Parish public schools add social-emotional curriculum to all schools

Meghan McCune Reporter
meghanm@heraldguide.com

This year, St. Charles Parish Public Schools will implement a social-emotional curriculum at all schools, after it piloted the program at select schools last year.

The 7 Mindsets program teaches students to develop positive mindsets, resilience, healthy relationships and life skills they can use inside and outside school, according to the district. The district is spending $139,000 from its general fund on a one-year subscription of the curriculum. The cost includes the classroom curriculum, small-group lessons and professional development for employees.

During the pilot year, the program was used at Destrehan and Hahnville high schools, all four middle schools, the Landry Educational Programs Center and Lakewood, Luling and R.J. Vial elementary schools.

Allemands, Ethel Schoeffner, Mimosa Park, New Sarpy, Norco and St. Rose elementary schools are implementing it for the first time this year.

Meghan Dwyer, the equity and social emotional learning coordinator for SCPPS, said the district saw promising data and received positive feedback from schools that piloted 7 Mindsets during the 2025-26 school year. For example, some behavioral incidents decreased overall from the previous school year, with the most significant decrease of 48 percent occurring at the high school level.

“While these early trends are encouraging, it is important to note that this was the first year of implementation, and it is too early to attribute changes or outcomes specifically to 7 Mindsets,” Dwyer said. “As implementation continues, the district will monitor trends in student attendance, discipline, school climate,

Parish Council to consider new e-bike, e-scooter regulations

Meghan McCune Reporter
meghanm@heraldguide.com

A proposed ordinance that would establish new rules for e-bikes, e-scooters and other motorized cycles is headed before the St. Charles Parish Council.

A public hearing on the proposal is scheduled for Sept. 14 at the St. Charles Parish Courthouse in Hahnville.

Sheriff Greg Champagne said there have been a few accidents involving serious injuries as the use of e-vehicles has increased in the parish.

“There have also been many close calls,” Champagne said. “Drivers are concerned about the manner in which many of these vehicles are being operated by young children.”

He said drivers have reported seeing young riders fail to stop at stop signs, operate the vehicles recklessly and commit other traffic violations.

The Parish Courthouse sits in Hahnville. A proposed ordinance before the Council would regulate e-bikes, e-scooters and other motorized vehicles for the first time.

“The message I have been getting from the public is, ‘something needs to be done,’” Champagne said. “This is not an issue unique to St. Charles Parish. It is nationwide.”

Champagne said state laws and local ordinances regulating electric bicycles, electric scooters and electric motorcycles have not kept pace with the rapidly advancing technology.

“We began to do research about whether other parishes and cities had written ordinances

St. Charles United Methodist Church will host its first Back to School Community Market Sunday from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. at 1905 Ormond Boulevard in Destrehan.

Tourist commission names longtime parish educator as new executive director

Ryan Arena Editor
ryana@heraldguide.com

The River Parishes Convention, Visitors and Tourist Commission appointed longtime St. Charles Parish educator Craig Howat as its new executive director.

Howat is a Hahnville resident who has taught students for 31 years. He has served as the facilitator of the Hotel, Restaurant and Tourism course at St. Charles Parish Public Schools' Satellite Center since 2002. He also taught a culinary arts class at the center.

He is a co-founder of Swamp School along with fellow educator and longtime Harry Hurst science teacher Barry Guillot. The effort was initially put together with their children in mind, but long after their young ones grew up and moved on, the school continues working with hundreds of students each summer, cultivating and fostering a love of outdoor activities as well as an appreciation for nature.

Howat has also worked with the New Orleans Saints as the team's Gameday Coordinator and has long been active in his church community at St. Charles Borromeo Catholic Church, serving on the church's pastoral council. He has also coached youth sports in the community.

"31 years, thousands of students, and a lifetime of unforgettable memories," Howat wrote in a post to social media. "Teaching has always been about the shared human experience and the lifelong relationships built along the way. My fondest memories come from taking learning outside the classroom walls. Whether sitting around a campfire with my LES 5th graders at Wetland Watcher Park, navigating international travel in Calgary and Quebec, or making our annual pilgrimage to the French Quarter and Jazz Fest, seeing the world through my students' eyes, encouraging their curiosity, practicing perseverance and opening doors to the wider world made every year a new adventure. I will miss it."

Craig Howat

"To my former students, HRT alumni, colleagues, parents, families, and community: thank you for being a part of this journey and trusting me with my crazy ideas. You made these 31 years deeply fulfilling. I am endlessly grateful for the memories. I step into my next adventure with a full heart and priceless memories. It has been an honor to serve as your teacher."

student well-being, and sense of belonging. Over time, continued implementation and data collection will provide a clearer picture of the program's impact."

Elementary and middle school students will participate in lessons each week. The lessons will be taught over two days during morning meetings or advisory periods. High school students will have a 30-minute 7 Mindsets advisory period each Wednesday.

Dwyer said the expansion of the program helps meet the district's Long Range Strategic Action Plan, which calls for, in part, programs and services that support children academically, socially, emotionally and physically.

"As we expand 7 Mindsets districtwide, we hope to create a shared language across our school community that fosters personal growth, strengthens positive relationships, and increases a sense of belonging for both students and employees," she said. "This common language reinforces our districtwide theme of 'You Belong Here' and helps create a culture where everyone feels connected, supported, and valued."

Before the expansion, employees from the six remaining schools and several district departments attended introductory sessions on the program. Hayden Shickler, 7 Mindsets regional sales director, and Julie Spierto, strategic customer success manager, led the training.

Employees learned about the curriculum's seven central mindsets and explored ways to apply its principles in their professional and personal lives. The sessions also allowed employees to experience the program from an adult perspective before introducing it to students.

Destrehan and Hahnville high school students participated in program kickoff events during the schools' staggered start days Aug. 10 and 11.

The district's partnership with 7 Mindsets has also provided students with opportunities outside the classroom.

Four students attended the 7 Mindsets Ultimate Life Summit this summer through sponsorships provided by 7 Mindsets: Hahnville High School student Kayla Dupre and Destrehan High School students Shaylynn Green, Benjamin Hall and Liberty Thomas.

During the summit, Hall and Thomas received the Unlimited Potential Scholarship, which recognizes students who exhibit leadership, determination, compassion and exceptional potential. Hall and Thomas each received a $3,700 grant and became part of a mentorship network designed to support recipients as they pursue their educational, professional and personal goals.

and we found almost none," Champagne said. "Myself and staff got together and researched state law and national standards before we drafted the proposed ordinance."

The Sheriff's Office presented the draft to the Parish Council's Legislative Committee, and Council member Holly Fonseca agreed to sponsor the ordinance.

"If the council chooses to pass the ordinance, we plan to do an educational campaign, including instructional videos, which we hope will make everyone who operates one of these e-vehicles safer," Champagne said. "We have already begun working on the script and video."

The ordinance would set a 20-mph speed limit for electric-assisted bicycles, electric scooters and electric dirt bikes on parish roads, streets, sidewalks and highways. It would also require riders younger than 17 to wear an approved bicycle helmet.

Riders would not be allowed to carry more passengers than a vehicle is designed to accommodate, and the ordinance would restrict cellphone use, including texting and accessing social media, while operating the vehicles.

The ordinance would also prohibit reckless or careless operation and would also prohibit certain activities, including riding on one wheel, operating at an unsafe speed, passing too close to pedestrians and holding on to a moving vehicle.

The proposed ordinance also addresses higher-speed vehicles. Motorized bicycles, motor-driven cycles, electric-assisted bicycles, electric scooters and electric dirt bikes capable of speeds greater than 28 mph would be subject to requirements including a driver's license, liability insurance, registration and an approved helmet. The ordinance carries fines of $100 to $500, plus court costs.

"This is not about us giving citations or collecting fines," Champagne said. "It is about safety. A serious accident involving an e-bike or scooter not only affects that child, but it also has a detrimental impact on the automobile motorist who must live with the fact that a child had been injured or killed, even though it was not their fault."

Champagne said the proposed ordinance may not prevent a child from being seriously injured or killed, but it is an effort to make parish streets safer for all.

"We need parents to pay attention and have the safety talk with their children if they choose to buy one of these vehicles," he said.

the hearts of residents.

“To be able to have an event where no money is exchanged and you can grab a binder or pens or whatever you need, that’s very special,” Anderson said. “We just want to show God’s love.”

The event will also include free food and kids’ activities, including a bounce house and a book raffle.

A group of volunteers will sort donations, while residents collect supplies inside the church’s fellowship hall.

Anderson, a St. Charles Parish native, said the idea for the community market was inspired by the household swaps she participated in with her friends.

“When I became missions director, I was like, ‘Why don’t we do this for the community for back-to-school season?’” Anderson said. “The hope is that this picks up to where we can do a holiday swap and a spring swap. No money exchanged. Just bring what you don’t need or want anymore and then pick up what you do.”

Anderson said school supplies are always needed because they’re consumable.

“Everything is getting so expensive,” she said. “We’re hoping [the event] gives people what they need.”

Any leftover donations will be given to schools and other ministries, Anderson said.

Anderson said she has been a member of the church for about nine years. She led the church’s pumpkin patch event before becoming director of church missions.

“I just decided that I wanted to help other people and be the hands and feet of God,” she said. “And especially now in this day and age, I think it’s important to care for other people and open up our hearts.”

She said church members want to provide more community-based events that bring neighbors to the church campus.

“What we’re hoping is when the community sees what’s happening, that they’ll want to participate in the next swap that we do,” Anderson said. “We want this to be a St. Charles Parish thing – bringing neighbors together and donating what you don’t need and taking what you do and just hanging out.”

Youth basketball registration opens Sept. 1

Meghan McCune Reporter
meghanm@heraldguide.com

Young basketball players across the parish will soon have a chance to lace up their sneakers and hit the court for another season of hoops.

Registration for the parish's 2026-27 youth basketball season will open Sept. 1, with boys and girls ages 5 to 15 eligible to participate.

The Department of Parks and Recreation will accept registrations through Sept. 19.

Grayson Touchard, a spokesperson for the department, said there is no cap on the number of children who can participate as long as they register by the deadline.

"We do not cap our limit for registrations," Touchard said. "We allow everyone to play if they register on time."

Last year, 902 boys and girls registered for the parish's basketball program.

The upcoming season will run from November through January. Once teams are formed, practice schedules are largely determined by individual coaches and their availability. Touchard said most teams average about two practices per week.

Financial planning for emergencies

In recognition of the upcoming National Disaster Preparedness Month and the height of Hurricane Season, First National Bank USA in Boutte, Louisiana is reminding consumers to take proactive steps to safeguard their financial well-being and better prepare for, and recover from, unplanned life events.

“While not every emergency is preventable, advance planning can lessen the financial fallout,” said Brandt Dufrene, President and CEO at First National Bank USA. “As your trusted local banker, we can help with financial planning—before, during, and after an emergency—so you can focus on the health and safety of your loved ones while reducing financial stress.”

First National Bank USA offers several financial preparedness advice as customers prepare and regain their financial wherewithal following a natural disaster.

Brandt J. Dufrene
Chairman, President, & CEO
First National Bank USA

- Establish an emergency fund specifically for crises and keep some cash on hand in case ATMs or digital banking services are temporarily down.
 - Secure essential documents such as insurance policies, property deeds, and medical powers of attorney in a waterproof and fireproof container or digitally on a secure platform.
 - Maintain an up-to-date inventory of personal and household valuables and use photo or video to document their value and determine replacement costs.
 - Prepare backup communications plans if both cellular and landline services falter.
 - Evaluate your coverage for natural disasters, especially flood insurance, which is often separate from homeowners’ policies. Consult your insurance agent or visit Federal Emergency Management Agency’s (FEMA) website for more information and to download an Emergency Financial First Aid Kit with additional resources to get started planning today.
- “Local bankers often serve on the front lines in times of crisis,” said First National Bank USA President and CEO Brandt Dufrene. “Call on them to help you prepare, and if disaster strikes, help you navigate the financial recovery process.”

Landen Teague

Quarterback

Landen Teague enters his senior season as Hahnville quarterback and brings plenty of experience to the huddle. This will be his third season as the team’s starter, leading the team to a 17-6 record in that timeframe while tallying 42 touchdown passes.

“He’s had a good offseason, both in the summer and spring,” said Hahnville head football coach Greg Boyne. “I don’t know if I remember one interception in all of the 7 on 7s we played. He knows what we want to do and he knows the offense inside and out. He’s working with a different group of wideouts, but a couple of those guys have been there with him for the past two years, so he’s got a high level of comfort with them.”

Boyne said Teague took a big step forward last year, and that the Tigers are looking for an even bigger year from him.

“He was obviously very comfortable and had a phenomenal year for us,” said Boyne. “I think that next step where we see him kind of putting the team on his back and running with it.”

With 23 starts under Teague’s belt, it gives Boyne a different kind of comfort level - as well as excitement - as an offensive play caller.

“To know the offense is one thing, but to learn when defenses do certain things, little nuances of a defense, as a high school kid ... when he sees a team rolling coverages, he not only recognizes it, he knows what to do. He knows what the receiver should be doing. He’ll tell me, ‘Coach, let me explain (to the receiver) how I want to do this, and 99.9 percent of the time it’s exactly how we need it to be,’ Boyne said.

Sophomore Madden Mayeux will back up Teague this season.

Running back

It’s been a different type of offseason from a year ago for senior Fabian Celestine, who spent his 2025 preseason ramping up after rehabilitating a broken leg suffered late in the 2024 season.

Hahnville has long had a great tradition of highly productive rushers. Celestine is another, and brings game-breaking speed to the equation. He recently committed to Northwestern State, where he will play at the collegiate level.

“He’s a leader on this team,” said Boyne. “He’s become more vocal. Whoever was getting him was going to be lucky – he’s grown up and developed into a Division I talent, and committing to a Division I program is proof of that. It’s been really fun to watch. He’s a humble, quiet kid, just like Landen.”

TIGERS from 2C

Fabian Celestine

Celestine rushed for more than 1,500 yards and 18 touchdowns last season.

Boyne said Celestine has dedicated himself in the weight room and to taking care of his body to stay at his best on the field.

“Not that he wasn’t before, but he’s really dedicated himself to that this off-season,” said Boyne. “He’s had a couple soft tissue things that never stopped him from playing, but slowed him down. He’s healthy and he’s ready to go.”

Senior Treson Fields and junior Jackson Porter will be his primary backups, leading a group that also includes sophomore Demari Celestin and junior Jah’mar Lewis. This is a position with quality depth, and Fields and Porter are each experienced players. Porter is returning to the field after a shoulder injury ended his 2025 season.

“They’ve got a tight-knit group,” said Boyne. “When they’re doing ball security drills, they knock the heck out of each other. I think they make each other better.”

Boyne said Porter will move around to different spots to get onto the field, including the slot - he practices with both the receivers and running backs, and also mixes in as Wildcat quarterback, as Bennett Naquin did a year ago.

Fields did not play football as a sophomore, but returned last year. The compact, physical back scored a touchdown in last week’s scrimmage against Holy Cross, pushing his way through contact for the score.

“He might not have gotten it last year, but he’s stronger now and was able to push the pile,” Boyne said. “In the weight room, he’s one of our strongest kids in a lot of the lifts.”

Receiver and tight end

Seniors Aaron Williams and Kaiden Bran already have established chemistry with Teague. Williams made one of the highlight plays of the scrimmage against

Holy Cross, getting his defender to bite on a double move and hauling in a long touchdown that tied the exhibition’s score with just seconds left in the timed quarter portion. Williams will play on the outside, Bran in the slot.

“They’re very reliable,” said Boyne. “There’s a trust level between them and Landen - they’ve grown up together here. We’re expecting great things from both of them.”

Boyne said the team is excited about the group as a whole. Gage Touchard has had a strong offseason and will line up in the slot. Boyne noted Touchard, a junior, adds a physical blocking presence in the run game. Early James, another junior, is another player Boyne said has been a standout this offseason – he was knocked out of last week’s scrimmage with an injury, but Boyne said James might be ready for Week 1.

“He was on fire the other night (before the injury),” said Boyne. “He was having a heck of a game.”

Junior Dwayne Cola is another outside receiver who the Tigers are counting on.

“He’s gained some confidence. He’s developed steadily this offseason,” Boyne said.

Jaylin Lee, a senior transfer from East St. John, stands at 6’3 and is back on the gridiron after focusing on basketball for the last two years. He’ll play on the outside.

Senior Raanan Russ will see time on both sides of the ball - linebacker on defense and tight end/h-back on offense. Russ has played end for Hahnville previously, so he’s learning two new positions. Boyne called Russ a natural at tight end.

“He’s a smart football player. He knows the game, and he knows it from the defensive side too. I think that helps. He knows when he sees certain things, how to adjust and maybe make a block that a guy who hasn’t played defense might not have that kind of grasp on,” Boyne said.

Senior Landon Eckols will see time as well, and junior Kollen Comardelle will play the position while also serving as a long snapper.

Offensive line

Seniors Ja’ron Myles and Kirk Bourgeois and junior Jacob Savage are returning starters. Myles and Bourgeois are the team’s returning tackles – Myles is a two-year starter for the Tigers. Savage returns at guard and brings great size at 6’3 and 300 pounds. Senior Cooper Mathews and junior Gavin Propps are new starters at center and guard, respectively.

Junior Dillon Propps and senior Mason Fielder are the next up and provide good depth.

“I like to have seven guys that are ready to play on a Friday night because you’ll get a helmet knocked off - things happen,” Boyne said. “It’s a very strong group and a very smart, coachable group.”

It’s also a likeable group of guys – though the coaching staff is tough on them, all the same.

“We’re hard on that group. Most coaching staffs are hard on the offensive line because it takes a certain level of toughness to play. And they handle it well. They don't get down when you get on them. They actually get pretty motivated and push each other. And that's exciting because to make any kind of playoff run, you have to be good up front on both sides of the ball. I've enjoyed watching their development."

Defensive line

This is among the Tigers' least experienced position groups, though a talented one. Senior defensive end Beaux Woods began to break out last season, forcing five turnovers as he started the Tigers' last seven games. He's continued making plays and turned in a strong scrimmage performance last week.

"He's gotten stronger and taller," said Boyne. "He's played at a high level through the summer and again on Wednesday night." Junior Levi Verdin will man the interior at tackle, and fellow junior Gage Morales will play end across from Woods. Charles Tobias, at 6'3 and 270 pounds, gives the team a size element that Boyne notes it lacked last season across the defensive line. Tobias hasn't played football since his freshman year.

"He's somebody we're excited about," Boyne said. "We still have some work to do with him on conditioning before the opener, but he'll play and we're looking forward to seeing what he can do."

Braylon Raines, a senior, will rotate in at tackle, and Tyler Martin provides depth along the line. Boyne said the team could mix and match starters depending on matchup. "If I ask Coach (Malter) Scobel, who's your starting D-line tonight, I think a lot of it will depend on who we're playing. The starting group against Shaw might be different than the one a few weeks later against Lutcher," Boyne said.

Lionel Irons

Linebacker

This group is led by Jaeden Downs and Austin Sanchez, playmakers in the middle of the Hahnville defense. Downs, a senior, has built momentum since the pads have gone on, Boyne said. A "tweener" between safety and linebacker in his time at Hahnville, Downs has added weight and Boyne called him one of the Tigers' faster players – and "definitely one of our stronger kids." "He made a bunch of plays the other night (at the scrimmage)," Boyne said. Sanchez, a junior, didn't play as a sophomore, focusing on baseball last year. But Boyne called him an "old school" player. "He's a hitter," Boyne said. "He's looking for contact on almost every play." Seniors Raanan Russ and Avery Benoit and junior Ty Summers will rotate in here as well. Collectively, this is a versatile group. "Just like on the defensive line, depending on formation or what an offense does as a whole from week to week, who starts depends basically on who we're playing," said Boyne.

Defensive back

This group is a strength for the Hahnville defense, with five of the team's top six defensive backs having significant experience. Senior safety Brayden Fontenot started every game last season at free safety and Boyne said he knows this defense inside and out. "He missed some time on the field this offseason because he couldn't do contact," Boyne said of Fontenot, who returned from wrist surgery. "He was back last week and it was like all of the pieces of the puzzle fell into place. He knows the calls. He knows what the front is supposed to be doing. He knows what motions happen. He's got that experience and football smarts." Senior cornerback Aaron Walker, meanwhile, is someone Boyne said is knowledgeable in much the same way. "He's really matured," said Boyne. "He may be the most knowledgeable football player on the team. He knows our offense, almost by formation and where the running back is, he can almost tell you what's coming. Either this or that. 'How did you see that?' 'Well Coach, the back was lined up this way.' He's very football savvy." Cornerback Lionel Irons started every game last year as a sophomore; Drake Weber almost all at strong safety. Both have proven to be quality starters. Senior Nicholas Troxler saw considerable playing time as well, and Boyne said he has a good offseason. Junior Jeremiah Brickhouse is another promising player at strong safety, but will miss some time with injury. Sophomore Jerod Grant flashed his own potential last season as he earned playing time as a freshman. He has played as a receiver, running back and defensive back on the freshman and JV teams; he intercepted a pass against Holy Cross last week.

"This is a good group - a physical group," Boyne said. "We haven't really had that kind of presence since Jacob Jeffrey was here two years ago. Guys are a year older, a year stronger. They look like they're flying around more and have a little more edge and physicality to what they're doing now."

Specialists

Juniors Jiang Chen and Landon Aymond will handle field goal and kick-off duties, while Brody Raines will be the punter. The trio will look to replace Myles Borey, the team's kicker and punter for the past three seasons who graduated this year. Brayden Fontenot, Kaiden Bran and Aaron Williams will be the team's punt returners. Gage Touchard, Drake Weber and Williams appear set to get the first reps on kickoff returns. Kollen Comardelle and Bran will handle long snapping.

CHEERLEADERS

Ryan Arena Editor
ryana@heraldguide.com

Just as it brings added excitement to the sideline at Tiger Stadium on Friday nights, the Hahnville cheerleading team enters the year equally eager to leap into competition.

This year's Tiger squad brings plenty of cheerleading experience. The team is led by captains Olivia Julien, Abigail Jefferson and McKinley Mitchell, along with lieutenant Shae'lynn Lockett.

Hahnville coach Cameron Matthews said all four have shown tremendous dedication and commitment throughout their time in the program.

"They are fantastic leaders and continuously push themselves and their peers to be the best they can be," said Matthews.

This year's team has 27 returning athletes and adds 12 new cheerleaders.

"Our JV team is full of newbies, while our varsity team is very experienced this year," said Matthews.

Matthews said among the chief goals each year are to teach each team member real-life skills - such as time management, dedication, problem-solving, and resilience - that will help them far beyond their high school days.

"Each season our goal is to push each cheerleader to not only become a better athlete, but also become a more well-rounded person. We emphasize the importance of being a leader on and off the sideline,"

"There are 20 girls on our competition team this year and we are so excited to hit the mat in early November," Matthews said. "And as always, we are excited to continue yelling 'Geaux Tigers!' all season long."

Matthews said.

The Tigers are especially excited about the return of the LHSAA state cheerleading competition. Matthews said the team is embracing the chance to represent their school at state. The squad will also be partnering with the Hi-Steppers dance team to compete together in a spirit program routine.

Last year's team won Mobile Regionals and reached the finals of the Game Day division at the National High School Cheerleading Championships. The team competed in three elimination-style rounds and placed in the top 20 of more than 80 competing teams.

BAND

ryana@heraldguide.com

When asked if this year's band was experienced or underclassmen heavy, Hahnville band director Daniel Terrebonne had a simple answer.

"Yes, and yes," he quipped.

The HHS marching band enters the 2026-27 school year with a unique opportunity to not only perform at a very high level in the present, but also to set the table for the future in a big way.

This year's band has a very large senior class – and, at the same time, a huge influx of freshmen with 40 in the class. Band director Daniel Terrebonne said that this is the largest freshman group that the band has had in quite some time.

With that kind of blend of youth and experience, it sets up nicely for the older group to show the newcomers the ropes. Terrebonne said the seniors are doing that and more.

"Working with the group this year has been wonderful," Terrebonne said. "We have a large group of seniors who have really stepped up as leaders. They have taken ownership of the band and are really beginning to turn this group into a model of what student leadership can look like."

This year's feature show is titled "The Hahnville band leaders Ryley Hilaire, Ava Knowles, Kiley Madere, Harper Dufrene, Elle Johnson and Cheyenne Naquin.

Jungle," featuring the iconic Guns N' Roses song "Welcome to the Jungle" along with other featured music that round out the theme. Terrebonne said the band is planning to use backdrops on the field this year, which will add a new element to the mix.

"The show this year was composed by a team created by one of our recent graduates from the class of 2026," Terrebonne said. "We are very proud to have a Hahnville alumnus writing the show for the band."

Terrebonne said a large part of the focus each year is, of course, on teaching music and developing each year's group as an ensemble. But he said it is also very much about teaching responsibility, leadership, time management, teamwork and being a good citizen, among other important lessons.

"We are also trying to have a big emphasis on community and healthy competition as the years progress," Terrebonne said.

Terrebonne said every year is another chance to see things click for his students, and that it's something that never gets old.

"It's what I look forward to the most," Terrebonne said. "Seeing when various members get their lightbulb moment. A lightbulb moment is when it finally clicks for someone who might have struggled up to that point. For instance, when someone returns for their second year after struggling to march in their first year and all of a sudden they are one of the best marchers in the band. That kid had their lightbulb moment and now the sky is the limit."

HI-STEPPERS

Ryan Arena Editor
ryana@heraldguide.com

The Hahnville Hi-Steppers enter the new season with a young roster, a trio of experienced leaders and plenty of motivation to build upon another successful year of competition.

Leading this year's team are captain Lexi Ford and lieutenants Kaya Nichols and Bentlee Bergeron. Ford is entering her fourth year with the Hi-Steppers, Nichols her third and Bergeron her second.

With 24 dancers on the roster, the Hi-Steppers have a youthful group this season. The team includes three seniors, eight juniors, five sophomores and eight freshmen.

The team will once again compete at both the state and national levels while also preparing routines for football season.

This year the team will compete in a new category and challenge itself by learning more difficult skills.

"We are also introducing a variety of new elements of dance to our team to continue to push our program in all aspects of dance," said Hi-Steppers coach Kiley Voges.

Earlier this year, the Hi-Steppers competed at the State and National level. They competed at the DTU National Championship in Orlando, Florida where they are three-time National

Champions in Small Varsity Team Performance.

They also placed second in Medium Varsity Pom and sixth in Medium Varsity Jazz. They received first place in Team Performance, Pom and Jazz at DTU Regionals. The Hi-Steppers attended UDA camp in New Orleans this past summer where all earned superior rankings qualifying them to attend and compete at the National Dance Team Championship held in Florida. The team will be competing at nationals in February.

Voges said that as much focus and work goes into their routines, the lessons go far beyond that.

"I would like them to succeed in the various genres of dance aside from what they are most comfortable with," said Voges. "I want them to learn that with a dance team comes many life lessons that carry on once they graduate. I want them to understand the importance of setting individual and team goals."

Voges said learning about accountability is equally as important – as well as the lifelong relationships that the dancers will build.

"I also want them to understand the importance of being a part of a team and how their individual decisions and commitments affect all members of the team. Most importantly, I want them to enjoy their time as a Hi-Stepper and create lifelong memories and friends, as high school dance creates a sisterhood within the team," Voges said.

Hahnville

SPOTLIGHT

Ryan Arena Editor
ryana@heraldguide.com

Impressing as a then-sophomore Brayden Fontenot earned the nickname “Mouse” from the Hahnville coaches, as in “Mighty Mouse.” At 5’9 and 175 lbs., Fontenot isn’t the biggest player on the field, but the senior safety’s game stands tall.

Mighty Mouse is a bit of a throw-back reference; that fits, as Hahnville head coach Greg Boyne calls Fontenot a throwback kind of player. And while Fontenot had to sit out at times during the offseason as he recovered from injury, he was ever-anxious to get right back on the field as soon as he could.

“He was itching. ‘I can’t wait to get back,’” Boyne said. “You know, a lot of times with seniors, they’ve been through it multiple times, the spring and summer practices, the early fall practices, it kind of becomes drudgery. They’re ready for the games. But when he had his surgery, I messaged him to see how he was doing and his only answer was, ‘I’m ready to be back out there.’ That’s a throwback approach, to me.”

Boyne said Fontenot “will hit you anywhere, anytime, at any point on the field.”

His instincts have also blossomed as he’s established himself as a play-maker in the Hahnville defensive back-field - something he illustrated in last Wednesday’s scrimmage against Holy Cross, reading a play perfectly and beating the receiver to the ball to intercept it.

“We didn’t have much film on Holy Cross,” Boyne said. “It’s just knowing his job in coverage against that route combination, and that’s something only experience can bring.”

GOOD LUCK

Boyne said the play reminded him of a big play Fontenot made against Thibodaux last year in what became a 34-20 win in Boutte. But Thibodaux was hanging tough in what was a low-scoring game for a half.

“We had a chance to put them away offensively and we didn’t,” Boyne said. “We had a little bit of a lull and we needed something. And then, bam, right there, he gets a pick six. It was a huge, backbreaking play.”

He’s become more of a vocal leader this year as well. Boyne said Fontenot has always led by example, but he’s taken another step this year and was unanimously chosen as a team captain.

Fontenot also brings great versatility, something key in defensive coordinator Malter Scobel’s defense.

“He’s good in coverage but a lot of times, that safety is more of a run-fit guy a lot of times. So, it has to be someone athletic enough to be able to cover, but also physical and willing to mix it up. In his defense, over the years the people who have played that position, it’s usually one of your better football players.”

On the offensive side of the ball, another senior Tiger created a highlight moment in the Holy Cross scrimmage. With his team trailing by a touchdown in the final 30 seconds, Williams beat his defender with a double move and hauled in a deep bomb from Landen Teague to score, leading to a 7-7 final.

The wide receiver began to emerge last season as a go-to player for Teague, and that has carried over to 2026, where Williams is now one of the Tigers’ veteran leaders.

“He’s never lacked confidence, but I think him seeing Landen has that confidence in him has taken him to the next level. He’s always known he can win routes, but now knowing ‘the ball’s coming to me,’ that’s a big hurdle for a lot of receivers. It’s fun to watch when that light comes on and a receiver realizes the coaches and quarterback trust him to be the guy,” Boyne said. “Not everyone can handle it. But I really think he can.”

Williams is set to play collegiately after this school year as he committed to Centenary this month. Like Fontenot, at 5’9 and 170 pounds, Williams doesn’t bring prototypical size. What he does bring – and what certainly garnered Centenary’s attention – are strong hands, crisp route-running and the versatility to play both inside and outside at receiver.

“You don’t have to be 6’2, 6’3 and run a 4.4 - you can catch the football and get open, and be a really good player,” said Boyne. “If you have a good quarterback, and we do, he’ll find you. Aaron blocks. He knows the offense. And he’s a team-first guy.”

Boyne noted that Williams, who primarily played in the slot last year, frequently asked to play more on the outside last season. This year he’ll have ample opportunity to do so as he’ll primarily line up wide - just as he did in last week’s scrimmage.

“And his big catches that night were all on the outside,” Boyne said.

Williams was another unanimous choice as a team captain.

“As coaches, we see him in the weight room, being a leader when practice gets started,” said Boyne. “He’s one of the ones that says it’s time to go, let’s go.”

“As coaches, we see him in the weight room, being a leader when practice gets

Malachi Dabney

Quarterback

Two years ago, then-freshman quarterback A'ushai Smith found himself pressed into action unexpectedly. Destrehan had lost quarterback Jackson Fields to an injury suffered in Week 1 of the 2024 season. Then back-up quarterback J'hase Thomas likewise was unexpectedly sidelined, leaving the first-year varsity passer Smith to take the helm. Smith led the Wildcats to Week 2 and Week 4 victories before Fields returned at midseason, as Destrehan kept its season afloat - and the Wildcats would ultimately march to the Division I non-select semifinals.

"He earned some experience as a freshman, he stepped in and really showed composure. And really that's his big attribute. He's composed. These kids played together through middle school and rec, and they're very familiar with him. They believe in his leadership style," said Scott. "He handled the ups and downs. He was supposed to be our third string quarterback, and then J'hase broke his ankle. He had to play at Alexandria. He played at Terrebonne and he handled that pressure well."

In the team's spring scrimmage with Shaw, the junior quarterback had the chance to show off his rushing ability via a few designed runs.

"He's a dual-threat. He can get out of trouble with his legs and it's definitely a plus. He can add to the run game when necessary," Scott said.

Sophomore Denham Ellsworth will back Smith up.

Running back

Like Smith, Malachi Dabney found a starting role and the spotlight that comes with it much earlier than expected at Destrehan, after then starter Shane Ward was lost for the season with injury in 2024.

Dabney has thrived under the lights. He's posted huge statistical seasons in two consecutive years, including more than 2,000 total yards and 35 touchdowns in his junior season last year. He enters his senior year established as one of Louisiana's true star playmakers. Dabney will also play at the college level, recently committing to Nicholls State.

Scott said competing in track and field gives Dabney an offseason boost and that the running back is ready to roll.

"He's put on some good weight. He'll lead our offense," said Scott.

Dabney has time and time again broken loose for long touchdown runs. It displays his speed, but Scott said Dabney's balance is another big part of that equation.

WILDCATS from 2C

“That’s something that stands out. He can run through arm tackles and keep going. He’s got a low center of gravity that helps him as well. He is able to combine speed and power and you can see the results,” Scott said.

Tony Crump has seen significant time at running back the past two years and has also played linebacker for Destrehan. He’ll be carrying the football again for DHS this season, and Scott said he put together a strong preseason scrimmage last week against East Ascension.

“He ran hard the other day. He normally does,” said Scott. “He adds another dimension to our run game as well. Tony’s a tough kid, a physical, downhill runner.”

Senior Jordan Zeringue and sophomore Landyn Dugas are two players who give Destrehan a lot of flexibility – both can move between playing at running back or lining up in the slot as receiver.

Receiver and tight end

Senior Jaylan Ash returns and is, by far, the most experienced member of this corps of wide receivers.

Ash established himself as a playmaker for Destrehan last season and the team will be counting on him again as a primary target in the passing game.

“Jaylan gives you that threat down the field and makes plays in the short and intermediate game. For us, we’ve got to make sure we put him in position to make plays,” Scott said. “He’s really good at making those contested catches. He’s got leaping ability and makes plays that are off-schedule, kind of what people refer to as acrobatic catches. He has a knack for making plays in traffic.”

Senior Akil Banks, senior Coryan Armstrong and junior Darryl Washington will join Ash at wide receiver, along with Zeringue and Dugas who will each play a hybrid role.

Ryan Montague

“It’s a good group. I’m looking forward to watching them grow as they get experience,” said Scott. “That room is young. They play together ... instead of it being one or two guys, it’s kind of done by committee. That’s good, because everybody has to be ready and contribute. We feel good in that we have some guys who we know can go out there and make plays.”

Scott said in the cases of Zeringue and Dugas, it can make things difficult for the opposing defense when the Wildcats can shift formations without changing personnel.

Senior Brayden Fayard is set to play H-back and should also see snaps on defense at linebacker as well.

“He’s a first-year starter, but he’s been in our program working and getting better since he was a freshman. You love seeing kids come up through the program and earn that opportunity to contribute,” Scott said.

Judah Thornton, Scott said, could also see time at H-back.

Offensive line

This will be another group with some turnover in its ranks.

The line’s most experienced returning player is Jordan Collins, who started at tackle last season and played alongside his brother Earl, who graduated in the spring.

Collins brings great size at 6’4, 305 pounds, and Destrehan is looking for a big year anchoring the line up front.

“He’s stepped up and embraced his role as the leader of that group,” Scott said. “That being said, he’s also still young. But he’s done a good job. We want to see him keep that going.”

Senior Jamiah Giles will start at center and junior Andrew Culver at guard. Scott said the team is still settling the other two spots, with senior Ethan Smith, sophomore Damari Tabb, sophomore Remy McCloskey and senior Judah Thornton all in the mix for playing time.

Scott said the group is showing promise, but also cautioned it will take some time and on-field experience for this group to reach its potential.

Jordan Zeringue

“The main thing is they’re picking up the system,” said Scott. “They’re playing within themselves. The main thing is to get lined up, make plays, and everyone just has to do their job. This is a good, hard-working group. They just need experience – they’re getting better every week.”

Scott said last week’s scrimmage showed the group’s upside, but also that there are things to work on.

“Some good, some bad,” Scott said. “They did some good things and there’s some things we’ve got to fix – but that’s the same story you’ll hear from every coach in America right about now.”

Defensive line

Joshua Fiffie is a returning starter at defensive end and a cornerstone for the Wildcats. The 6’6, 305-pound senior has a 7’1 wingspan and brings size, physicality and experience.

Sophomore defensive tackle Brandon Ross is another player who played extensively last season, and along with senior defensive end Avant Carter will join Fiffie on the starting defensive line.

Senior Christian Ordogne, junior Kamryn Ratcliff and junior Romell Green will also be counted on in the rotation up front.

“It’s a nice sized group. Fiffie and Ross are big kids,” Scott said. “The thing is (for the collective group) they play technique and do their job and showed some really good signs the other day at the scrimmage.”

Linebacker

Senior Cameron Florent broke out in a huge way last season, earning District 8-5A Defensive MVP honors.

“He’s performing well. We’re giving Cam a little more responsibility. He’ll play all over, depending on the gameplan in a given week. He had a strong spring and he gives us some versatility at linebacker for sure. His speed and his motor are big strengths for us,” said Scott.

Junior Malik Lee, senior Blain Picou and sophomore Chandler Scott will join Florent on the field. Picou is a returning starter. Lee is expected to also see time offensively at H-back. Chandler Scott started two games as a freshman, and will also play some safety for the team.

“I’m looking forward to seeing how those guys step up and seeing how they all contribute. They’re progressed nicely as a group. I thought all of them made strides this offseason,” Marcus Scott said.

Defensive back

Senior cornerback Jakyrin Sanchez and senior safety Ryan Montague are among the leaders of a deep, talented and experienced group of defensive backs.

Randy Morgan will start across from Sanchez at the other cornerback spot. Brian Reed Jr. and Tahj Morton are also returning starters from a year ago. Several other players will see time, including senior Donald Thomas, junior Benjamin Robinson and junior Jordan Pate.

“It’s a versatile group with several guys who can play multiple positions,” Scott said. “It helps with injuries, and when you’re playing different types of offenses, having guys who can do multiple different things within that group is a benefit.”

Montague in particular has shown a strong range and ability to do different things within the Wildcats’ defense.

“Ryan is a crafty player. He’s really good playing up in the box but he also has the ability to play corner. He can play both down safety and on the hash. So, he can do multiple things in the secondary that can help,” Scott said.

Sanchez, meanwhile, brings good size at cornerback at 6’2 and 170 pounds.

“He’s learning how to use his length and his body to his advantage,” said Scott. “He started for us at safety as a sophomore. He’s been around the block and brings some experience, and we’re looking forward to a big year from him.”

Specialists

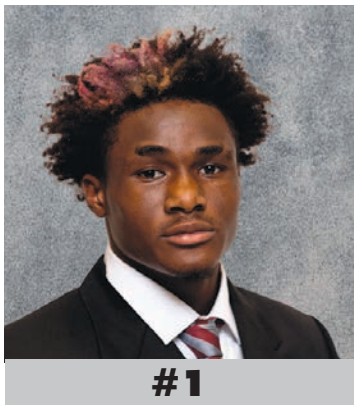

Senior Ian Arceneaux and sophomore Sam Munoz will serve as the team’s placekickers on field goals and kick-offs. Senior Ryan Comeaux returns as the team’s punter. Senior Ben Hall will serve as long snapper, while sophomore Karson Corona will also see time in that capacity.

Jaylan Ash and Landyn Dugas will take on punt return duties, while Ash and Malachi Dabney will return kickoffs.

CHEERLEADERS

Ryan Arena Editor
ryana@heraldguide.com

For Amanda Smith, taking the helm as Destrehan’s new cheer-leading coach is both a new challenge and a return to her roots.

Smith was born and raised in St. Charles Parish and the Montz resident is a Destrehan alum. During the day, she works as a paraprofessional at the Satellite Center, while spending her afternoons as the project director and a dance instructor at Dance Unlimited of Destrehan.

Now she has the opportunity to help her team shape an outstanding Friday night atmosphere at Fighting Wildcat Stadium.

“Working with this group has been a blast,” Smith said. “Everyone has welcomed me with open arms. It’s been a great experience thus far.”

In fact, this fall Friday night football will carry an added significance for her, as her son Ethan is a senior offensive lineman on the Hahnville football team.

“It will be extra special for me this year – go #60!” Smith said.

Leading the team will be officers Rylie Neuburger, Marleigh Nickleson and

Nevaeh Welch.

The squad this year includes 27 cheerleaders. Just two members of that group are freshmen, but there are several other first or second-year cheerleaders on the team.

“We also have some seniors that have been here all 4 years. It’s a perfect mix because our experienced girls have the opportunity to lead and guide our new members,” Smith said.

Smith said there are many components that go into making a successful cheerleading team and that she and assistant coach Ani’yah Rizzio are focused first and foremost on guiding a respected, well-structured team while its team members create some memories that will stick with them for a lifetime.

“I want them to look back in 20 years and remember the bonds they created and the fun they had,” Smith said.

Friday night football is just around the corner and Smith said it can’t come soon enough.

“I am looking forward to the energy that will be brought on Friday Nights,” said Smith. “These girls are so passionate about their Fighting Wildcats and I know they will bring all the spirit to the sidelines. And getting to coach them with my two daughters by my side is just icing on the cake.”

The Pride of Destrehan Fighting Wildcat Band sets the tone for the Friday Night Football atmosphere at Fighting Wildcat Stadium, and this year’s group is eager to do just that once again this season.

This year’s 80-member band is a bit smaller than last year’s group after the graduation of a large senior class. Band director Christopher Williams said this is nonetheless an experienced group, and that its younger members are stepping up to match their veteran counterparts.

“We do have younger players in the band, and many of them are rising to the challenges and expectations of our high level and demand of performance,” Williams said.

Last year, the band program earned several accolades. The marching band finished fourth place in the state, narrowly missing third place by hundredths of a point. The band, percussion and color guard earned superior ratings and percussion earned first place in its class.

The DHS symphonic band earned Sweepstakes at its concert assessment for the second year in a row and was graded with an A in every category from each judge. The band’s indoor percussion group competed at the Winter Guard International regional in Jackson, Miss. and reached the finals for the first time in more than 15 years. It also finished second place in the Magnolia Performing Arts Association circuit.

And Winter Guard climbed from a lower class to be promoted to the next classification after its first show, and went on to earn first place in Scholastic Regional A.

Three band students marched in Drum Corps International. Brayden Bird and James Domangue played in the percussion section at the Blue Knights Drum and Bugle Corps. Ryan Krebs played in the percussion section at the Raiders Drum and Bugle Corps. A large number of the band’s graduating class moved on to play in college band - Williams noted this past year’s senior class has the highest number of alumni to become members of LSU’s Golden Band from Tigerland.

Williams said it’s a joy to work with the students every year.

“I enjoy being around people who make me better, and I’d say that all of my students present something unique that challenges me to be better for them. They make all of the other work that isn’t teaching music and working with them worth the effort,” said Williams.

He also said one thing that remains constant in this band is everyone strives for success.

“We are hungry to be better and more improved than last year. Our students are building a long-lasting culture of success that will be fruitful for the future of our band program,” Williams said. “Music is our medium, and I hope all of my students develop a life-long appreciation for music, but what I want more for them is to be good people.”

DESTY DARLINGS

ryana@heraldguide.com

Few could ever hope to match the championship resume the Desty Darlings dance team has built in recent years.

The Destys are the reigning 2026 UDA National Dance Team Championship champions in D1 Small Varsity GameDay, while also holding 2026 ICU School Performance World Championships in both Hip Hop and Jazz.

The team added several more titles to its collection during the past year, becoming 2026 DTU Regional Champions in Hip Hop and Regional Grand Champions. The Destys also captured UDA Louisiana State Championships in Jazz, Hip Hop and GameDay, becoming the only team at the competition to win its division in every genre it entered.

The national championship required the Destys to advance through three rounds of competition, preliminary, semifinal and final, against a field of strong contenders from across the country.

The Destys will return to both the state and national competition stages this season while also continuing its work on routines for football season.

Leading the program are longtime coach Micque Voges, who is entering her 16th year, and Cortney Callahan, who is beginning her first season on the coaching staff.

This year's team will be led by Vali Rupert and Kymora Xavier, both four-year team members, along with three-year members Halie Victory and Sawyer Fox.

For Rupert, Xavier, Victory and Fox, the most important job is setting a high standard.

"Their most important job is being a positive role model and example for their teammates, school, and community," said Voges.

The Destys have 19 dancers this season, including seven seniors, five juniors, two sophomores and five freshmen.

Voges said her goal each year is for her dancers to learn important life lessons that come with being a part of a dance team.

"Passion and a strong work ethic will take them further than just talent alone; they will get out what they put in," Voges said. "It is extremely important to me for them to understand that the lessons they are learning through dance team will carry on into their adult lives and careers."

Ultimately, she wants to see her dancers realize their full potential both individually and as teammates.

"Nothing is more rewarding as a coach than to see the girls achieve or surpass a goal they have set and worked so extremely hard for," Voges said.

The Destys already know they will have the opportunity to defend their national crown. The team attended UDA camp this past summer where it earned all superior rankings, qualifying Destrehan to once again attend and compete at the UDA National Dance Team Championship. That event will be televised on ESPN and held in Orlando, Fla. in February of 2027.

SPOTLIGHT

Ryan Arena Editor
ryana@heraldguide.com

Even at a school that’s produced some very big statistical seasons at running back, Destrehan’s Malachi Dabney has set himself apart.

The then-junior running back tallied 2,045 all-purpose yards last season and scored 35 touchdowns, 30 of those as a rusher. After back-to-back stellar seasons, Dabney will attempt to put together his best season yet as a senior.

Destrehan head coach Marcus Scott said Dabney has stepped up as a leader and been more vocal when necessary, though the latter’s personality is more quiet and reserved. But on the field, very few have commanded more attention.

“He’s a quiet storm,” said Scott.

Two years ago, Dabney was a sophomore vying to earn time as a backup to then starting running back Shane Ward. But when Ward suffered a season-ending injury, Dabney was immediately thrust into action in game one.

He proved a quick learner. By mid-season, Dabney was putting together some of the most impressive rushing performances in the state. During one four-game stretch, he tallied 650 yards and eight touchdowns, all Wildcat wins. He topped the 200-yard rushing mark multiple times, including a 270-yard, six-touchdown explosion against Northwood in the playoffs. In a regular season win over Capt. Shreve – one that many point to as a jumping-off point for a Destrehan team that rallied from a 2-3 start to reach the state semifinals – he rushed for 240 yards and four scores.

Dabney recently committed to Nicholls State. He was District 8-5A’s Offensive MVP last season.

He’s proven to be one of the best backs in the state at generating big plays, his speed among his calling cards. Those runs create immense momentum for the Wildcats.

“It’s certainly energizing the sideline and the fanbase,” said Scott. “He certainly closed out some big games for us at the end of the year. He gets going and creates some distance between us and our opponent ... he has that kind of big-play ability and he just continues to work to get even better.”

Scott said Dabney has evolved in the pass-catching game as well.

“I think he’s grown as a receiver,” Scott said. “That’s one area he’s really made strides in through the years, being able to catch the ball in different areas - catching a screen, a swing, something up the sideline. A lot of times a running back only catches certain types of passes. But we don’t have a limit on the types of things we can do with him out the backfield.”

Dabney also has shown to have a big heart off the field – he organizes a Thanksgiving food drive for those in need and he also hosts a community football camp for local youth.

Senior linebacker Cameron Florent, meanwhile, is evolving his game as well.

“He’s doing a bit more this year, expanding his game,” said Scott. “He can rush the passer, he can play both inside linebacker and outside linebacker. It’s a little different for him. We’ve been working with him and he’s responded really well.”

Florent is known already as a fearsome playmaker off the edge of the Destrehan defense. He entered last season with expectations and he delivered - Florent was named District 8-5A Defensive MVP - Destrehan earned a sweep of 8-5A’s individual awards last season, with Scott earning the district’s Coach of the Year honor along with Dabney’s offensive honor. Florent tallied 62 total tackles, four for loss, five sacks, two fumble recoveries, seven quarterback hurries and one interception - a pick that helped spur DHS to a rivalry win over Hahnville.

Like Dabney, Florent prefers to let his game do the talking.

“He’s reserved, real quiet and mild mannered off the field. But he plays with intensity and effort on it. And it inspires the rest of the group,” Scott said.

“He really leads by example. Not a rah-rah personality or a big vocal guy, but guys respect him and he sets a great example.”

And this season, Florent will lead a Destrehan front seven that introduces several new names to the starting line-up - his experience and leadership will factor heavily. Florent started as a sophomore at Destrehan and now enters his third season as a starter.

At 6’2 and 210 pounds, he brings athleticism and length as an edge player.

Florent’s suddenness is one of his biggest strengths. Scott said the senior’s first step gives opposing offensive linemen fits - he’s creating problems the moment the ball is snapped.

“That first step he has. Just being able to attack offensive linemen when they’re coming out of their stance and into their backpedal, he puts a lot of pressure on those guys,” Scott said.

Early last season, Scott said the DHS staff envisioned Florent as someone who could create havoc as a pass rusher in a comparable way to Kolaj Cobbins, who starred at Destrehan in that role before moving on to LSU. As the reigning district defensive MVP, he’s been up to the task.

Can't Afford to Reject Him

We can't afford to reject our precious Lord & Savior Jesus Christ. If we do, we will pay a great price. Remember Jesus died for us. His precious blood was shed to cover our sins. How can we reject Him? Don't let the evil one try to take you away from Jesus. He will trick you & deceive you. Don't let Him do that to you & the one who saved you. Resist the Devil in the name of Jesus, & He will have to leave. The Devil is seeking to destroy you & take you away from Jesus. Don't let Him. Ask Jesus to help you & He will. Trust me, I know.

- Executive Director of Equity & Student Services Erin Crisham presented to the Board.

- F. Revision to Policy 4.07.05 - Personal Leave - First Reading
- Executive Director of Human Resources Teresa Brown and Administrator of Human Resources Compliance Frederick Treuting, Jr. presented to the Board.

Under the requirements of 2026 Act 625, revisions to Board Policy 4.07.05 — Personal Leave are necessary to ensure compliance with current state law.

E. Alexander asked for additional information on the cost of having 3 days of personal leave increased to 4 days, which will be provided to the Board. J. Smith questioned the language and asked for the Attorney General's opinion on the verbiage, and possibly to remove this from the Board meeting agenda to get clarification. K. Boudreaux asked for the rationale for extending this to all employees, not just teachers.

The Personnel & Policy Committee motion by J. Smith; seconded by B. Weber to remove this item from the Wednesday, August 19, 2026, Board meeting to get clarification on whether the law's language requires school districts to provide 4 or up to 4 days of personal leave.

IV. Finance & Audit Committee

John Smith called the Finance & Audit Committee meeting to order.

- A. Approval of Letter of Support for WEMCO Inc. dba Randa Logistics
- Chief Financial Officer Adam Neighbors presented IV. A to the Board. WEMCO Inc. dba Randa Logistics will be seeking to expand Foreign Trade Subzone 124 upon application with the Federal Trade Commission for certain inventory and inventory held for export at the Port of South Louisiana. Expansion of the Foreign Trade Subzone will allow WEMCO Inc. dba Randa Logistics to increase employment, encourage future domestic capital investment, stimulate exports, and promote growth of international trade in the region.

Expansion of the Foreign Trade Subzone would allow WEMCO Inc. dba Randa Logistics to be exempt from paying ad valorem tax on inventory held at the site. However, WEMCO Inc. dba Randa Logistics is willing to pay the applicable ad valorem tax in return for the support of the local taxing authorities for the expansion of the Foreign Trade Subzone.

J. Smith asked if a representative from WEMCO was present or could be present at the Board meeting on Wednesday, for discussion. Dr. Oertling said Administration will reach out to WEMCO to see if someone would be available for the Board meeting, or the Economic Development Coordinator for St. Charles Parish, Patrick Beard. E. Alexander noted that this approval letter may relate to taxation.

This item will be on the August 19, 2026, Board meeting agenda.

B. Resolution to Approve the Millage Rates for the Tax Year 2026

Chief Financial Officer Adam Neighbors presented to the Board.

Louisiana Revised Statute 47:1705(A) requires an agency with taxing authority to furnish the Assessor and Legislative Auditor with the tax rate to be applied to the assessed property values each year. As a taxing body, the St. Charles Parish School Board must take official action to approve the levy of property tax rates. Favorable Board action on the attached resolution is necessary to levy the millages and collect taxes.

The Board discussed mill expiration, the maximum mills allowed, and the revenue generated at 6.6 mills. Mr. Neighbors explained the collection timeline and the assessor's valuation of properties.

This item will be on the Wednesday, August 19, 2026, Board meeting.

- C. Louisiana Compliance Questionnaire - Fiscal Year 2026

This year, again our theme is "You Belong Here" - a reminder that every student and every employee deserves to feel welcomed, respected, and connected. We believe this sense of belonging is essential for learning, growth, and purpose. We will continue to embrace continuous improvement and seek new opportunities each day to strengthen our work in accomplishing our mission: developing empathetic, involved, and productive citizens by providing every student with high-quality educational opportunities that empower them to become enthusiastic, lifelong learners. I'd like to personally thank our amazing teammates who worked diligently this summer to prepare for our opening by readying classrooms, improving facilities, and ensuring a warm and supportive welcome for all. I encourage all families and community members to stay informed throughout the school year by following the official SCPPS communication channels, including the district and school websites, social media, newsletters, and Connect messages. Our Public Information captured some special moments from the first days of school that truly reflect this year's theme. Let's take a look at this year's video. (PLAY VIDEO) Thank you to our Public Information Department for once again creating a piece that captures the spirit and pride of our school system.
