord.

You give us all a measure of love & faith so help us to use it as You see fit.

As much as a small grain of mustard seed is all we need if we exercise it when we put it to work & trust & obey the sins & damnation of Hell & its horrors.

What Love? Our Father's Love!

Jesus sacrificed all to obey His father & save us all from sins. What sacrifice?

Jesus did & we accepted His gift when we give our all to Him & thank & pray to Him each & everyday.

Let us pay our love to God, the Father God
the Son & God the Holy Spirit.

Amen!

2. Add the Following Work Items:
a. New Contract Item: Sand Fill

b. New Contract Item: Culvert/Prep Pad Area

3. Revise the Following Work Item Quantities:
Contract Item #: 331100 Water Utility Distribution System
Lump sum was increased due to quantity increase needed for the 6-inch waterline tie-in location at the fire hydrant on Down the Bayou Road. See attached change order request #02.

Total of Change in Work Items Quantity = (+$4,750.04)

Reason for Change Order: List a reason for each Line Item listed above.

- Deleted Work Items
N/A
- Add Work Items
 - Sand Fill: DDG initially estimated that a net surplus of approximately 4,475 cubic yards (CY) of material was present onsite and would require reworking and grading to meet the design template. This estimate was based on the Phase I as-built survey dated November 4, 2024. However, upon review of Cycle's pre-construction survey, it was determined that a material deficit existed, and that an additional 4,500 CY would be required to achieve the design grades. Cycle subsequently hauled in the 4,500 CY; however, after placement, grading, and compaction, the site remained deficient, and Cycle was authorized to import an additional 1,000 CY. The submitted truck tickets indicate that a total of 5,544 CY was ultimately necessary to achieve the required grades within the parking area, which was verified by survey data provided by Cycle on April 1, 2026. DDG attributes the need for the additional material to settlement and erosion, primarily resulting from wind and surface runoff.
 - Culvert/Prep Pad Area: To achieve the design grades within the landscaped areas, topsoil is required to support the establishment of grass seed where specified. A stockpile of topsoil is currently located on site, and Cycle was permitted to utilize this material. To facilitate access to the stockpile, Cycle is required to procure and install a culvert to cross an existing ditch for material transport.

3. Revise Work Item Quantities:
Contract Item: 331100 Water Utility Distribution System
Upon commencement of the waterline work, Cycle identified a discrepancy in the location of the proposed waterline tie-in on the north side of the project site. The design plans indicated that the existing municipal waterline extended to the project limits along Down the Bayou Road on the north side of the site, based on GIS data provided during design. However, field investigation revealed that the existing waterline terminated approximately 83 feet short of the location shown on the plans.

As a result, an additional 83 LF of 6" pipe installation was required, along with all associated materials and labor necessary to complete the work.
